WOMEN DEMAND LONG, OVERTON SENATE HEARING

Immediate Sifting of Charges Urged.

New Orleans, La., April 15.—[Special.]—Mrs. Hilda Phelps Hammond, chairman of the women's committee of Louisiana, issued a statement today calling upon the senate committee investigating charges made by the women's committee against Senators Huey P. Long and John H. Overton of that state to proceed to an immediate hearing on the charges.

MRS. HILDA P. HAMMOND.

Mrs. Hammond, who in previous statements has called Senator Long's political machine a "vampire sucking the lifeblood of the state," asks that the committee be placed in the position of battling only the two Louisiana senators and not the whole senate committee.

Appeal to Chairman.

Mrs. Hammond's statement follows in part:

"As the adjournment of congress is not far off and immediate action is necessary by the privileges and elections committee if a thorough investigation of the serious, substantial and specific charges filed by us against Mr. Long and Mr. Overton is to proceed, I have sent to Senator Walter F. George, chairman of the committee, a letter requesting that Mr. Long and Mr. Overton be required to appear and answer or make such objections as they may see fit.

"We regret that we are placed in the wrongful position of battling a senate committee instead of being placed in the rightful position of battling only the accused senators; that the senate regards an investigation of Mr. Vare, Mr. Lorimer, Mr. Newberry, and others as one thing and an investigation of Mr. Long and Mr. Overton as another thing.

Long "Threat" Is Cited.

"On April 6 last Mr. Long threatened the senate in a speech on the floor stating: 'Never touch a porcupine unless you expect to get some feathers in you. That has been a good rule to follow.'

"The porcupine has shown its quils. Does the senate fear Mr. Long's cheap threats?

"This is the same senate that agreed to resolutions authorizing investigations of charges against Senators Stephenson, Lorimer, Newberry, and others when the charges in each case were far less specific and definite than our charges are.

Immediate Action Sought.

"We have now asked that our charges be investigated forthwith courageously and fearlessly in public hearings; that Senators Long and Overton be made to appear and answer or make such objections as they wish, to be heard in public hearings on any questions concerning our charges so that we will be no longer placed in the inexcusable . . . and wrongful position of fighting a senate committee in addition to fighting the accused senators.

"This senate has seen fit to investigate the fraud and corruption charged by it against private citizens of the United States yet shows no interest in investigating the charges of fraud and corruption made against its own members."

The charges made by the women's committee allege that the Louisiana senators have controled elections in that state by fraud and corruption.

TRIES TO RESCUE MAN FROM RIVER; POLICE SAVE BOTH

Police early today rescued two men, one of them a would-be rescuer, from the Chicago river at 35th and Iron streets. They were Joseph Rivers, 24 years old, a Mexican, 1701 Washington boulevard, and Anthony Wisniewski, 3039 North Hamlin avenue.

Rivers fell into the water first. He held on to a piling, and his cries for help were heard by Wisniewski. Wisniewski reached down to him, but slipped and went into the water, too. Passersby discovering their plight notified Deering street police, and Policemen Louis Sheffner, Walter Fritsche, and Henry Meske arrived and hauled both to safety. Wisniewski went home, but Rivers, who had been in the water longer and was suffering from a chill, was taken to the county hospital. He told a strange story of leaping into the water to escape four men who had pursued him.

RAID NEAR PARIS BARES SECRET TROTZKY HOME

BARBIZON, France, April 15.—(AP)—A police raid on a mysterious and secluded villa here today revealed that Leon Trotzky, exiled soviet leader, had been living there for three months in secrecy, fearing attacks on his life.

Officers had surrounded the villa for 36 hours, thinking they had discovered a secret arms cache or a rendezvous of Stavisky gangsters. Threats against Trotzky's life have kept him in flight from enemies for the last year, secret police revealed.

The "man without a country," who has wandered over Europe and Turkey since his fall from power in 1927, came to France from Corsica last July, stopping at Royat. Renewed threats against him brought authorization of the French government for him to hide, with Mrs. Trotzky, at Barbizon.

Mysterious Environment.

"I am an old conspirator," Trotzky told police. "I am now preparing for the fourth internationale."

A plumber who recently repaired pipes said he was mysteriously conducted to and from the villa and was locked in a room while at work.

Gossip reached the ears of the mayor of Barbizon and made him suspicious, as did also the guarded comings and goings of strangers to the villa, on the outskirts of Barbizon and near Fontainbleau, famous resort of artists.

Two vicious police dogs stood watch at the house, which is surrounded by a high wall, and the butcher, the baker, and other tradesmen had to leave merchandise at the gate.

Postal authorities had not been able to identify the occupants because they never received mail from the local postoffice. Voluminous correspondence arrived each night by a motorcycle rider who carried it from Paris.

Gendarmes Ring House.

Gendarmes and detectives, armed to the teeth, surrounded the house yesterday and through last night. A magistrate, a public prosecutor and a clerk formed a searching party this morning.

The magistrate pounded on the door. After a long wait a woman opened it. The police entered warily, fearing to be greeted by a fusillade of bullets. Instead they were met by three Germans and a Pole who refused to answer questions.

Rushing to the second floor they found a man with a little goatee who said smilingly, "I am M. Sodroff."

But the magistrate immediately recognized him and exclaimed: "No, you are Trotzky."

Trotzky admitted his identity and showed a permit issued by the ministry of the interior in December, 1933, authorizing him to live in the suburbs of Paris.

Admits Fear of White Russians.

When the officials entered the erstwhile soviet minister of war and head of the supreme economic council was seated at a desk on which lay two revolvers. He admitted that the secrecy was prompted through fear of vengeance of White Russians. Trotzky in recent years has frequently but erroneously been reported the victim of assassination attacks.

Since leaving Russia, Trotzky, who lived in New York for a while before the bolshevik revolution, has earned a living by writing. He spent much of his time in Turkey and during the seven years had been banned from nine countries of Europe.

His daughter, Zinaida, killed herself in Berlin last year, and Trotzky placed the blame on his old foe, Josef Stalin, head of the Russian communist party, asserting the decree of 1932 depriving the whole Trotzky family of Russian citizenship was responsible.

Trotzky wielded great influence in the foundation of the soviet state, working with Lenin. After Lenin's death Stalin gained power and Trotzky, because of differences over the new economic policy, was removed as chairman of the revolutionary war council. Later he was expelled from the party and exiled.

2 VISITORS HELD UP IN HULL HOUSE; ROBBED OF 40C

Two young Mexicans, who had been attending a meeting in Hull house, were held up by two youths, one armed with a revolver, and robbed of 40 cents last night in an isolated room in the building. The Mexicans were Frank Cabiera, 906 South Morgan street, and Raymond Arabesa, 1104 Newberry street. The robbery created a stir among the young people of the neighborhood, who were in the building at the time. The robbers escaped.

Topeka Fumes Over Order to Kill Dog Hero

Topeka, Kas., April 15.—(AP)—A dog with a hero's record, a trunkload of blue ribbons and an Irish name has Topeka gripped in a debate over whether he shall live or die.

His mistress, Mrs. Rolla J. Parker, left behind a request that he follow her in death. She feared the Airedale would fall into unsympathetic hands. A veterinarian, Dr. Charles W. Bower, is ready to chloroform him.

But hundreds of dog lovers have demanded that he be permitted to live. They point out that Pal O'Cragsman is only six years old, too young to die.

Believe Home Awaits Animal.

Once when his mistress fainted in her hotel room he restored her to consciousness by licking her face. He was cited for heroism. He carried away more than 100 blue ribbons in dog shows.

John Sweet, manager of the hotel where Mrs. Parker lived, feels certain that Pal could be given a good home.

But there also are dog lovers who believe Mrs. Parker knew best.

"Mrs. Parker, as we all know, had been extremely kind to her pet," says Miss Kat King, a member of the Humane society, "and may have feared he would fall into the hands of a less kind owner."

Commotion Causes Pause.

"I shall follow instructions," says Dr. Bower.

But the warmth of the debate has caused him to hesitate. He plans to await a decision of the executors, which probably will be reached at a meeting tomorrow.

The administrators include a Topeka bank and John Purcell of Chicago, assistant to the vice president of the Santa Fe railway. Mrs. Parker was the widow of a former Santa Fe general manager.

Hero Medal Thwarts Dog Catcher.

New York, April 15.—(AP)—A medal for deeds of bravery today saved Jack, 3 year old Dalmatian, from death in the gas chamber of a city pound.

Jack, mascot of a fire department hook and ladder company, once was fêted at the Astor after he had jumped into the path of an automobile and knocked a child out of its way.

He was picked up by a dog catcher and placed in the pound. Then the dog catcher, more observant than many, saw the medal and called the fire station, where sorrow over the missing mascot turned to joy.

PARIS, April 15.—(AP)—Chic Parisians walked the boulevards with their coats over their arms today on the hottest April 15 in 60 years. The thermometer registered 84½ in the shade. Café tables were taken by storm by thirsty promenaders.

Beverly Hills, Cal., April 15.—[Special.]—Mrs. Angela Raisch Hastings Bennett tonight swore out a warrant for the arrest of her husband, Richard Bennett, 58 year old veteran of stage and screen, charging him with simple battery.

This action followed an altercation early Saturday at Bennett's home in Santa Monica when the estranged couple met in what was to have been a friendly conference to agree on a division of property.

The warant was sworn out before Police Judge Erb of Beverly Hills. After being given the warant to serve on Bennett, Detective Lieut. Anderson discovered that the scene of the alleged assault was outside the Beverly Hills municipal limits, having occurred at Bennett's Santa Monica home. Bail had been set at $1,000. It was indicated that the warant would be given to a Santa Monica officer for service.

The family conference between representatives of Mrs. Bennett and the actor, scheduled for today, was postponed until tomorrow because Mrs. Bennett still was under the care of her doctor.

WILLARD JAQUES ROBBED LEAVING THE GARDEN SHOW

Willard W. Jaques, 5754 Sheridan road, president of a baking powder manufacturing company, was robbed of about $30 by three bandits last night as he left the flower show at Navy pier with Mrs. Jaques, who is head of the Garden Club of Illinois, which sponsored the show.

Mr. Jaques and his wife, the former Mabel Kohlsaat, a daughter of the late Judge Christian C. Kohlsaat, had emerged from the pier with two other members of the garden club. Because the women had articles which had been used in the flower show, Mr. Jaques told them to wait while he got the car from a parking lot several hundred feet away.

Unseen by the women, three men appeared out of the darkness as Mr. Jaques entered the car. "Keep quiet—this is a stickup," one said. When Mr. Jaques started to back his car despite the threat, the three leaped upon him. He struggled and shouted for help, and one of them struck him in the mouth. The robbers quickly went through his pockets, taking a billfold, and ran away.

Elyria, O., April 15.—[Special.]—Six persons were killed and twelve others were injured in a collision between a motor bus and a truck near here early today. Among the injured were Mrs. Anna Williams and her 5 year old daughter, Odessa, of East Chicago, Ind. They are in the Elyria Memorial hospital. Attending physicians said they would recover.

Charges may be filed against A. W. Schaeffer, 34, of Norwalk, O., driver of a parked truck which caused the accident. When the bus swerved out to avoid hitting Schaeffer's truck it crashed head-on into an oncoming interstate truck traveling east.

Killed While Sleeping.

The entire top of the bus was sheared off and carried 75 feet by the truck. The bus trailer was demolished. Most of the 19 passengers were asleep at the time of the accident. Six were killed. The dead:

JOHN SERBON, 35, Holiday Cove, W. Va.
EARL KELLOGG, 35, Lansing, Mich.
SAM NOVAK, Duquesne, Pa.
FLOYD STALNAKER, Akron, O.
CHRISTO VASILOVICH, Massillon, O.
MICHAEL FRYDRYCH, New York City.

Neither the bus driver, William Daniels of Pittsburgh, nor the truck driver, E. L. Kirkpatrick of Columbus, O., was hurt. County Prosecutor Frank Stevens started an investigation today.

Coroner's Verdict Tomorrow.

The coroner held an inquest today and the findings may be told tomorrow. Both the bus driver and the driver of the parked truck were held for a time by the sherif for questioning.

WOMAN, 123, DIES IN SOUTH; SMOKED PIPE 112 YEARS

Savannah, Ga., April 15.—(AP)—Mrs. Belle Rhynes, 123 years old, died today at the Little Sisters of the Poor home.

She was born in Dublin March 4, 1811, and came to America when 11 years old. Mrs. Rhynes always took the things of life as they came. She had smoked a pipe for 112 years, she said, and it was to this, coupled with her philosophical outlook on life, that she laid her longevity.

On her 121st birthday, when feebleness began to manifest itself strongly, Mrs. Rhynes said:

"I'm as happy as a little pig in the sunshine, and they talk about me being old. Why, Uncle John Shell was 130 and he started out to get some wood to cook with when he fell dead in the yard."

Police Smash Three Gangs Within Week

Police smashed another automobile theft ring yesterday in furtherance of the new campaign ordered by State's Attorney Courtney and backed by Mayor Kelly.

It was the third auto thief ring to be broken up in less than a week. The arrests in the current campaign total more than thirty.

On Tuesday detectives seized three men here and one in Dubuque, Ia., and solved the theft of more than 100 cars. On Saturday squads nabbed four men, suspected of stealing several hundred automobiles during the last few years. Yesterday state's attorney's police seized three men, one of whom, they said, confessed the theft of at least a dozen automobiles.

Garage Operators Arrested.

Those arrested yesterday were Walter Michekiewicz, 20 years old, 2214 West 19th street; Sam Morsoot, 40, of 8624 South Hermitage avenue, and John Morsoot, 43, of 7132 South Seeley avenue, Sam's brother. The two operate a garage at 5952 South Asland avenue.

Police indicated that others are involved in this particular ring, and that it is one of the largest in Chicago.

Michekiewicz was picked up at 71st street and Seeley avenue and taken to the state's attorney's office for questioning. Before long, it was reported, he broke down and confessed the theft of at least a dozen automobiles. It was also reported that he named the Morsoot brothers as the men to whom he had sold the stolen cars for $25 each.

Cars Sold Outside City.

Capt. Dan Gilbert, chief investigator for the state's attorney, and a squad soon had the Morsoots in custody, and it was not long before they, too, were reported to have made admissions. It was understood that they confessed buying cars from young Michekiewicz, altering the motor numbers and selling them outside of Chicago.

Detectives searching in the neighborhood of Sam Morsoot's home came across a small garage in which they found a set of expensive dies of a type frequently used to change motor numbers. In another garage, not far away, they found three stolen cars.

The Morsoots and Michekiewicz will be questioned further today at the state's attorney's office. Mr. Courtney, when notified of the gang breakup last night, expressed himself as pleased.

In the two other gang smashups the investigation is still under way. Those seized Saturday were Robert Wray, 37 years old, 2109 North avenue; Philip Malecki, 23, 1247 Fry street; Walter Sandeki, 21, of 940 North Racine avenue, and Andrew Mitchell, 22, of 3131 South 54th court, Cicero.

Complete Organization Bared.

The four were picked up by Sergts. Joseph Ponicki and Edward Kennedy of the Racine avenue station. Wray, quizzed by Capt. John J. O'Brien, not only confessed numerous auto thefts but described a complete organization, with outside branches, which enabled him to sell Chicago cars in other states. The gang even operated as a fake motor sales company, kept voluminous books and ledgers and sales blanks. So far 23 cars stolen by this gang have been recovered.

Held in the Tuesday arrests are Otto Walthers, 28 years old, 442 Fairfield avenue, Elmhurst; Frank Walthers, his brother; Richard Meisner, and Richard Clancey. The Walthers and Meisner are being held at the Albany Park station. Clancy, son of a former Dubuque alderman, is under arrest in the Iowa city.

This gang, according to the police, specialized in stealing cars in the suburban areas and selling them in

HOUSE CAN QUIT MAY 15, LEADERS TELL PRESIDENT

New Bill This Week to Ask 1½ Billions.

BY JOHN BOETTIGER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 15.—[Special.]—The nation still struggles ahead, forging on to better times, with more people going back to work every week now, stores in city and country selling more and more goods, shiny new automobiles crowding the highways.

There are smiles on many faces which a year ago were shrouded in gloom, more buoyancy and optimism is abroad, and this gladness and hope is much more than a phenomenon produced by the warmth of spring.

It is this advancement, this movement ahead, which imparts to President Roosevelt the independence of spirit—in a man of lesser exalted position it would be called "cockiness"—which he has manifested so clearly since his return from his vacation at sea.

Let others shiver, says he, over the nation's trend toward radicalism or communism, a trend induced by the words and deeds of the brain trust. Let others view with alarm, he declares boldly, the possibility of all this prosperity collapsing when the billions of tax moneys run out.

Lets the Charts Talk.

Mr. Roosevelt gets out the charts prepared by his economists which show the state of business and industry as it was a year ago and as it is today. He sees the jagged lines of production and employment and wages and incomes bearing upward, and comparing the height of the lines today with those of a year ago, Mr. Roosevelt smiles comfortably and refuses to worry.

Thus it was that the President yesterday greeted the Democratic leaders of the senate, and thus was it tonight when he gathered round him in the oval study at the White House his party's leaders in the house.

Three Hour Conference.

The President's conference with the house leaders lasted three hours. Speaker Rainey and Majority Leader Byrns indicated that the house could wind up the legislative program sketched by the President by May 15.

Both leaders, however, were dubious about the senate's ability to get through that soon. It was thought probable that the President, in urging the May 15 date, was hoping for a June 1 adjournment.

The President informed the house leaders that he would submit this week a "general relief" bill calling for about a billion and a half dollars.

Mr. Rainey, apparently in a sour mood, whether from sleepiness or irritation at what he had heard from the President, was asked about silver legislation, which has been one of his pet hobbies since before the palmy Bryan days.

"The President told me he was as much for silver as I was," Mr. Rainey answered, but he made it plain that Mr. Roosevelt had not committed himself to any definite plan for silver. Other leaders were of the opinion that the President's strategy is to hold off on all silver bills until the highly controversial tarif measure is passed and then he will be able, it is supposed, to put over some innocuous bill to pacify the silver bloc.

Tarif Comes First.

Representative Byrns indicated that the President was anxious that the tarif bill be passed first and then the stock market control act. Speaker Rainey said various amendments to the securities act would be voted, but it was declared that the President is not prepared to grant the rewriting of the act demanded by business leaders.

The house leaders were not overhappy as they came out on the White House portico to be greeted by news reporters, and it was learned Mr. Roosevelt had laid down the law to them in much more brusque and direct fashion than he had yesterday in dealing with the senators.

Mr. Roosevelt let the house pilots know that he thought himself in full command of the situation and that while he was overlooking the congress' refusals to follow his leadership in veterans' legislation and some other bills, he was insisting that the runaway house membership be brought back into line.

Improvement Growing.

The President warned the house leaders tonight, as he did the senate yesterday, that the country would not brook major interference with the New Deal at this time. He advised his spokesmen in both houses to wind up the session quickly and go home to tend to the primaries and then to prepare for the congressional elections in November.

An examination of the current major indices of business shows that business is far better off on the record than it was a year ago, and that the improvement is tending steadily upward.

Business is so good, as reflected in postal receipts, that Postmaster General Farley announced today that he would revoke, effective May 1, his economy order imposing payless furloughs on employés and curtailing postal services.

"Improved business conditions throughout the country," Mr. Farley announced, "have resulted in such a substantial increase in postal revenues during February and March and offer such prospects of continued increases that I feel justified in revoking the order.

"Not only will further payless furloughs during the remainder of the fiscal year be eliminated, but beginning May 1 there will be a restoration of service curtailment under the provisions of the order. Deliveries in residential districts of cities will be increased from one to two daily; in business districts from 3 to 4 daily, and in mixed business and residential districts from 2 to 3 daily.

"Longer hours for window service will be restored. Distribution crews in large postoffices will be increased and additional allowances for substitutes will be provided. The restoration of service will provide additional employment for substitutes.

Barometer of Business.

"The increase in the volume of mail is regarded as an accurate barometer of improved business conditions throughout the country, which, I am confident, will bring satisfaction to the people generally."

Many economists and Republican leaders insist that the United States was due for a natural recovery, which has manifested itself without synthetic aid in practicaly every major country of the world. They argue that there was nothing different in the last depression from all the past panics of America, except that it lasted longer and went deeper into misery.

The Republicans are joined by many Democrats, including such stanch sons of Jefferson as Senator Carter Glass and former Senator James Reed of Missouri, in decrying the methods of the New Deal, and in warning that those methods first impede the natural recovery, and then make it of an impermanent quality.

The billions being poured out by the treasury must be paid back in taxes some time; the outpouring must stop before long, and the fear of the critics is that when the burden is finally placed upon the taxpayers, and the synthetics of recovery are discontinued, the result will be a crashing to lower levels than would be gained if recovery proceeded naturally.

Roosevelt to Go Ahead.

But all of this is of no concern to the President, who after all, is adhering to the philosophy which he held on March 4, a year ago. Then he was determined, according to those who knew him well, that he, and the nation with him, must enter a great gamble, and if he and the nation won, he would count both fortunate, and if both lost, he would have done his best as he saw it. So he is gambling now that he is right, and this has critics are wrong. He has no intention, it may be stated with authority, of turning back.

As to the barometers of prosperity which cheer up the President in the face of criticism and legislative defeats, the current ones are interpreted generally to show that the spring has seen the nation off to an earlier and a faster start than is usual.

Steel ingot production—one of the best indices of general prosperity, was 2,800,000 tons in March, compared with 2,200,000 in February, and 886,000 tons in March, 1933.

Automobiles sent to dealers in February numbered 244,000 as compared to 104,000 a year ago.

Profits of 500 corporations recorded by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York were 330 million dollars in the fourth quarter of 1933, and 423 millions in the third quarter, as compared to 124 millions in the first 1933 quarter. Profits of these corporations in the first quarter of 1934 are estimated, by one source, at 380 millions. In 1929 the same corporations earned profits of 939 millions.

300,000 New Jobs in February.

The American Federation of Labor estimates that 300,000 new jobs were supplied by industry in February. But there were still 11,374,000 in the army of the jobless, according to federation calculations.

The measure of gain in the plight of the farmers may be registered in figures showing the amount of general merchandise sales in small towns and rural areas. The department of commerce reports that for March the dollar value of these sales was 65 per cent greater than March, 1933, and 23 per cent higher than March, 1932.

Rural sales increased 19 per cent between February and March, as against only 1½ per cent a year ago. The first 3 months of 1934 show an increase in dollar volume of 50 per cent as compared with the same period of 1933. It should be noted that higher prices, resulting from the depreciation of the American dollar, account in considerable measure for the increased volume of dollar sales, although not approaching the whole increase.

Commodity prices in February, 1933, were 60 per cent of the 1926 level, and in February, 1934, were up to 74 per cent, an increase of 23 per cent.

Foreign trade has improved greatly. Exports were 101 millions in February, 1933, as compared with 163 millions in the same month this year. Imports were 84 millions in February, 1933, and 133 millions this year. In these calculations, also, the depreciated American dollar in terms of foreign exchange must be reckoned.

ROOSEVELT RIGHT, NOT MUSSOLINI, LONDON NEWSPAPER DECLARES

LONDON, April 15.—(AP)—President Roosevelt is right, not Mussolini, said the Sunday Express in an editorial.

"Mussolini cuts all food prices and rents on all dwellings," said the paper. "He cuts, too, state salaries in excess of £2 ($10) a week. Mr. Roosevelt works the opposite way by raising wages and prices all around.

"Mussolini wants to reduce the cost of living. Roosevelt seeks to increase purchasing power. Roosevelt is right. What the people need is a means to buy themselves back to prosperity."

ROBBER RAIDS CLUB IN CHURCH; PERILS 5 WOMEN

A lone bandit, nattily dressed in gray, held up five women members of St. Catherine's Alma Mater club in the clubrooms of St. Casimer's church at 2226 South Whipple street, yesterday.

After lining the women against a wall, the bandit beckoned to Mrs. Mary Grabec, 2339 South Whipple street, treasurer of the club, and forced her to surrender the club's funds—$140. Then he fled.

The women described the gunman as young and a "regular symphony in gray."

NEW STANDARDS FOR SCHOOLS TO BE CONSIDERED

Plans for revising college endowment and teaching standards will be studied at the annual convention of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools opening at the Stevens hotel next Wednesday. Nearly 800 educators are expected to attend sessions extending through Saturday.

The most important work before the convention is to act on a report of a committee on revision and standards, according to Dr. Harry M. Gage, president of Coe college, Cedar Rapids, Ia., and head of the association.

"If the convention concurs in this report, based on a study made with the aid of the federal government, it will mean a complete revision of college standards," Dr. Gage said. "Present teacher and endowment requirements will be eliminated and attention will be centered on the ideals and purposes of a school institution."

The report on college standards will be presented Thursday morning by Dr. L. D. Coffman, president of the University of Minnesota and a member of the committee which made a two-year study of American colleges.

WOMAN IS SHOT FOR DISOBEYING ROBBERS' ORDER

Mrs. Martha Sandon, 38 years old, 2822 West Marquette road, was shot and slightly wounded last night when she disobeyed the order of four robbers and ran up on a porch in front of 6924 South Fairfield avenue to give an alarm of the holdup. Mrs. Sandon and her husband, Joseph, a grocer, were robbed of $7 and a watch by the man, who told them to stand in front of the house until the bandits escaped. The three were driving away when they saw Mrs. Sandon run up the steps and one of them fired a bullet which grazed her left ankle. She was taken to the Holy Cross hospital.

ASSEMBLY READY FOR NEW BATTLE ON SCHOOL FUNDS

Meets Tomorrow; Horner Plan Up in House.

BY PERCY WOOD.

The Illinois general assembly faces another fight over school legislation when its third special session reconvenes at Springfield tomorrow after a two weeks' recess.

For seven weeks prior to March 27, the legislative wheels ground slowly in an effort to increase the state school distributive fund, which is about $12,000,000 in arrears. The clatter stilled when three measures were passed by the senate, one of which had already gone through the house and now rests on Gov. Horner's desk.

Three Different Measures.

All three measures provide different means of increasing the school fund by diversion of existing revenue. The governor supported the plan of diverting a portion of the 3 cent gasoline tax. House Republicans—apparently wishing to reduce the administration's income—proposed liquor license revenue be given the schools. The house passed the bill and Republicans in the senate joined merrily and after much jockeying, completed its passage in their chamber.

The senate also approved the diversion of all sales tax revenue in excess of $2,500,000 monthly.

Only after these two bills had been passed with emergency clauses, so that they would take effect immediately if signed, was there a chance for the governor's pet measure, the gas tax diversion. It managed to secure 26 votes in the senate and would not become a law until July 1, in case it passed the house. The senate majority leader, R. C. Graham [Dem., Chicago] made many attempts to pass it with the emergency clause, but was finally obliged to give it up.

That sent the bill to the house, where the battle will center tomorrow.

There, Representative Benjamin S. Adamowski, the Chicago Democratic leader, will guide its course. Mr. Adamowski expressed the view yesterday it will be necessary to restore the emergency clause in the house if the measure is to be constitutional.

Inasmuch as it provides for a reappropriation of funds, Adamowski regards the bill as identical with regular appropriations, all of which must receive a two-thirds, rather than a mere majority, vote.

Emergency Clause Likely.

If other legislative experts share his views the Democrats will be forced to attempt to restore the emergency clause on the senate bill before they can pass it. When a similar bill was tried in the house a month ago, it polled only 65 votes, so unless there is a big change of sentiment, the going will be tough this week.

And if it did pass the house there would still be the senate, where the bill had a hard enough time to obtain 26 votes. The emergency clause would require 34 votes.

Rockford Teachers Get Pay in Cash; Others in Warants

Rockford, Ill., April 15.—[Special.]—Through ready sale of its tax anticipation warants, the school board tomorrow will pay the teachers and its other employés in cash. The other city employés will get 80 per cent of their pay in warants of $25 each, so that they can be readily changed at the stores.

BOGAN IS CALLED BY SCHOOL BOARD ON PUPIL TESTS

Won't Annoy Normals, McCahey Assures.

Supt. William J. Bogan will be called before the meeting of the board of education Wednesday to explain how he intends to conduct the investigation into juvenile delinquency in the public schools. President James B. McCahey of the school board said yesterday parents will be assured normal children will not be annoyed by a general examination.

It was pointed out by McCahey that the act of one child had precipitated the announcement that 500,000 public school pupils would be examined. This was the kidnaping by 13 year old George Rogalski of Dorette Zietlow, 2½ years old, who died of hunger and exposure.

Protect Normal Children.

"This deplorable tragedy," asserted McCahey, "does not mean that a slur should be cast upon the normal children in our schools. Only a small percentage of the children, in my opinion, could be called abnormal in any way, and this percentage would obtain in every large city, town or village in the country.

"The members of the school board are not going to worry the parents with talk of any general examination of children. There are some pupils who are not exactly bright, but it does not follow that they possess the tendencies of a Rogalski. It is my belief teachers, trained and experienced in child psychology, can pick out the few pupils who should be examined. The educational department has had the facilities to guard against juvenile delinquency and this machinery should function."

McCahey said there were pupils who are slow in their studies because of physical deficiencies, such as defective hearing or sight, but whose traits and characteristics were perfectly normal. Mothers of these children would be frightened and take them out of school, he declared, if the specter of a general inquisition with reform school life resulting for many pupils were allowed to grow in the public mind.

5,000 Subnormal Children.

Members of the school board have thus far kept out of the flareup following the Zietlow tragedy. Nine psychiatrists have been recruited to work out a system for examining the children.

After the little girl's death Dr. Daniel P. MacMillan, director of the bureau of child study and guidance in the schools under Bogan, disclosed for the first time that there were at least 100 serious mental cases in the system as well as 5,000 dull or subnormal pupils.

Bogan asserted that an aroused public opinion only could make the examination program possible. He called for the coöperation of the parents and the entire community.

SPECIAL COURT WILL TRY SALES TAX VIOLATORS

Merchants violating the state sales tax law will be prosecuted in a special branch of the Municipal court, Assistant State's Attorney Nelson announced yesterday. A campaign against violators has already begun, he said, and five cases have been submitted to State's Attorney Courtney for action.

Evidence against those merchants who fail to pay the 2 per cent tax on merchandise to the state is being compiled by the state department of finance which will turn the evidence over to Mr. Courtney. Hundreds of prosecutions are anticipated.

The violations, Mr. Nelson said, constitute a misdemeanor and as such must be prosecuted in the Municipal court.

DIVORCEE SLAIN; SUSPECT TRIES TO END HIS LIFE

"Love Tiff" Blamed for Suitor's Acts.

Police investigators said they were convinced last night that Charles White, 41 years old, who shot himself and drank poison in an effort to commit suicide yesterday, was the slayer of Miss Margaret Schreibung, 32 years old, a divorcée. She was found slain in front of her home at 2032 Washburne avenue early yesterday.

White had been a suitor of Miss Schreibung, police learned, and was being sought for questioning in connection with the murder when he tried to end his life. Police expressed the belief that a lovers' quarrel was the motive for White's act and that he planned to first kill the woman and then himself. He is married and the father of three children.

White's Condition Critical.

White was in a critical condition last night at the Berwyn hospital and unable to answer questions. He had called at the home of his sister, Mrs. Mary Rosulek, 1810 Lombard avenue, Berwyn. He tossed $3.75 on a table with the remark, "That squares you and me" and then walked into the back yard where he placed the muzzle of a small caliber revolver in his mouth and fired.

Mrs. Rosulek told a Chicago police squad, which arrived a few minutes later seeking White in connection with the murder, that she had accused her brother of the crime.

"He didn't answer," she said. "He gave me a funny look and then dashed out into the back yard."

Takes Poison Potion.

The wounded man swallowed poison in a police patrol wagon on the way to the hospital. Police seized the bottle. At his home at 1228 South 61st avenue, Cicero, Mrs. White said she had not seen her husband in several months.

A brother, Edward White, 45 years old, 2943 Lexington street, a city employé, described White as a ne'er do well who was employed in a garage. He also expressed the belief his brother had slain Miss Schreibung.

"I've Fixed Margaret," He Tells Girl.

Miss Reona Walldren, 23 years old, 4817 George street, a friend and coworker of Miss Schreibung, appeared voluntarily at the Cragin station and told Sergt. Bernard Smith she had received a call at 10:30 Saturday night from White.

"White wanted me to go out with him, but I refused," said Miss Walldren. "I had only seen him once or twice when he was with Margaret. When I refused he then said to me, 'Well, I've fixed Margaret up good. You'll hear about it later.' He did not explain what he meant. He told me he was telling me this because I was a good friend of Margaret's."

The victim, who was divorced from her husband, Arthur Oberlin, 631 O'Brien street, last January on grounds of cruelty, was found slain and lying inside the front gate on the steps leading to her home. Police said they learned she was considering returning to her husband.

THRONGS FEAST ON BEAUTIES OF CHERRY BLOOMS

Capital's Famous Trees in Spring Glory.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., April 15.—[Special.]—The national capital's famous Japanese cherry trees burst into full bloom today and 250,000 men, women, and children, nearly half of them out of town visitors, trooped to the tidal basin to feast their eyes upon the scene of beauty.

It was a dazzling, balmy day, with the sun swimming in a firmament of unflecked beauty—the sort of day that impels men to slough their winter tweeds and women to blossom forth in floating, shimmering things and hats of straw, the sort of day that warms you with a sense of blissful well being, the sort of day that makes even dyspeptics and misanthropes feel like cutting a caper.

Poised on Lagoon Brink.

The cherry trees, clothed in diaphanous clouds of pink, stood almost touching each other, poised on the brink of the Potomac park lagoon in which the gleaming shaft of the Washington monument was reflected like a silver lance. Almost wholly encircling the great pool, a quarter of a mile in diameter, they spread their pink and white arms like nymphs joining hands for the dance.

On the very brink they stood tiaraed, necklaced, ringed, bespangled, garlanded and festooned from crown to waist with pearls of pink petals, stood there reaching far out, like narcissus, to embrace their images in the rippling water.

Long before the church bells were ringing every avenue leading to Potomac park was streaming with people. Myriads who loved the cherry trees, and joyed in living had gone to their graves since their last blooming, even as you and I may before their next, but day was succeeding night and spring following winter, as from eternity to eternity, and other myriads were pressing forward to taste the sweetness of life.

Limousines and Flivvers.

They came afoot and rolling on rubber in every sort of equipage, from grand limousines, sporting footmen and coats of arms, to rattling flivvers and careening motorcycles. License plates of almost every state in the Union were to be seen. A hundred policemen directed the trafic along a course of one way streets, blocked out for the occasion, leading around the basin and the Hains Point peninsula, which itself was ablaze with the blossoms of crocuses and hyacinths.

By noon the streets were solidly packed with cars, four and five abreast, moving at snail's pace. By the latter part of the afternoon it took the rubber wheel pilgrims two hours to make the circuit of the basin and it was after nightfall before the vehicle jam melted away and the streets were restored to two way trafic.

Tens of Thousands on Foot.

But where they came on wheels by the thousands they came on foot by the tens of thousands. There were fathers and mothers with youngsters reaching for the balloon man's red and yellow spheres. There were swains with sweethearts walking arm in arm on the lagoon parapet beneath the cloud of blossoms with a look in their eyes that seemed to say they were hearing the pipes of Pan, though it may have been only the memory of last night's saxophone.

They sat on benches or on the grass drinking in the beauty of the pink necklaced pool, with its background of urn shaped elms putting forth their bright green baby leaves. They bankrupted vocabularies in exclaiming to each other on the overwhelming entrancement of the sight of these cherry trees, looking like so many tiny volcanoes erupting pink popcorn.

Children romped over the spot where President John Quincy Adams was wont to undress for his morning plunge into the Potomac and where the first lady reporter interviewed him, sitting on his clothing with the President immersed to his neck and compelled to give the interview he had been dodging before the lady would consent to go away.

Near at hand boys were warming up a baseball diamond, while on the public golf links grown ups were limbering up winter dormant muscles.

Most distinguished of those paying court to the blossoms this year were the President and Mrs. Roosevelt with members of their family and their guests. But the visitor for whom these dancing cherry maidens extend their welcoming jeweled arms, one likes to fancy, is an ageing gentlewoman who almost any morning may be seen alighting from her car and strolling beneath the blossoms. She is Mrs. William Howard Taft, widow of the twenty-seventh President of the United States, to whom the cherry trees were presented by the emperor of Japan as a token of good will for America when Mr. Taft was governor of the Philippines thirty years ago and he and his wife were received by the emperor on their way home.

NILA COOK ASSERTS SHE HOPES TO HAVE MARRIAGE ANNULLED

New York, April 15.—(AP)—Nila Cram Cook announced tonight she would seek an annulment in California of her marriage to the former cabin boy, Albert N. Hutchins, whom she married on her arrival from India.

"Our separation," she said "is official. Hutchins left day before yesterday—no, pardon me, he left yesterday for Chicago. This is final."

Talking rapidly, Mrs. Hutchins stated:

"In the middle of the ocean I did fall in love, but I knew even then that out of this romantic element and setting Hutchins would be lost. However, just to prove what I thought of social prejudices I promised to marry him."

She said Hutchins would try to get work in Chicago, either as a bellhop or a radio announcer. She said she would go to California to establish residence when a book she is writing about India is done.

MERRY FAHRNEY WANTS HUSBAND TO STAY AWAY

Los Angeles, Cal., April 15.—(AP)—Confined to her hotel here with a heart ailment, Merry Fahrney Pickering Van Sands Eiszner, film actress and heiress to a Chicago patent medicine fortune, said today if her plea for an annulment here failed she would go to Reno for a divorce.

The statement came after she learned her husband, Frank Van Sands Eiszner of Chicago, planned to leave for Los Angeles to be at her bedside in case her condition became serious.

"If he should come here it would upset me so much I'm afraid there wouldn't be any more me," she declared.

"I'm getting better now and I hope nothing happens to spoil my chances for getting ahead in motion pictures. I was forced to give up one film rôle when I became ill."

ROB SALESMAN, KIDNAP DRIVER OF THEIR AUTO

Chicago and Du Page county authorities last night were investigating a peculiar robbery in which the chauffeur for a New York oilcloth salesman was kidnaped. The salesman is S. M. Zukor of 8001 Bay parkway, Brooklyn. His chauffeur is Don Lombardi. The two were driving in U. S. highway 4, about three miles south of Downers Grove, when they were stopped by several bandits.

The gunmen robbed Zukor of $80 and then left him, gagged and bound, in a cornfield near Wheaton. He released himself soon afterward and notified Deputy Sherif Arthur Bennett of Du Page county. Some time afterward Zukor's car was found abandoned, but no trace of Lombardi was found.

ROBBED AND THROWN IN SOUND IS THEORY IN CONNECTICUT CASE

Norwalk, Conn., April 15.—[Special.]—Indications that Arthur Todd, 70 year old retired business man, was robbed of $8,000 in cash and thrown into Long Island sound, where he drowned, by a gang which included a woman, were uncovered today by investigators. Todd's body was found late yesterday about a quarter of a mile from his home on Belle iland.

Mr. Todd, who retired after he had sold a lime kiln at Redding, Conn., was known to be in the habit of carrying large sums of money. A valuable diamond ring and a gold watch were found untouched on his body, but his empty wallet was discovered halfway between his home and the place where his body was recovered.

Mr. Todd was last seen alive Thursday, when he returned from the Norwalk business section. A neighbor who visited his home late that day found it empty and observed four glasses and a bottle of liquor on a table. Mr. Todd was known as a quiet, retiring man of unusually careful habits.

When his body was found no marks of violence were discovered on it, but Lieut. Leo Carroll, in charge of the case, said that undoubtedly he had been drinking.

INSULL INSISTS HE DID NOT 'RUN AWAY' FROM HERE

Says He Departed as Any One Else Would Do.

ABOARD S. S. EXILONA, EN ROUTE FROM SMYRNA, TURKEY, TO BOSTON, April 15.—(AP)—Samuel Insull declared today he did not "run away" when he left Chicago nearly two years ago for foreign parts.

"I had retired from all business connections," he said. "There was no talk of criminal action when I left. I departed as any other ordinary person would do."

Sitting in the salon of this American vessel, en route back to "face the music" in American courts which have laid fraud charges against him, he smoked his inevitable cigars, expounded a bit of philosophy, and discussed his business career.

Mum on His Situation.

With only a few exceptions he did not, however, touch upon his present situation, so recently turned from fugitive to virtual prisoner of the United States authorities.

"One of the greatest mistakes I made in my career," he said, "was failure to anticipate the extent of the after effects of the war on American business."

When a fellow passenger remarked that it looked like rougher weather in store for the night, Insull retorted: "Why anticipate trouble? It is better to concentrate on enjoying the good things we have today."

Poses for Photographer.

This afternoon Insull obligingly posed for the photographer whom he had upbraided yesterday when the latter tried to snap his picture.

"My mug is my own property," he had flared.

Later he relented.

Insull is permitted to send and receive radio message freely, providing that they are not for the purpose of creating legal complications at the Exilona's ports of call.

Already he has been in contact with the shore, receiving several radiograms last night.

He said he slept poorly last night, but believed it was on account of a Bologna sandwich which he ate before retiring.

The Exilona tonight was well past Greece and steaming toward Sicily in the Mediterranean. The sea was sufficiently rough to give the ship a slight roll. It is expected to make port at Catania tomorrow.

Corners Cigar Supply.

Insull bought up the ship's remaining stock of cigars today, consisting of four five centers, and told fellow passengers he had cornered the supply.

The passengers, however, perceiving that Insull was a heavy smoker, had previously raided the stock and enjoyed a quiet laugh at his expense.

Gen. Haller Recovering; Leaves for Rest in Miami

On the road to recovery from an attack of influenza, Gen. Josef Haller, Polish world war commander, left Chicago last night for Miami, Fla., where he will rest for two or three weeks before continuing his fund raising tour for the benefit of Polish-American veterans. Accompanying Gen. Haller on the trip are his son, Eric, and Capt. Stanley Dziob, head of the Polish Veterans' society.

TWO BORROW PLANE FOR SUNDAY FLIGHT AND DIE IN CRASH

Milwaukee, Wis., April 15.—[Special.]—The pilot and passenger of a small borrowed sport plane were killed late this afternoon. The ship crashed at Hampden road and highway No. 100, northwest of Milwaukee. The victims were William Robert Seeman, 35 years old, infantry reserve captain in charge of a CCC camp here, of 105 Monona avenue, Madison, Wis., and William Ocvirk, 26, reserve lieutenant, meat market owner, 2632 West Greenfield avenue, Milwaukee, the pilot.

In midafternoon the two young men appeared at the Curtis-Wright airport and borrowed the plane, which had been recently inspected. They apparently had no difficulty in taking it up, and soon disappeared from the view of those at the airport. It was some time later when motorists strung along the highways saw the plane suddenly dive, burying its nose in the ground. Seeman was killed and Ocvirk died in an ambulance.

Two Killed, One Hurt.

Fremont, Neb., April 15.—(AP)—Two persons were killed and a third severely injured today when the airplane in which they were riding stalled on a turn about 150 feet off the ground and crashed. The dead were: Ira Hurst, 28, of Cedar Bluffs, Neb., and Helen Muller, 20, of Grand Island. The owner of the plane, Jack McFadden, 31, Fremont railroad man, was injured but is expected to live.

4,000 RACE TAX DEADLINE; PAY $350,000 SUNDAY

Nearly 4,000 property owners visited the county building yesterday and paid approximately $350,000 on their 1932 personal property taxes and the first instalment of their 1932 real estate taxes. Although the official deadline was midnight last night, it was indicated it would be unofficially extended until midnight tonight.

More than 1,000 persons were in line at 9 o'clock yesterday morning when County Treasurer McDonough's office was opened. The line extended out into Clark street to Washington street. An extra force of clerks worked until 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Hongkong Police Capture Armed Pirate Junk; 1 Dead

HONGKONG, April 15.—Police have started an anti-pirate drive since junk raiders have been boldly boarding Chinese craft anchored in Hongkong harbor, using rifles and revolvers. Police surprised and captured the armed pirate junk Koonmoon yesterday. They fatally wounded one man, but six others escaped to shore

CHINESE ABANDON SEARCH FOR GAST AND LOST PLANE

SHANGHAI, April 16.—[Monday.]—A wide-flung aerial search for three missing Americans and a Japanese, lost six days ago in a Shanghai-Canton air liner, was abandoned today with loss of hope of ever finding the men alive. The missing Americans are James Frink, Miami, Fla.; Robert Gast, the pilot, formerly of Chicago, and Ivan Carlson of Donna, Tex.

Operators of the Shanghai-Canton mail line said the loss of the liner would not be allowed to interrupt civil aviation in China.

Fifteen airplanes, including one driven by Frank Hawks, the American speed flyer, ended their search Sunday by distributing handbills over the countryside west of Hangchow, near where the flyers were thought to have dropped into the bay.

AIM ROTTEN EGGS AT DOLLFUSS IN AUSTRIAN RALLY

Smoke Bomb Exploded; Broadcast Ruined.

GRAZ, Austria, April 15.—(AP)—Rotten eggs were thrown at Chancellor Dollfuss and a harmless bomb exploded within 300 feet of him when he appeared here today to address a mass meeting.

Socialists Paint Road Red.

Socialists had painted the whole highway red from the airport where Dollfuss landed to the city limits of Graz. Pavements were splashed with such slogans as "Down with Fascism!" and "Down with Dollfuss!"

The mass meeting proper was quiet, but attempts to broadcast the chancellor's speech were mysteriously sabotaged and only parts of it reached radio listeners.

Dollfuss said the accusation that his government was developing into a clerical autocracy was unfounded.

"What we want is not clerical domination," he said, "but a state ruled by the Christian spirit."

Accord with Starhemberg.

Special interest was aroused when the chancellor said he had reached a "full agreement" with Prince Ernst von Starhemberg, leader of the Fascist heimwehr, or home guard, by which the latter will soon take an official position in the government.

Some hearers interpreted this to mean that Starhemberg will become vice chancellor, others that he will be given official command of all voluntary arms organizations in the fatherland.

In connection with the charges that the government is headed toward clerical domination, it was asserted that the new constitution is based in part on an encyclical of the pope.

SAYS NAZIS WILL GUARD GERMANS BEYOND FRONTIER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, April 15.—Germany's eyes are ever fixed upon her nationals beyond the nation's frontiers, it was emphasized at a mass demonstration of the People's League for Germans Abroad in Berlin today. Dr. Hans Steinacher, the league's chairman, declared Germany now has three frontiers—the frontier of her people, the reich frontier, and the military frontier.

"In the west, the frontier of our people stretches 90 miles beyond the reich frontier," he said. "On the other hand, owing to the disarmament clauses of the Versailles treaty, our military frontier falls 150 miles short of the reich frontier. A similar situation exists in the north and east.

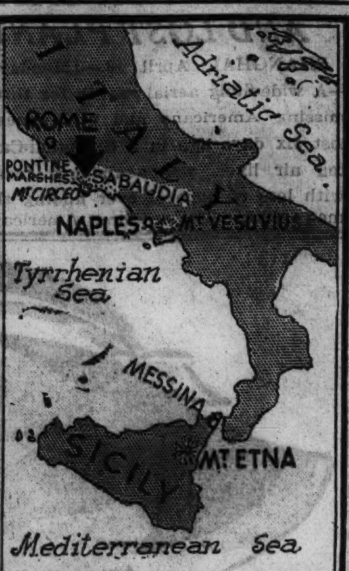
"So-called peace may reign, but actually, beyond the reich frontier, there is a fight against our people, aimed at destroying German folk. Along with the fight of weapons, this fight against German folk decides Germany's fate. Chancellor Hitler said that we do not desire to assimilate the nationals of other countries. For that very reason we feel ourselves more indissolubly bound to the people of our own language and our blood across the reich frontiers. The Versailles treaty dictates to the state, but a people recognizes no relinquishment of its people."

BADEN-POWELL UP AGAIN AFTER LONG SICKNESS

LIVERPOOL, England, April 15.—(AP)—Lord Baden-Powell, 77, founder of the Boy Scout movement whose life was almost despaired of early this year, was able to walk today with the aid of two sticks when he returned from a Mediterranean cruise. He underwent operations Jan. 4 and Jan. 20.

"He is still a very sick man and will not be able to fulfill engagements for a month or two," said Lady Baden-Powell.

City Rises from Swamp



Arrow on map points to Sabaudia, the second city to be built in the once useless Pontine marshes of Italy, located near the Tyrrhenian coast, midway between Rome and Naples.

ITALIAN RULERS OPEN NEW CITY BORN IN SWAMP

Crowd Hails Conquest of Pontine Marshes.

SABAUDIA, Italy, April 15.—(AP)—This new city, the second to rear its head in the hitherto useless Pontine marshes, was inaugurated today by King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Elena.

The reclaimed territory around Sabaudia is one day expected to provide farm homes for some 30,000 needy war veterans on fertile wheat raising land.

Thousands at Ceremony.

Premier Mussolini himself laid the cornerstone of Sabaudia on Aug. 5 last year in the course of a day-long excursion during which he helped to harvest the first wheat crop in Littoria, Sabaudia's sister community.

The king and queen today inaugurated before a crowd of many thousands, Sabaudia's Fascist headquarters, a hospital, Carabineri and militia barracks.

A third sister city, Pontinia, is expected to be finished by 1936.

Sabaudia's community center is situated on a peninsula jutting out into the beautiful little Lake og Paola, at the foot of the rugged promontory of Mount Circeo. It is in the Agro Pontino, until less than two years ago an unsettled, malaria-infested zone considered of no possible use. It lies near the Tyrrhenian coast midway between Rome and Naples.

Army Clears Region.

In November, 1931, Mussolini decided on the reclamation plan and through the National War Veteran's association sent an army of workmen into the region to clear it.

BIG BATTLE RAGES IN CHACO; 1,200 KILLED, WOUNDED

LA PAZ, Bolivia, April 15.—(AP)—A major engagement in the Chaco war zone was revealed tonight by the Bolivian war office, which said that the combat was still raging and that more than 1,200 Paraguayans had been killed and wounded. The statement said a wing movement of Bolivian outposts in the Conchita-Pilcomayo sector might have turned the tide of battle.

The war office announcement was followed by a report from the Bolivian office in the Chaco front which said the Paraguayans had been led into a snare by the Bolivian wing movement.

Both the high command of the army here and the office behind the Bolivian lines asserted that "our losses were insignificant."

RED FLAGS WAVE AS FRENCH CIVIL EMPLOYES MARCH

Paris Awaits "Protest Day" Strike Today.

PARIS, April 15.—(AP)—Tens of thousands of government employés, parading under Red flags thoughout the provinces, today began two days of nation-wide strikes and demonstrations against pay cuts.

The chant of the "Internationale" was heard in more than a hundred cities and towns as the marchers flaunted banners inscribed with "Down with the Government," "Down with the Decree Laws," and "Down with Ruinous Deflation."

But the Red Sunday passed under a warm spring sun without bloodshed.

Threats of General Strike.

Veiled threats of general strikes were contained in resolutions adopted at massmeetings, to which paraders carried written protestations against the government.

It was the day of provincial functionaries. Those in Paris are awaiting "National Protest day" tomorrow when public service employés plan to demonstrate at their places of work during the hour of the strike.

Manifestations of discontent are expected to be widespread, despite the government's quick punishment of leaders of a communist strike Friday.

Uproar over Dismissals.

Twenty-nine employés, including two women, were dismissed from the central telegraphic bureau of Paris, where daily demonstrations caused an uproar last week.

The threat to the government of Premier Gaston Doumergue was caused by a cut of 10 per cent on all government salaries and the dismissal of 80,000 of the 800,000 functionaries.

Doumergue took the step under decree powers granted him by parliament, contending it was necessary to save the franc from devaluation and to balance the budget.

Blaze Destroys Dwellings, Mill; 50 Negroes Homeless

Snow Hill, Md., April 15.—(AP)—More than 50 Negroes were homeless as a result of a fire which destroyed 10 small dwellings and a flour mill here today. Local relief agencies, the Red Cross and civic organizations were aiding the homeless tonight.

HITLER'S YOUTH CHIEF THREATENS TO RESIGN POST

Aid's Arrest in Saxony Angers Leader.

DRESDEN, Germany, April 15.—(AP)—Baldur von Schirach, reich leader of youth, has threatened to resign his post, it was learned today, in protest against the arrest of his subordinate, Franz Schnaedter, a Hitler youth leader of central Germany.

Schnaedter's arrest by local police was the culmination of long friction between the Nazi governor of Saxony, Martin Mutschmann, and divisional Hitler youth headquarters here.

Von Schirach made an energetic protest to high Nazi officials, demanding Schnaedter's unconditional release and making retention of his post contingent on it.

Release Is Expected.

In view of Von Schirach's personal prestige and the popularity enjoyed by Schnaedter among his charges the latter's release was expected.

When Schnaedter's position last winter was jeopardized by a clash with Saxon authorities several thousand Hitler boys staged an unusual demonstration of protest.

Descending on the Pragerstrasse, Dresden's main business thoroughfare, without warning, they simply lay down in the street, chanting "We want our Franz."

Meanwhile, reports of growing friction between the Nazis and Catholic youth organizations received another striking confirmation by the virtual ban by Osnabrueck authorities on confessional youth groups in the Osnabrueck district.

Not only are members forbidden to parade or wear a uniform, but they cannot indulge in athletics sponsored by the organizations on the ground that sport is not within the sphere of religious activity.

Organizations are not allowed to send letters to their members. Osnabrueck is the seat of a Roman Catholic bishop who vigorously championed the cause of the Catholic church in a conflict with Nazi extremists.

Nazi Bishop Cuts Salaries.

BERLIN, April 15.—(AP)—Fuel has been added to Germany's religious fires by the recent measure of Reichsbishop Ludwig Mueller drastically reducing clergymen's salaries and church pensions. The salary cuts run as high as 50 per cent.

The salary slashes came simultaneously with acceptance by the administration of a church budget providing expenditures during the next nine months of 688,000 marks [about $275,000], including the salaries of new Nazi bishops and other officers.

In presenting the church budget, which is new in German church history, Bishop Mueller appealed for a "spirit of sacrifice" in accepting conditions under which most clergymen claim they will be as poor as church mice. No mention of the church budget has been made in the press.

NAZIS PUNISH NEEDY WOMAN FOR REFUSING TO WEAR "SCANTIES"

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, April 15.—Because she had never worn combinations—and refused to do so—a simple country woman residing near Aschaffenburg received a deferred sentence of a week's imprisonment in a local court. She had received the garment in a bundle from the winter relief fund. Indignant, she returned the gift and demanded to know what was meant by sending her such a "clown's costume." At the same time she accused her donors of disgraceful conduct, which the court ruled was slander against the voluntary workers who were seeking to aid the poor.

HITLER CRUISES ON BATTLESHIP IN FOREIGN WATER

[Copyright: 1934: By the New York Times.]

BERLIN, April 15.—Chancellor Hitler, who, except for his service in the world war, had never been outside Austria and Germany, is cruising in a German man-of-war and, like former Kaiser Wilhelm, is making such tour in Scandinavian waters.

Hitler is aboard the Deutschland, first pocket battleship, launched during the chancellorship of Dr. Heinrich Bruening. He is accompanied by Admiral Reder, commander in chief of the navy, and by Gen. Werner von Blomberg, minister of defense. None of his personal associates are aboard. He even left his aid de camp behind.

Hitler's cruise has received a striking lack of publicity. On Thursday a terse line in Berlin newspapers announced that he had "gone on board the Deutschland for a brief visit." Since then not one word had been published until today, when one newspaper printed this dispatch from Oslo:

"As reported from Bergen, Chancellor Hitler this week visited the west coast of Norway aboard the Deutschland. On this first trip abroad as reich chancellor the leader did not go ashore."

COALITION SLATE OF JUDGES TO BE RENAMED TODAY

Contradictions of Law Bring Problems.

Election law contradictions furnished problems for attorneys of both political parties to solve yesterday in advance of today's county conventions. It was decided that both Democratic and Republican organizations will go through the form of nominating today the same nine coalition judicial candidates chosen Saturday.

The Democratic convention is called for 11 o'clock at the Morrison hotel. The Republican convention will start at 2 o'clock in the Hotal LaSalle.

Attorney John F. Tyrrell, counsel for the Republican county committee, explained the difficulties attending the nominations. The Illinois statutes provides that terms of ward and precinct committeemen expired last Tuesday, primary day, and the law fixes today as the date on which the succeeding committee—comprised of those elected last Tuesday—shall organize.

Provisions for Nominations.

The section providing for nominations of candidates for Circuit and Superior court judgeships states that the county committee of each party shall make the nominations not more than 60 nor less than 50 days before the date of election, which is June 4. Yesterday was the 50th day before June 4.

"If the old committees made the nominations they would be subject to criticism because it would be a lame duck action," Tyrrell said. "As the law specifically states that the new committee does not come into existense until the Monday after the primary, nominations could not be made legally by it until it comes into existence.

"It is my contention that the law fixing these dates is not mandatory but is directory. Therefore, the Republican county central committee will organize Monday afternoon, nominate the same candidates as the Democrats, and certify the nominations to the secretary of the state as of April 16, which is 49 days prior to election. I understand the nine candidates will later withdraw from the Republican ticket and run as Democrats."

Plan Two Nominations.

Attorney Cornelius J. Harrington, legal adviser to the Democratic county central committee, said his party will take precautions so as not to invalidate the nominations because of the quirk in the law. The candidates were nominated Saturday and a certificate to that effect will be sent to Springfield, and then they will be nominated again today and another certificate forwarded to the secretary of state.

The legislature discovered this conflict of dates, it was explained by the lawyers, and authorized Gov. Horner to appoint a commission to recommend changes in the election and primary laws satisfactory to both parties. He has not yet appointed the commission, because, it was said, no appropriation was made for this purpose. Politicians said they believed lawyers and representatives of the board of election commissioners would volunteer their services for such a commission.

The judicial candidates who were named Saturday by the Democrats and endorsed later in the day by the old Republican committee, and who are to be nominated by both parties today include the six sitting Superior court judges whose terms expire. They are Judges John J. Sullivan, Martin M. Gridley, Joseph Sabath, Donald S. McKinlay and Ross C. Hall, Democrats, and Walter P. Steffen, Republican. John C. Lewe, Democrat, of Riverside and former Judge David M. Brothers, Republican, were named for two Superior court vacancies. Ald. Frank J. Corr of the 17th ward was nominated for the Circuit court vacancy. All nine candidates will run as Democrats in the election June 4.

Seek City Bench Agreement.

If a coalition can be effected on two municipal court vacancies between $150,000 and $200,000 can be saved the taxpayers, lawyers for the political parties said. The Republican group has asked Chairman Patrick A. Nash of the Democratic committee, to see if a plan can be worked out.

Former Judge George B. Holmes, Republican, and Stephen Adamowski, Democrat, were nominated by their respective parties at last Tuesday's primary for a six-month term on the municipal bench. William J. Mannion, Republican, and former Judge Erwin J. Hasten, Democrat, were nominated for a two-year term.

The Republican proposal is that Holmes and Hasten withdraw, allowing Adamowski and Mannion to be elected without a contest. They said a public duty is involved. Under the law, where there is no opposition to a slate of candidates, the board of election commissioners is authorized to consolidate voting precincts, and the plan is to have but one polling place in four precincts, thereby saving $150 in every four city precincts.

Attorney Harrington suggested that in the event of the refusal of the four candidates to withdraw, the consolidation might still be effected if the four were to stipulate their agreement to the consolidation and pledge themselves not to make a legal point of the consolidation in the event of defeat.

Attorney Tyrrell said he was confident the two Republicans would agree to the reduction of voting precincts. Both Tyrrell and Harrington said rush legislation might be passed at the special session of the legislature authorizing the election board to make this saving.

CHICAGO TO VOTE ON 4 YEAR TERM FOR COUNCILMEN

The proposal to lengthen the term of aldermen from two to four years again will be submitted to the voters at the judicial election on June 4.

If the four year term is adopted it will become effective with the mayoralty election in April, 1935, when the tenure of all sitting aldermen expires. The bill to extend the term was passed last summer by the legislature, and the city council recently voted unanimously to submit the question to a referendum at the June election.

Ald. Frank J. Corr [17th], chairman of the council judiciary committee, who piloted the referendum bill through the legislature and the council, said the lengthening of the aldermanic term would save city taxpayers $750,000 every four year in election expenses.

EARLY DECISION SOUGHT ON PARK ACT'S LEGALITY

Mayor Prefers to Make Injunction Test.

An early decision on the constitutionality of the Chicago park consolidation act, which was approved by the voters at the primary election last Tuesday, appeared likely yesterday.

Mayor Kelly said he would consult Corporation Counsel Sexton today on the procedure to be followed in getting a ruling from the State Supreme court on the act. While only one course yesterday appeared to attorneys to be open, that of instituting quo warranto proceedings, a study will be made of the law to determine if an injunction suit could be prosecuted.

Prefers Injunction Method.

The quo warranto proceedings could be instituted only after the mayor had appointed the five park commissioners in accordance with the provisions of the act, as the purpose of this legal move would be to question the right of the commissioners to hold office. The mayor expressed the opinion, however, that any appointments by him before the act has been tested in the courts would lead to confusion, and for that reason stated a preference for the other course.

"I do not want more than one body of park commissioners functioning at one time, which is within the realm of possibility if the appointments are made before the court rules," said the mayor, "nor do I want a ruling only on the question of the mayor's authority to appoint the commissioners.

"There are other questions to be decided, such as the status of the general powers of the new park board, and the authority of the commission to issue bonds and pass tax levies. I am anxious to have an early test of the act, and willing to coöperate with any one toward that end, but there should be no confusion meanwhile in the administration of the park systems."

Thompson Gives Opinion.

As attorney for a number of the 22 park systems that will be consolidated into one body, Floyd E. Thompson, former justice of the Supreme court, has written to the mayor on the subject. He stated that in his opinion the only action that can be taken is to institute quo warranto proceedings.

Many of the small park commissioners are interested in the suit, according to Judge Thompson, as a matter of protecting themselves against any unlawful acts. They do not want to surrender their powers or records, he said, until it has been established that the park act is constitutional, and that the new commissioners have a legal right to custody of their records.

The mayor has until sixty days from April 10 to appoint the commissioners, but if a quo warranto action is decided upon as the only step that can be taken, the board members would have to be named soon in order to get a decision from the Supreme court in June.

Friends of the mayor said he has been giving considerable thought to the appointments, and that he is anxious to obtain the services of prominent residents of the city whose names would inspire confidence in the administration of the consolidated park system.

TAXPAYERS WILL ASK SEIZURE OF N. SHORE PARK BOARD'S BOOKS

Two steps will be taken today by Rogers Park taxpayers to prevent further spending by the North Shore park district. The citizens are fighting to stave off further expenditures before the area becomes a part of the city wide park consolidation.

State's Attorney Courtney will be asked to seize the books and records of the park board and to make public a recent audit of the district's finances. The request will be made by Commissioner Hyman Kinzelberg, who supported park consolidation and who is at odds, with the other members of the board, and by James E. Prendergast, vice president of the Rogers Park Improvement association, and Edward F. Driver, real estate man.

The next move will be to ask Mayor Kelly to appoint a custodian over park epuipment purchased recently by the board with Kinzelberg dissenting. Kinzelberg charged that the audits, completed two weeks ago, were being suppressed by James Phelan, president, and the other three commissioners.

"On the first of the year there was $16,000 in cash on hand in the park treasury," said Kinzelberg. "I understand that this had dwindled to $8,000 on April 1. The other commissioners are hurrying along with spending money so that the cash will be soon be gone, if there is still any left."

STEAL 400 POUND SAFE CONTAINING $30,000 JEWELS

New York, April 15.—[Special.]—A 400 pound safe containing more than $30,000 in jewelry was carted away by burglars last night from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Scholtz of Brooklyn, one block from a police station.

In addition to the $30,000 collection the safe contained valuable heirlooms and unset stones, which, Mr. Scholtz said, might increase his loss to $90,000.

The burglars also made off with a $2,000 ermine wrap and a mink coat of equal value. They selected gold cuff links and studs from a box in Mr. Scholtz' bureau drawer and left behind those of little value. They even took half a dozen new neckties.

The stolen property was not insured. Mr. Scholtz explained he grew tired last year of paying insurance premiums on the jewelry and put it in a bank box.

A few weeks ago Mrs. Scholtz induced him for convenience to keep it in the safe in their home.

TEAMSTER UNION MEETING BROKEN UP BY COURTNEY

Racketeers in Control, His Aid Explains.

More than 150 policemen under the direction of Capt. Daniel Gilbert of the state's attorney's office, prevented a meeting yesterday of members of the Chicago Coal Teamsters, Chauffeurs and Helpers' union, Local 704. The meeting which was to be held at 2 p. m. in Hod Carriers hall, 814 West Harrison street, was called by John C. Even, secretary and treasurer of the union, for the purpose of having the members vote on whether they wished to remain in that union or join a rival organization.

Even sent a letter to States Attorney Courtney inviting him or his representative to the meeting and directing his attention to a recent statement in which Mr. Courtney said. "It is my intention to give the men who hold cards in these various unions a voice in the selection of their officials."

Stations Guard at Door.

When he arrived shortly after 1 o'clock Capt. Gilbert found about 100 men in the hall and ordered them out. He posted detectives at the entrance of the hall and ordered that no one be allowed to enter. About 100 uniformed policemen were detailed along West Harrison street between Halsted and Peoria streets to keep the crowds moving.

Capt. Gilbert declared that his order to stop the meeting was in line with Mr. Courtney's efforts to drive gangsters and racketeers out of the unions. He declared that the union was formerly controled by the late George [Red] Barker and now is in the control of Marcus [Studdy] Looney.

Union Denied an Injunction.

"So long as this union is controled by racketeers and is not conducted legitimately we will not permit any meetings," Capt. Gilbert said.

Judge Denis E. Sullivan of the Superior court recently denied a petition for an injunction restraining the state's attorney and the police from interfering with meetings of this union Attorneys Joseph T. Harrington and Bernard J. McDonnell, representing the union, protested vigorously at the police interference yesterday.

3 Burglars Captured Looting Rooming House

Three burglars were captured early yesterday by residents of a rooming house at 3140 Jackson boulevard. Robert Potter, occupant of a first floor room, was awakened by the intruders, who were lugging out a radio, telephone coin box and other articles. Potter opened fire with a revolver and the three surrendered. They gave their names as Michael McKefy, 2900 Addison street; Edward Brown, 516 North Springfield avenue, and Norman Saper, 5508 Eddy street.

RADICALS ROUTED BY DEPRESSION IN NEW ZEALAND

Conservatism Rules in War to Revive Prosperity.

BY QUENTIN POPE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, April 15.—New Zealand, radical as she had been in the past, found the depression something which left her perplexed and afraid. There was nothing of the boldness of a young and radical nation in the line of action taken when she attacked this new challenge to her comfort. All she did was to cut expenses and wait.

There were excuses for her action. She had mortgaged her future hopelessly to bondholders abroad. She had laid all her plans on a rising market, had seen the flood of goods outward and the flood of money inward as lasting forever. In short, she had been a victim of the national expansion and surging optimism which ruled in most countries after the war.

Life Easy and Genial.

The whole basis of the country's economy had been set on the belief that British and Australian loans would always be available for development and that the upward curve of production would always be accompanied by an upward curve of expansion in Britain, where most of her exports were shipped.

Life had been so easy and genial in the decade after the war. Farm prices rose. Farmers sold out and bought mansions and automobiles. There were houses to be had cheaply if the workers wanted them—$4.50 a week would pay off principal and interest on a worker's cottage in city suburbs, and in 25 years the worker could call the house his own.

Why pay rent when you may have your own house and garden? This query was put by the government advertisers. The question was answered by a flood of applications for government loans for houses.

Living was only moderately expensive, travel was cheap, and food was plentiful. There was much leisure and every one played games; the poorest could afford to join a club and take part in the national sport of Rugby football.

Wave Aside Britain's Slump.

Then came the crash, and it caught the government unprepared. The purely British depression of 1929 should have warned New Zealand, for the destinies of the two countries are tied together, but even that was waved aside as a passing phase. The first reaction to the crash was near panic, and that state of mind continued for almost a year.

The first impulse was to cut everything. Civil servants had their salaries slashed twice, first 15 per cent, then another 10 per cent. The minimum wage was ended and labor had to take its first cut, by a general order of the industrial commission. This cut was 10 per cent. In some cases it was followed by a second of 15 per cent.

Lowered costs were the slogan. Longer hours, fewer holidays, and smaller pay rolls were provided in order to bring the national economy to a state of stability. When this stability refused to come panic reigned. A general moratorium was rushed through to protect, not the general public, but the farmer.

It was a lopsided piece of legislation and meant that if a creditor pressed a farmer for repayment of a loan the farmer might apply to the courts. In that event, the interest on the loan might be reduced—there is one case of it having been lowered to one-half of a cent per annum on each $100 of the loan, or 5 cents on $1,000—and that arrears of interest might be written off. This was the strongest weapon that a farmer could use, and has forced many creditors to accept low terms in the hope of saving some of their money.

Protection of the farmer now became the slogan of the government. There was no effort to do anything for industry—the manufacturing industries had always been regarded as a drain on the country. There was a call for increased production on the farms, a call soon to be made doubtful by Britain's decision to develop her own agriculture, but there was still no effort to follow the example of Australia and seek new markets.

But prices sagged, and there began the long and bitter wrangle over the exchange rate, a wrangle ended in February, 1933, when the government decided to put up the rate to 25 per cent in order to assist farmers who were selling their products, it was claimed, at 25 per cent below cost. The explanation had the vagueness of most political expositions, for if the farmers really were selling 25 per cent under cost the higher rate would not aid them much, as the government had found the rate at around 10 per cent and moved it up only by $15 in $100.

Problem of Taxation.

There was already a great problem of taxation facing the government, and the higher rate added to it. For customs revenue fell away, and all efforts to convince the country that the rate will not fall have failed. Thus people still refuse to buy more than bare necessities, immense credit balances are piled up in London, and a balanced budget becomes impossible.

At first it was hoped that the lower cost of buying New Zealand produce would so boost purchases here that new prosperity would come with the inflation of the exchange. That has not happened. While it may be true that the inflation was the easiest way out of the difficult situation in which selling prices and domestic costs did not balance, it has proved risky and is still uncertain in outcome.

Taxation, of course, was boosted by the government assuming responsibility for all the country's jobless, and special wage taxes were applied to provide enough funds for this. This extra charge and the growing cost of pensions has more than erased all gains which might have come from reductions in civil servants' wages and from reduced expenditures on government works.

Impossible to Boost Spending.

It was not possible to boost spending in the manner which President Roosevelt has adopted because local loans are difficult and almost impossible to raise, money is short, and there had already been a widespread plan of public works construction. This plan, however, had ben operating on money borrowed abroad, and when the foreign loan market shut down this work had to stop.

A bad attack of conscience afflicted the government at this time. The inflation of the past was reviled as if present ministers had not been responsible for it, and those ministers who had been loudest in defense of "borrowing for development" now appeared before the public as champions of the policy of "living on our income." Loans, in fact, were impossible to get, and the parliamentarians were making the best of it. To show how thoroughly they had reformed, they turned over the state railroads to a non-political board two years ago and thus opened up an era in which the railroads have come nearer to paying their way than in the last 20 years.

The budget remained high, though, because much money had been borrowed abroad. To preserve the national credit it was necessary to meet the interest payments. There was no effort to convert the debt, which is largely in Britain, even after the successful British conversion loan was carried out. There was a general conversion of the internal debt on a "voluntary" basis—with objectors compelled to accept the same terms as the rest at the end—but only a small saving was made—about $3,000,000 a year.

Lowers Interest Rate.

In conjunction with the banks, the government managed to lower the interest rate, but the fall was a mere half of one per cent, and the rate was due to fall anyway, as safe investments were rare.

The government's course always was cautious and slow. There had been a "four year plan" announced at the time of the general election almost three years ago, but there has not been a reference to it since and no one has succeeded in finding out what it is about.

The old passive policy, so typical of the British, was revived. It was a case of wait and see. The recommendations of a committee set up to advise on development of manufacturing industries were pigeonholed and the chaiman, J. Pearce Luke, resigned with indignant comments on government policy. Not one of the committee's suggestions, he said, had been put into effect.

Agricultural policy continued to be restricted to "keeping the farmers on the farms" and the financial policy to obtaining money for the budget. The latest move in this direction has been the creation of a central bank, nominally to free New Zealand from outside influences, really others declare, to take up government loans which the trading banks have begun to refuse.

Swings Away from Radicalism.

New Zealand has gone a long way from the radicalism of 1893. Those old radicals who set her feet on the path of social experiment would not recognize her today. And if the depression continues long enough she may become the world's foremost conservative nation. Either that will happen or she will be restored to radical control again in circumstances which will make it almost impossible for those new radicals to do anything but continue the same policy.

For over all is the shadow of the foreign bondholder and even the wildest-eyed labor men do not favor default on foreign bonds.

NEW YORKERS FORM BODY TO FIGHT CHILD LABOR AMENDMENT

New York, April 15.—(AP)—Formation of a statewide committee to oppose the proposed child labor amendment as "much more objectionable and dangerous than the Eighteenth Amendment" was announced today. Elihu Root is honorary chairman and Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler executive chairman.

William D. Guthrie, vice chairman, has prepared a 45-page brochure predicting federal control over the nation's children would result "in as great and disgraceful failure as the attempt to enforce the Volstead act."

The brochure, a reply to lawyers who urged ratification, will be submitted to the legislature tomorrow.

Grandmother of Missing Girl Reported Near Death

Mrs. Otto Hartman of Lockport, grandmother of a Joliet junior high school girl who disappeared with a girl chum 10 days ago, was reported to be near death after a heart attack last night. The girl's mother, Mrs. Walter Hartman, collapsed at her home in Joliet. Aleta Hartman and Loretta Leaman, each 13 years old, left school a day after they had played hookey for several hours. Later a letter was received from them, postmarked from the Englewood station, saying they were doing housework.

M'GUGIN ASSAILS SLANDERING OF FEDERAL CRITICS

Blames Prof. Tugwell for Wirt Attacks.

Washington, D. C., April 15.—(AP)—Representative McGugin [Rep., Kas.], a member of the house committee investigating the Wirt revolutionary plot charges, said in a statement today that "slandering and vilifying the character of any one who arises to criticize any governmental activity is apparently becoming the expected thing."

McGugin, who has been a severe critic of the way Chairman Bulwinkle [Dem., N. C.] conducted the hearing last week of Dr. William A. Wirt, Gary, Ind., school superintendent, said the attacks on Wirt were in line with the ideas of Rexford G. Tugwell, whom he termed "the chief engineer of the new 'plannng' program."

Ready to Call Six.

The statement was issued as Bulwinkle prepared to call before his committee Tuesday the six persons who attended the dinner in Virginia last September where Wirt said he learned of plans of the "brain trusters" to replace President Roosevelt with a Stalin.

A "program" of discrediting Wirt started, McGugin asserted, with reports quoting Speaker Rainey as saying that if Wirt did not testify he would be put in jail. "There was no occasion for that statement," McGugin said. "The doctor had not refused to testify. Then, after he gave his evidence before the committee, the chairman of the committee, Mr. Bulwinkle, on the floor of the house, under constitutional immunity, charged that Dr. Wirt had been in jail in Gary, Ind., for pro-German activities during the war."

Then Ickes Takes Hand.

"The following day, it was reported in the press that Secretary Ickes in his press conference charged that Dr. Wirt had been trying to obtain a loan from the public works fund which was for the doctor's personal benefit.

"These statements of Bulwinkle and Ickes have been very fully repudiated. Now all of this is shocking to the traditional American sense of fairness. Although Dr. Wirt and the American people may be shocked by this campaign of vilification of the doctor's character, yet, I doubt if either the doctor or the public should be greatly surprised."

AGED MAN BURNED TO DEATH.

Muscatine, Ia., April 15.—[Special.]—Filmore Setrow, 79, who wandered away from the Muscatine county farm Saturday, was burned to death on the Mississippi river bank at South Muscatine today when brush fire ignited his clothing.

30 ROUNDED UP AS POLICE PUSH AUTO THEFT WAR

Three Rings Smashed Within Week.

Cook and Du Page counties, outside the urban centers. They allegedly maintained a garage at 3816 Montrose avenue, where they changed motor numbers on stolen cars. The gang, according to Capt. Joseph Goldberg, dealt in cars produced by a manufacturer who places numbers on the transmission only. Used cars of this make were bought and the transmissions changed for those in stolen cars. The system was so perfect that only six of the stolen cars have been recovered—and these only with the help of Clancy.

Insurance Ring Broken.

The smashing of these three gangs was the biggest step in the state's attorney's campaign since the middle of March, when the prosecutor broke up an organization that specialized in defrauding insurance companies. A half dozen men were nabbed in that connection. The principal trick of this outfit was to fake automobile thefts and thus collect insurance. In some cases insurance was collected several times on one car.

That was really the opening gun of Courtney's drive. Previously there had been a working agreement between his office, the police department, and Judge Joseph Graber in the special Auto court. Between the three they succeeded in gradually cutting down auto thefts to a 43 per cent reduction against last year.

However, this is not enough, in the state's attorney's opinion, for on Friday he addressed 65 police captains, lieutenants, and park officials and warned them that "automobile thievery is still the outstanding crime in Chicago and must be stopped." He said his office would keep close watch on developments and would see to it that there would be transfers in police personnel if results were not forthcoming.

Caught After Chase.

Since his warning two gangs were broken up, one on Saturday and one yesterday. In addition, police chased several known auto thieves and yesterday engaged in two skirmishes with them. In one West Park Policemen Paul Bartels and Patrick Riley arrested Ray Anatori, 20 years old, 2818 Arthington street, as he was riding in a stolen car owned by Anton Oberstan, 4050 Cullerton street. A shotgun and two pistols were found in the car. In the other skirmish an Evanston squad exchanged shots with a thief and recovered the stolen car.

Beginning this week it is expected that district police captains will assign at least six men each to stolen auto work, in addition to the 100 men working out of the detective bureau. The total strength of this new force will be 300. Park police will add their men to this work.

SEARCH ALLEYS ON NORTH SIDE FOR GUNMAN KILLER

A special squad under Lieut. Axel Jensen searched alleys in the Summerdale police district last night in a hunt for a gunman who shot and killed Louis Chatroop, 30 years old, 1409 Rosemont avenue, Saturday night.

Chatroop, a civil engineer, was shot through the heart a moment after he had put his car into the garage in the rear of 6256 Wayne avenue. He carried no money at the time, and police believe the gunman shot him in anger because of that fact. Chatroop started on a new job last week after a long period of unemployment.

Lieut. Jensen is satisfied the killer is an alley prowler specializing on motorists renting alley garages. He issued a warning to motorists to be wary when going to such garages.

SLAIN IN QUARREL OVER WOMAN.

John Wallace, 35 years old, 5512 South Wabash avenue, colored, was shot and killed yesterday during a quarrel over a woman in a flat at 4749 Indiana avenue. Police are seeking John Down, 36 years old, 5720 South Parkway, also colored, as his slayer.

R. J. CANNON CAR HITS WASHINGTON TAXI; THREE HURT

Congressman Admits He Was Driver.

Washington, D. C., April 15.—(AP)—Representative Raymond J. Cannon, Wisconsin Democrat, tonight told police he was the driver of a car which early today struck a taxicab in which three members of the New York Stock exchange were riding. One was painfully injured.

Cannon told Lieut. J. H. Lee he had given his name to a policeman at the scene of the accident, and had not reported it because they already "knew who I was."

The congressman, though making no formal charges against Policeman A. S. Douglas and W. J. Matthews, who made out the report and sent a lookout for the car, said he was "very indignant."

Irked by Policemen.

"There must be something wrong with the policemen responsible," he said.

The three exchange members were on their way to the railroad station after attending a Gridiron club dinner here last night.

E. H. H. Simmons, former president of the exchange, received a fractured shoulder blade in the collision and was expected by physicians to remain at Emergency hospital for several days.

Two Others Hurt.

The other two passengers, Allen N. Lindley, vice president of the exchange, and Herbert Wellington, returned to New York after treatment. Wellington's lip was badly lacerated.

The automobile was found by police in a filling station near the capitol, half a mile from the scene of the accident. Cannon said he had left it there for repairs.

Police traced it by its Wisconsin license, they reported.

DETROIT QUIET AS DIEMAKERS SEEK WAY OUT

Still Hope for a Special Wage Agreement.

Detroit, Mich., April 15.—(AP)—The quiet that has marked the strike situation in Detroit during the last few days was undisturbed today, although approximately 3,000 men employed in tool and die shops remained on strike while their representatives continued efforts to make separate wage agreements with employers.

Two major union meetings today attracted some attention, but so far as official pronouncements revealed they resulted in no definite action regarding progress in the tool makers' strike or any change in the attitude of the union workers in the automobile body plants and the motor car factories.

Workers in Conference.

In Detroit, members of the Mechanics' Educational society, the tool and die makers' union, met to discuss the strike situation, which has developed into one of the quietest in the city's industrial history. In Pontiac, representatives of the United Auto Workers' union, the American Federation of Labor affiliate, were in session throughout the afternoon.

At this meeting representatives from Cleveland, Janesville, Wis.; Muskegon, Saginaw, Flint, Detroit, Pontiac, Lansing, and Jackson presented reports on membership work. While the meeting was closed, it was said by several of the labor leaders to be an entirely harmonious affair.

Will Stick to Code.

Reports last week had been that the Pontiac meeting might take some action on new wage and hours demands presented by five Pontiac union locals. The presence, however, of William E. Collins, chief organizer for the A. F. of L. in the automotive field in Michigan, and Richard L. Byrd, labor's representative on the federal automobile labor board, was taken as an assurance that any action independent of the labor tribunal would be discouraged.

Automobile labor will resume its sessions tomorrow after a week-end recess.

Since the board began its sessions three weeks ago there have been recurring rumors of labor dissatisfaction with the progress made. Outwardly the results so far apparent have been confined to the reinstatement of a number of men said to have been discharged because of union activities.

PHYSICIANS GIVE DINNER HONORING THEIR OFFICERS

The vanguard of the American College of Physicians, which will open its 18th anual clinical session today in the Palmer House, held a dinner at the hotel last night for officers and regents of the college and honored guests. Among those at the dinner, which was presided over by Dr. George Morris Piersol, of Philadelphia, president, were: Prof. Richard Bauer of Vienna; Dr. Walter L. Bierring, Des Moines, regent of the college and also president-elect of the American Medical association; Dr. Joseph Capps, Chicago, president of the Association of American Physicians; and Dr. Roger I. Lee, a corporator of Harvard university. The meeting will continue until Friday.

TROOPS ON DUTY IN OKLAHOMA TO HALT TAX SALES

Three Counties Prepare to Stick to Program.

Oklahoma City, Okla., April 15.—(AP)—Gov. William H. [Alfalfa Bill] Murray's oft-used national guardsmen went on duty in about a dozen counties of Oklahoma today with instructions to prevent resales of property for delinquent taxes tomorrow and to arrest any county treasurer who attempts to hold a sale.

Adjutant General Charles F. Barrett said more than 30 guardsmen from various parts of the state had been sent to counties named in a military order issued yesterday by the governor.

Treasurers in several of the eleven counties named in the order announced there would be no sales, but Barrett said troops would go into those counties because Gov. Murray had not modified his order to eliminate them.

Four to Each County.

An officer and three enlisted men were directed by the governor to go in each county.

"The order will be carried out fully tomorrow in any county where officials persist in holding a resale," Barrett warned. "In order to economize we are sending only two or three men to each of the counties but more troops will be ready to go if necessary."

Blaine, Cotton, and Bryan county officials reported they had received no direct orders from the governor to cancel the sales and expected to hold them as scheduled. R. N. Phelps, Garfield county treasurer, said the sale would be held in that county unless he receives specific orders direct from Murray.

Restraining Orders Sought.

Resales in many counties have been halted by applications for restraining orders, filed in the various district courts. In other counties the county officials have not advertised property for sale this year.

In issuing his order, the governor declared that "protection of the homes of the people in stressful times like these is a vital policy transcending any temporary loss of taxes."

U. S. FLEET RESTS; 100 SHIPS OF WAR FACE NEW 'CLASH'

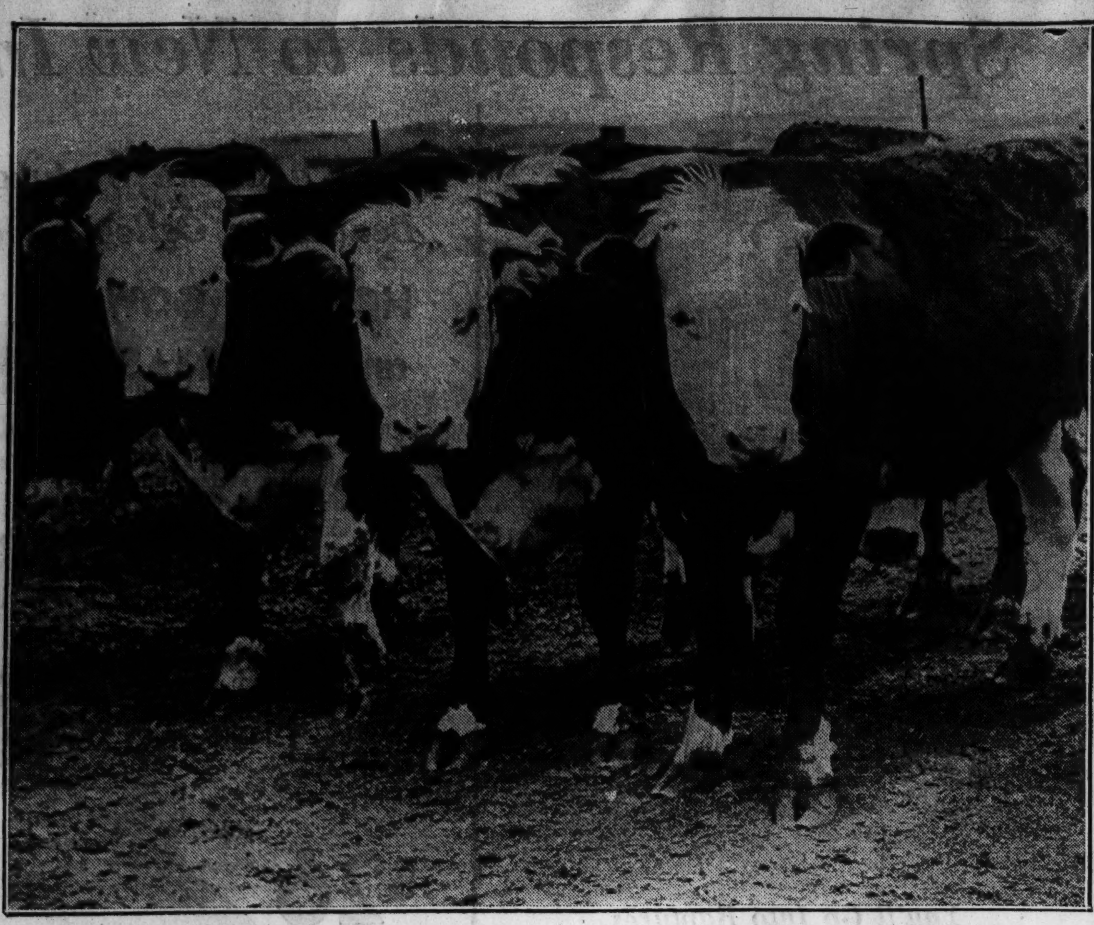
WITH THE UNITED STATES FLEET, Off West Coast of Mexico, April 15.—(AP)—This was a quiet Sunday aboard the 100 ships of war as the United States fleet veered on an easterly course in tropical waters off the Gulf of Tehuantepec, bound for the Panama Canal and the Atlantic coast.

After divine services in the morning, most of the 40,000 men lolled about the decks for a leisurely spell after a week's hard work in battle exercises that marked the six days since the armada moved out of California bases. Many wrote letters home, and others read books from the ship libraries.

Daily work sheets being prepared tonight by the executive officer on each ship showed more battles ahead. The orders indicated general quarters before breakfast tomorrow, crews assuming condition of readiness with particular attention to stationing and instruction of battle lookouts.

Orders by Admiral D. F. Sellers, commander in chief, were for battle cruising exercise in the morning by all ships except the submarines and the scouting force destroyers. That means the fleet tomorrow may expect an attack from these undersea cruisers and the destroyer flotillas.

TRIBUNE FARM BANQUETERS



These plump Hereford steers are among 31 on The Tribune's experimental farm in Kendall county that are unconsciously enjoying extra rations daily, wholly unaware that there's a reason for the extra food in the feed bins. They're being fattened for the market and any day now they'll be leaving the Fox river valley country.

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

By Bob Becker

Feast Before Doom

April 15, 1934.

IT'S just one meal after another for a bunch of 31 Hereford steers here on the experimental farm. These plump animals haven't any idea, of course, why they are receiving such generous rations of shelled corn and hay. If they did, they probably wouldn't kick their heels so high around the feeding yard or sleep very soundly at night. Clarence Thurow, manager of the farm, still is grooming these cattle for the market. Yesterday when Paul Potter, agricultural editor of THE TRIBUNE, and I sat on the fence around the feeding yard where these steers spend their time, Clarence remarked that the animals seemed to have that extra layer of fat on them that he has been wanting. Now it is just a question of watching the market and then shipping the 31 steers to get the right price for them.

Yesterday when Clarence and Louis Thurow walked around among the Herefords they bucked and kicked as if they felt like a million dollars. I was worried about a bunch of Chester White pigs in the barnyard, because it looked as if the steers might accidentally deliver a knockout to one of the pigs during all the galloping and running around in the yard. But the pigs seemed to know when to dodge and when to run to get away from flying hoofs, so there were no casualties.

Pieface, the horse that was put out of his stall on Rawlings' place in order to make room for all the ewes and their lambs, has shown that he bears the sheep no ill will because of the way he was treated. On the contrary, he has just performed like a movie hero in order to rescue a ewe that was attacked by two stray dogs.

Rawlings heard dogs barking in the woods beyond the sheepfold and he saw the ewes and their lambs coming home on the run. He climbed to the top of the barn to trp to see the dogs, feeling certain they were attacking the sheep. But he couldn't locate them so he quickly saddled Pieface, grabbed his shotgun, and raced across the fields and into the woods. Pieface laid back his ears and galloped like a Derby prospect toward the barking dogs.

When Rawlings and Pieface reached the scene of all the trouble there were two dogs attacking a ewe. The poor animal was on its back unable to do much against the barking, biting canines. Rawlings made a flying leap from the back of Pieface, pulled up his gun and let go at one of the dogs, a black and tan cross bred. The shot charge staggered it, and then it ran away, followed by its partner, a long legged dog with setter blood in it. Rawlings carried the ewe to the sheepfold and dressed its cuts. I saw it yesterday penned up with its cute baby lamb in the sheepfold. Although badly wounded Rawlings thinks the ewe will recover.

Charges His Two Sons Robbed Jewelry Store

John Wozniak, owner of a jewelry store at 11725 South Michigan avenue, yesterday charged that his two sons had burglarized his store because he failed to give them a small inheritance left by his wife. The sons, John Jr., 21 years old, and Steve, 27 years old, both of Gary, demanded the money Saturday night and threatened to "take it out of the store," the jeweler declared. John Jr. was arrested yesterday in Gary, but denied the charge and said he would fight extradition.

DIES FROM AUTO GAS.

Charles Tuma, 59 years old, died as the result of carbon monoxide poisoning yesterday as he sat in his automobile in the garage at the rear of his home, 4450 Christiana avenue.

15,000 Mass in Madrid on 13th Day of Spanish Strike

MADRID, April 15.—(AP)—A general strike in scattered sections of Spain entered its 13th day today, but only minor incidents were reported. Fifteen thousand extremists met in a bull ring here and demanded a "united proletarian front." Police and soldiers guarded against possible trouble.

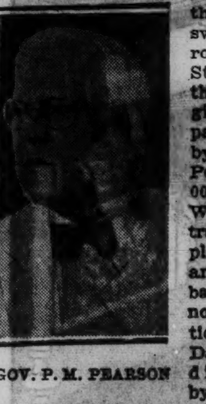
U. S. FINANCING OF VIRGIN ISLANDS' RUM STARTS ROW

Porto Ricans Clamor for Similar Favor.

BY HARWOOD HULL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SAN JUAN, P. R., April 15.—Between Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands there is the makings of a sweet little rum row. The United States, through the projected Virgin Islands company, sponsored by Gov. Paul M. Pearson with $1,000,000 of Public Works administration funds, plans to use rum and sugar as the basis for the economic rehabilitation of the former Danish West Indies, purchased by the United States in 1917 for $25,000,000.



GOV. P. M. PEARSON

Porto Rican distillers contend the St. Croix rum makers have the benefit of the proffered government financing as well as a lower tax on both alcohol and rum. Under these conditions the Virgin Islands can run rum into Porto Rico at less cost than it can be produced locally, while St. Croix will have an equal edge on the larger market in the United States and elsewhere.

St. Croix Refuses Charter.

Rum interests here are trying to have the situation corrected both by local legislation and Washington action. Ways are being studied for the development here of a company financed by the United States similar to the Virgin Islands company.

Refusal of the St. Croix colonial council, partly responsive to Porto Rican immigrants, to grant the Virgin Islands company a charter, provided only a temporary setback. The company could be chartered in any iland, and the people of St. Thomas, St. John, and St. Croix seldom decide the same on anything.

President Roosevelt named Secretary of Interior Ickes, Gov. Pearson, and Oscar I. Chapman, assistant secretary of the interior, as trustees of the Virgin Islands company, to hold all of the stock for the government.

Natives Become Suspicious.

Drafted in Washington, the proposed charter provided for broad corporate powers. Its language aroused suspicion in rural communities.

Gov. Pearson remained in St. Croix two weeks seeking favorable action on the charter, then went to St. Thomas to redraft the bill by eliminating the eminent domain feature.

Before the St. Croix council came to final action on the redraft, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt visited the Virgin Islands, and at St. Croix was handed a petition protesting against the chartering of the company. The iland newspapers reported she cabled this petition to the President. A few days later Rexford G. Tugwell, assistant secretary of agriculture, also visited the ilands, and he, too, learned of the stubborn opposition to the bill. Crucians without explaining why assert that opposition to the company charter grew more stubborn after the visits of Mrs. Roosevelt and Tugwell. When the vote was finally taken the bill was defeated, 12 to 6.

Stills Are Set Up.

In the meantime, work is going ahead for the operation of rum stills under private ownership, although most of them have given options to sell to the Virgin Islands company when it is chartered at St. Thomas or elsewhere. Instalation of the largest still has just been completed by an American company in the central factory, one of the three sugar mills of the iland.

Porto Ricans interested in reëstablishing the rum industry here view with a great deal of alarm the proffered assistance to the Virgin Islands without similar aid being offered here. Legislative leaders have asked both Gov. Pearson and Washington for details of the Virgin Islands company plans and how Porto Rico may participate in a similar scheme.

NORTHERN INDIANA POLICE SCOUR TOWNS, ROADS FOR DILLINGER

South Bend, Ind., April 15.—(AP)—Northern Indiana police tonight maintained an alert patrol of streets and highways in the belief that John Dillinger may be in the vicinity.

However, the black sedan in which officers were told Dillinger and Homer Van Meter, with whom he raided the Warsaw, Ind., police station Friday morning, were riding, was not sighted.

A South Bend business man told of encountering the car at 9 p. m. Saturday on a main thoroughfare. He said the machine, with two occupants, brushed his car in passing. He identified the driver as Van Meter.

The first intimation that Dillinger was in the vicinity came from Elkhart, Ind., where officers were informed he stopped at the home of an acquaintance of Van Meter. "That is Van Meter out there in the car," the desperado was said to have told the man. "We want to know how to get to South Bend by the northern River road and miss the main highway."

Police said Van Meter's acquaintance, fearing reprisal, waited seven hours before informing them of the visit.

SALE OF BEER IN COUNTY FORESTS SPLITS BOARD

Preserve Body Is Equally Divided; Vote Tomorrow.

Whether visitors to the forest preserves will be permitted to buy beer at refreshment stands is to be determined at a special meeting of the forest preserve board tomorrow. The fourteen county commissioners in their capacity as commissioners of the preserves will vote upon the recommendation of a subcommittee to make the county's wooded groves bone dry.

The commissioners will go into the meeting equally divided on the question. Commissioners Busse, Byrd, Fleming, Kasper, Miller, Sears and Traeger have expressed themselves in favor of the restriction. They are opposed by President Whealan and Commissioners Kavanagh, Kelly, McInerney, Plumb, Ryan and Weber. There is one vacancy on the board.

Stormy Debate Expected.

Both camps anticipate stormy debate on the report of the subcommittee consisting of Commissioners Byrd, Kasper, Miller, Sears and Traeger.

Commissioner Byrd, as chairman of the subcommittee of the roadhouse committee, announced yesterday its recommendation was unanimous. The same committee made a recommendation against the sale of liquor which was adopted last year by the board.

"We of the subcommittee want it understood we are not drys," Commissioner Byrd said. "We were not motivated by personal feelings on drinking. We were influenced by the fact that some of the preserves border on dry suburban areas and were doubtful whether beer can be sold legally on county property.

Opposed to Drunkenness.

"However, our principal objection to beer was that its sale would encourage the bootlegging of hard liquor to bring about drunkenness in the preserves. In as much as children visit the preserves in great numbers we voted against encouraging drunkenness."

"What's wrong with beer?" Commissioner Weber asked. "It's served in the White House and in the governor's mansion. I say that if beer is not sold in the preserves we will have more drunkenness than if visitors are allowed to have a glass of beer when they want it. This is the era of repeal and not of prohibition."

PRESIDENT OF CUBAN COUNCIL OF STATE QUITS

HAVANA, Cuba, April 15.—(AP)—The resignation of Carlos De La Cruz as president of the council of state has been presented to President Carlos Mendieta, it was learned today.

A palace spokesman said the resignation was accepted unofficially, but that a cabinet meeting would be called tomorrow to consider the matter.

The recent appointment of De La Cruz caused a near cabinet crisis. On the day after he was named his unsuccessful opponent, Roberto Mendez Penate, committed suicide.

SPANISH WAR VET AID INCREASED 37½ MILLIONS

Adds Huge Load to Burden of Taxpayers.

Washington, D. C., April 15.—[Special.]—Approximately 37½ million dollars a year will be added to the taxpayers' burden because of the increased benefits which congress voted to 179,000 Spanish American war veterans alone when it overthrew the President's veto, the veterans' administration said today.

Gen. Frank T. Hines, administrator of veterans' affairs, estimated that 57,000 veterans of 1898 will be put back on the government pay roll and 122,000 still on the rolls will receive increases because of the passage of the independent offices' appropriation bill over the presidential veto.

Two months of grueling work with added personnel and added expense will be imposed on the veterans' administration by the law, Gen. Hines said. Sixty days will elapse, he said, before the new rolls are compiled and the new and higher payments actually begin to flow out.

Must Fill Questionnaires.

A new survey of the veterans returned to the rolls will be launched at the same time that the restored payments start moving out. Each veteran put back on the rolls will receive a questionnaire which he must fill out under oath before a second check is sent to him.

The extent of the veteran's service, his present financial status, and the nature of his disability will be asked for. One of the questions to be answered is whether "your disability, or any part of it, is the result of vicious habits or misconduct."

Qualify Those Eligible.

Veterans are not entitled to the new rates and must return their checks if they had an income last year large enough to cause them to pay an income tax, a letter accompanying the checks will explain. No government employé receiving more than $1,000 if single, or $2,500 if married may accept the raises if he is a veteran.

In general instruction to his field offices Gen. Hines estimated that the new law will increase the seven classes of disability rates paid to Spanish American war veterans as follows: From $6 per month to $10, from $10 to $20, from $12 to $30, from $20 to $30, from $35 to $50, from $50 to $75, and from $60 to $100.

Approximately 3,113,000 additional operations, including the preparation and signing of checks, the preparation of record cards, computations, and moving of files will be necessitated in the veterans' administration because of the changed rates, Gen. Hines estimated.

MAYOR LOSES HIS PATIENCE OVER TAGLESS AUTOS

Mayor Kelly lost his patience yesterday when, driving on the south side, he noted scores of automobiles lacking 1934 state and city licenses. He stopped at the Hyde Park police station and complained to Lieut. Roger Murphy.

"You'll find a lot of cars without licenses around Hyde Park boulevard, Lake Park avenue and Woodlawn avenue," said the mayor.

Lieut. Murphy immediately sent a squad to the districts designated by Mayor Kelly, and within a half hour ten motorists were arrested.

Doug Fairbanks Travels Alone, Ireland to England

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, April 15.—(AP)—Traveling alone, Douglas Fairbanks left tonight for Holyhead, the nearest English port, on the night mail boat. The American film actor has been a guest at Luttrellstown castle of the Hon. Brinsley Plunkett at a house party. Lady Ashley, whose husband has named Douglas Fairbanks as co-respondent in a pending divorce action, was also a guest.

Bitten by Monkey

MONKEY TAKES BITE OF MAXINE ELLIOTT'S LEG

Actress Orders Pet's Teeth Removed.

JUAN-LES-PINS, France, April 15.—(AP)—Kiki, Maxine Elliott's pet monkey, bit her severely on the leg today while she was playing backgammon and lost all his teeth as a consequence.

The former American actress and New York theater owner was having a quiet game in the garden of her villa, Horizon, with Lady Castlerosse, Lady Patricia Russell, and Capt. Brock Bridgeman.

Kiki, who has a reputation on the Riviera as a bad actor, without warning seized Maxine's ankle in his paws and sank his teeth into the calf of her leg.

Says Wound Not Serious.

Maxine screamed. The women hurried indoors and Bridgeman grabbed Kiki by the tail.

A doctor hurried to the villa and cauterized the wound, which he said was not serious.

Maxine was furious. She ordered Kiki taken to Cannes to have all his teeth removed, hoping to put an end to the animal's depredations.

Bit Boy Last Year.

A year ago last January the monkey escaped from an automobile at Cannes and entered the revolving door of a hotel. After frightening a typist nearly out of her wits his unauthorized excursion ended in his biting the leg of John Moffett Jr. of New York, who was walking with his nurse in the rotunda.

Miss Elliott, recalling that King Alexander of Greece died in 1920 from a monkey bite, said she thought that immediate treatment had removed all danger in her own case.

Police Win Race with Death; Prevent Suicide

Police won a race with death yesterday when they arrived in time to prevent Mrs. Irma Cobden, 40 years old, 5663 Magnolia avenue, from ending her life by inhaling gas in her apartment. She is the wife of John J. Cobden, a house detective in a loop hotel. Yesterday she telephoned the hotel she had not seen her husband for a week, and that she intended to end her life. The hotel informed the police and a squad from the Summerdale police station found Mrs. Cobden unconscious. She was quickly revived.

ROOSEVELT TOLD CCC COST NATION 255 MILLIONS

Receives Report of First Year's Work.

Washington, D. C., April 15.—(AP)—President Roosevelt was told today that $255,000,000 was spent in giving employment to 600,000 young men during the first year of the Civilian Conservation corps.

Robert Fechner, director of emergency conservation work, reported to the chief executive that 310,000 would still be in forest camps at the end of April. Funds have appropriated to continue the program for another six months.

In adidtion to the enrolled men 14,000 experienced foresters and technical experts have supervised the work and 3,600 reserve officers have commanded the camps.

Reports of cabinet officers whose departments coöperated were filed with Fechner's. Secretary of War Dern said actual disbursements to March 1 had been $255,000,000, of which two-thirds has been poured directly into the channels of industry, commerce and agriculture to accelerate recovery. Men in the corps, Dern reported, sent home approximately $60,000,000 to aid their families.

Fire Losses Reduced.

Secretary of the Interior Ickes and Secretary of Agriculture Wallace emphasized the value of the program to the nation's forests and parks. Both asserted that the CCC workers had contributed to subsantial reductions in fire losses on the public domain.

"The fire record for 1933 is one of the best ever recorded for the national forests," Wallace reported. "Damage was held to approximately $325,000, which is less than 17 per cent of the annual fire loss during the previous five year period."

Wallace also said the corps had made possible the start of the first large, scale, mass attack on the white pine blister rust disease in the forests of the Pacific northwest where, he said, "the disease has continued to spread and wipe out the entire white pine lumber industry."

Another credit to be recorded, he said, was the planting of 72,000,000 trees during the year.

Aid National Park Plans.

Ickes reported that the forest workers had made possible the carrying out of plans for national parks which would have taken ten years to accomplish under normal circumstances.

Secretary of Labor Perkins praised the social phases of the work.

"During the years of the depression," she informed the President, "hundreds of thousands of young men arrived at working age and found all doors leading to employment locked against them. It is just such young men that emergency conservation work has been made available. . . .

"It is clear that no single attack upon unemployment of similar magnitude could have accomplished more good socially and economically or have aroused more widespread and deeply felt approval. It is a plan which does conserve the social resources of the nation."

U. S. CHURCH COUNCIL ASKS WORLD PROTEST AGAINST WAR THREATS

New York, April 15.—(AP)—Officers of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, in a pastoral letter, today appealed to Christian bodies of all nations to join in a crusade against war and preparations for war.

The letter declared that "the churches of Christ around the world should with all possible dispatch say to their respective governments that they cannot and will not give their moral support to war as a method of settling international difficulties, nor will they become a party to the mad race in armaments now in progress in so many parts of the world."

Joining with the council in the letter was the American section of the World Alliance for International Friendship through the American section of the Universal Christian council.

"We do not and will not subscribe to the discredited assumption that military force provides security against war," the letter said.

MacDonald and Daughter Visit King, Queen at Castle

WINDSOR, England, April 15.—(AP)—Prime Minister MacDonald, his daughter, Ishbel, Lord and Lady MacMillan and the Rev. William Temple, archbishop of York, were week-end guests of the king and queen at Windsor castle, where their majesties have been staying for the last ten days.

DAY AFTER DAY WOMAN KEEPS ON PROWLER'S TRAIL

Late Wednesday night Mrs. Gladys Sanders, 30 years old, a widow, was aroused in her eleventh floor apartment at 444 St. James place when she discovered a prowler in her room. She called for help and a few minutes later the hotel clerk responded. He took the prowler to the lobby, but the man escaped.

Saturday night Mrs. Sanders noticed the prowler she had seen in her room standing in front of the apartment hotel. She called a bellboy and asked him to follow the man. The bellboy trailed him to 2513½ North Clark street.

Last night Policemen Harold Hope, Robert Thomsen, and Edwin Johnson of the Sheffield avenue station went to that address and arrested Otto Schaffer, 26 years old, who described himself as a loop hotel clerk. Mrs. Sanders identified him as the prowler. He denied the charge, but is being held.

New York Alcohol Deaths Fall Off to 11 Year Low

Albany, N. Y., April 15.—[Special.]—The lowest mortality from alcoholism in eleven years, 4.3 per 100,000 population, was reported for February by the state department of health.

Good Driver
SAVED $27.23 on

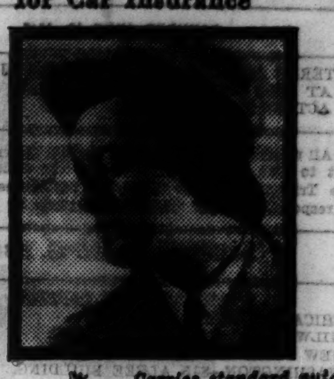
Bad Driver
PAYS $27.23 more
for Car Insurance

Drives Packard car. Lives in Chicago. Carries standard auto insurance. Saved $27.23 on 1933 insurance because he dealt direct with Liberty Mutual—"the company which will not insure dangerous drivers".



Carries standard auto insurance—same as the gentleman on the left. But he has to pay more for his car insurance because he is a dangerous driver and cannot buy insurance from Liberty Mutual.

YOU COULD HAVE SAVED up to $27.23 . . .
if you are a "good" driver

Two factors determine the cost and quality of your car insurance. First, the amount of losses which your automobile insurance company pays for accidents caused by policyholders. Second, the amount your insurance company pays to sell and handle policies.

You could have saved up to $27.23 of the yearly cost of your car insurance and received protection from one of the strongest insurance companies in America by dealing direct with Liberty.

Why pay a big sales commission year after year for placing your insurance when you can save time, trouble and money and get strong, sound protection by dealing direct with Liberty?

Why continue to pay for a lot of costly accidents, when you may place your insurance direct with Liberty—"the company which will not insure dangerous drivers".

Hundreds of responsible car-owners in Chicago save from $16.14 to $27.23 yearly on car insurance because Liberty has fewer claims to pay and because it sells direct.

In the ordinary company this wouldn't reduce the cost of your car insurance but Liberty is a strictly mutual company. The savings we make belong to our policyholders. After strengthening resources and surplus funds for the protection of policyholders, Liberty pays cash dividends to policyholders which reduce the cost of their insurance.

These dividends have amounted to at least 20%—one-fifth—of every premium paid by every policyholder every year for 22 years. Over $37,900,000 has been saved for policyholders, since organization of the company in 1912.

And, the same factors which have resulted in these large savings—direct selling and selection of policyholders—make Liberty one of the strongest insurance companies in the world. Resources and surplus have increased during each of the depression years. This means that Liberty provides unquestionable financial protection and will settle your accident losses promptly and fairly.

If you are a responsible, careful-driving car-owner, 'phone Superior 1582 or visit our office at 230 East Ohio St. Or mail the coupon below for the cost of insuring your car and an estimate of the saving you would have made by dealing direct with Liberty Mutual—the company which will not insure DANGEROUS DRIVERS.

CONSIDER THESE SAVINGS
made by car-owners last year on complete Personal Injury, Property Damage and Fire and Theft Insurance. These savings were made on new cars—old cars slightly less. Send coupon for exact quotation.

"The administration of government has become more complex. The opportunities for malfeasance and corruption have multiplied. Crime has grown to most serious proportions. And the danger of its protection by unfaithful officials, and of the impairment of the fundamental security of life and property by criminal alliances and official neglect, emphasize the primary need of a vigilant and courageous press, especially in great cities. The fact that the liberty of the press may be abused by miscreant purveyors of scandal does not make any the less necessary the immunity of the press from previous restraint in dealing with official misconduct." —Charles Evans Hughes.

UNCLE SAM GOES SHOPPING.

A dispatch from Washington says that Oil Administrator Harold L. Ickes has approved an order exempting bids on the navy's fuel oil supply from the requirements of the code for the oil industry. Other purchasers must buy at the posted price, but the government is going to get the benefit of truly competitive bidding.

No taxpayer can reasonably oppose this decision; it means a saving of money to the government and hence to the taxpayers. Citizens are left to marvel, however, at the government's inconsistency. It is essential, says the government, to permit the oil companies to enter into what used to be called price conspiracies at the expense of the purchasers. Unless these agreements are permitted there can be no recovery from the depression. The only customer excepted is the United States government, which is by far the largest of all.

Mr. Ickes previously worked himself into a lather because the cement companies refused to bid competitively on the government's contracts, although Gen. Johnson insists that competitive bidding must be abandoned. Mr. Farley waited until Mr. Roosevelt had demanded shorter working hours and higher pay for the employés of industry generally before laying off thousands of postal clerks.

The government's motto is, "Do as we say; don't do as we do." The government's behavior in these matters is hypocritical, of course, but it would be a mistake to draw no other conclusion from these incidents. The government is hypocritical, but it is also naïve, and its naïveté is far more damaging to the country than its hypocrisies.

As a conscientious public servant Mr. Ickes recognizes that it is wrong to make the taxpayers contribute a penny more than necessary to obtain the navy's oil. Therefore he insists on competitive bidding. He and his associates in the government do not realize that the attitude he assumes toward the expenditure of public funds has its counterpart in the mind of every citizen who goes out to buy anything. The individual who is spending his own money is certainly no less intent upon getting the most for it than is the government official who is spending other people's money. Every one, as a matter of common sense, tries to buy as cheaply as he can. Mr. Ickes suspects that rigged prices are needlessly high prices and so does every other mature buyer in the United States.

That is one reason why price agreements generally break down. The other reason is that some sellers can always undercut the fixed price [which is fixed to give a profit to the least efficient producer] and will do so to get the business. Price agreements entered into for the purpose of stabilizing business are destined to be assaulted from two directions at once, and when they break they cause serious disorganization of markets. When agreements are undermined every producer becomes convinced that every competitor is an outlaw and treats him accordingly. Such results as are now visible in the Chicago milk distributing business appear and a long time must elapse, as a rule, before the normal decencies of competitive business are restored.

A WORLD'S FAIR IN FACT.

It was the popularity of the Belgian village and similar attractions of A Century of Progress Exposition of 1933 that promises to make the Exposition of 1934 a World's Fair in a very real sense. Direct from the Administration building in the grounds of the colorful Exposition city by the lake comes the word that this year there will be fourteen villages, thirteen of them of the foreign type featured so successfully last year by the Belgian village.

Carried over from 1933 will be the Belgian village, already familiar to thousands; the Streets of Paris, in new dress and offering new delights; the Midget village; and the Moroccan village, under the new title of the Oasis. In addition there will be the Irish village, inclosed by a Norman wall, and presenting, among other attractions, the leaning tower of Gort in Galway and the shrine of St. Dolough; the Italian village, its entrance a reproduction of the famous gate of the walled town of Signa; the American Colonial village, with Mount Vernon, the old North church of Boston, and other historic structures in reproduction; the Swiss village; the Dutch village; the Tunisian village; the Old English village; the Spanish village; the Mexican village; the Black Forest village; and the Streets of Shanghai.

Thirteen separate and distinct countries in miniature, representing four of the world's six continents, therefore, will be in readiness to instruct and entertain visitors when the Fair reopens late next month. In other words, with a little imagination it will be possible to make a complete trip around the world within the grounds of the Exposition and within the space of a few brief hours.

THE PROBLEM OF DEGENERACY.

Superintendent of Schools Bogan has been inspired by the Zietlow tragedy to form a committee of nine leading psychiatrists to make recommendations for improving the method of dealing with abnormal or subnormal children. This step will be welcomed even by citizens whose memory of similar efforts does not give them much hope of early and practical results. From time to time crimes like the Zietlow case horrify the community, and we have a flurry of protest and proposals of reform. Little has resulted, and it is not in lack of appreciation of the scope and difficulty of the subject that we suggest that more might have been accomplished if less had been attempted, or at any rate proposed.

This is not to say that comprehensive reform should not be laid out by competent men. But public feeling, upon which the accomplishment of legislative and administrative changes largely depends, is unhappily of brief duration, and every program of adequate scope, if it is really to get anywhere, must be taken almost step by step. This is irksome to the impatient theorist and ardent humanitarian, but it is an imperative condition of progress.

We hope therefore that the recommendations of the new committee will include not merely a general scheme but some practical proposals which can be concentrated upon for immediate results. Some concrete betterments actually accomplished will do more to keep public interest alive and thus insure further progress than any effort to create by exhortation a public sentiment strong and persistent enough to carry through a comprehensive plan.

No doubt this sentiment ought to exist, for the facts respecting degeneracy are appalling. But public knowledge of them is scant, and such publicity as has been given them from time to time is soon forgotten. Meanwhile sentimentality has been turned into a murderous racket, distorting the proper application of parole, weakening or preventing the establishment of adequate safeguards for the normal and innocent part of our communities. Dangerous defectives, as Mr. Loesch indignantly and justly protests, are treated with too much leniency in so-called humanitarian courts.

The spectacular crimes warn us often, but they are only one and perhaps the least important aspect of the evil, which is said to be increasing and threatens the health and sanity of modern nations, including our own. While we are quarreling over political and economic forms we would do better to give more heed to this undermining of the foundation of civilized society.

Editorial of the Day

[Pulaski Enterprise, Mound City, Ill.]

As time goes along we are losing all hopes that any real or permanent good is coming out of much of this New Deal and other such legislation. We were skeptical about such things, for we have never thought that legislation brought about the depression nor have we thought that legislation could cure it. There are some things law cannot do, and among them is this business of curing and repairing an economic machine which has developed over hundreds of years and which wrecked itself by its overexpansion of credit and overdoing this thing we call prosperity. It may help it to cure itself, but really curing it, that is out of the question.

We are coming to a close of the CWA. We call it a crime. Possibly it should be called a high crime and misdemeanor. Not that we do not believe that a government should keep its people from freezing and starving, for we assuredly believe that, but that it was a wasted effort.

We have spent three billions. Those three billions gave business a slight boost, but they gave the public very few really worthwhile results. We have decorated and engraved the roads, moved tons of dirt, swept leaves, dug ditches, raked sides of the roads and done a whole lot of things.

And what do we find? No one is much better off. More are on relief now than before. The CWA men will have to go back on relief. Industry did not pick up very much. Men were merely fed—and a lot of useless labor done. There are a few exceptions to this. Some of the projects really had merit.

The absorption in industry has come through job-splitting, which was nothing more than hour cutting. That has taken up men and given employment to more than before. Only one criticism there. They split the jobs of the $20 a week man and then let the men who really could afford to share his hours go scot-free.

We think the CWA little less than a crime. Men were chosen to work through friendship, relationship, and through politics. Merit was a second consideration. Chaps with families who needed it were sometimes passed up. We know a man who got $90 a month pension from the government sent out as a time-keeper at Marion, Ill.

This was not true in all counties, but this business of friendship played too important a part, and politics, and lots of it, crept in at places.

We have closed a great experiment. We predict that it will not be repeated. We hope that the next experiments that are performed will be with the idea of making men self-supporting, and if it is going to be handed out—lend it to industry to build and manufacture things which are necessities—and give them away, if it has to be done. People will then have something for their money—and not hand engraved ditches and roads.

We are going to restore pensions and pay cuts. As an ex-service man we are more than familiar with corrupt pensions. Hell will be paved with lies veterans have told to get dollars from Uncle Sam.

Roosevelt whacked off nonservice cases. He was right in 90 out of 100 times in doing it. He is right in not wanting them restored in blanket. But had he established a reëxamination of pensioners and cut off 90 per cent of the nonservice cases he would have about hit the correct mark and the truth. He cut off some who had claims of almost complete physical disability—and one error brings heavy criticism.

First one error and then another, so we think. And who are we? Well, just one small, warty potato.

TOO MANY THINGS FOR HIM.

Subbubs and his wife went into a clothing store to look at some overcoats. The first one he tried on she liked and said they would take. "But, really, Margaret, it's much too big for me," he protested.

"I know, my dear," she returned, "but we can't help that. You must remember it's got to cover the radiator of the car in cold weather. We have to consider that first, haven't we?"—New Haven Register.

IN THE DAYS TO COME.

(After Congress and the Brain Trust get the Soak the Rich Movement fully started.)

AT ONE PLACE.

ONE INDIVIDUAL TO ANOTHER—"You're a rich man."

THE OTHER MAN—"You should be ashamed to use language like that. It's a lie and you know it!"

SCENE II.

JOVIAL MAN TO SAD FACED FRIEND—"Well, what should you care about taxes; you're a rich man——"

SAD FACED FRIEND—"Stop! Be careful what you say! That's a fighting word where I come from!"

SCENE III.

IN A COURTROOM (lawyer for the plaintiff speaking)—"And we will prove, gentlemen of the jury, that the defendant in this case did cruelly libel the plaintiff and wrong him in a way that should not be permitted in a civilized community. We have plenty of reputable witnesses who will testify that the defendant actually walked up to the plaintiff and said, 'You're rich——'"

DEFENDANT (excitedly interrupting)—"I didn't say that. I said, 'You've got the itch——'"

PLAINTIFF (jumping from his seat)—"Oh, well, in that case I withdraw this suit. I thought he insulted me."

ELECTION SCENE.

CANDIDATE FOR OFFICE (speaking at mass-meeting)—"And I could prove that my rival for this high office to which I expect to be elected is a barn burner; that he eats bananas on the street and throws the skins on the sidewalks. I could show you that he looted a widows and orphans' trust fund; that he is a hit-and-run driver, crashing blindly and madly down the most crowded streets. I could prove to you that he took a tack hammer and opened his innocent little children's bank. I could prove that he cracks peanuts at the movies and eats them with a horrible crunching sound during the most absorbing love scenes. But no, I won't go into all that. I will simply say—and I say it without rancor and without malice, and calmly and deliberately, and only because it is the terrible truth—my opponent for this office is—a—rich—man!"

[Terrific applause and cheers for the speaker, mingled with cries of "That's enough!" "You're elected right now!" while the band plays "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."]

‡

THE LAST SPRING.

And shall I know the last fair Spring of all
That comes to quicken into life the earth,
And raise again my heart to that far call

Shall I not note a difference in the air,
A sweeter tang perhaps from other climes?
Not feel the redbird's song too full to bear?
The flowers more lovely than at other times?

Shall not each sound and scent, to me, foretell
That Spring, beloved Spring, bids me farewell?

Kate Haworth.

‡

AND AGAIN WE ARE CONFRONTED with the shameful spectacle of a great, uncontrollable mob at a funeral tearing each other's clothes and fighting for the poor little flowers on top of the coffin. Anyhow, I hope that when I've crossed the great river what's left of me will be silently whisked away at night to somebody's crematory and consigned to the kindly flames. But if they keep on having three-ringed circuses and a general free-for-all fight at funerals darned if I don't stick around on this earth for a good many years and keep 'em waiting till they get sick and tired.

‡

AND IT ISN'T THAT WE DREAD the coming of spring. It's the silly nudists that make us apprehensive. They spoil the landscape.

‡

"I'M A TOUGH GUY," says Franklin Delano; "come down and see me." Which is all right with us; we know what he means (or we think we do), but dear, dear, how are they going to translate that sentence over in London so that English readers will understand it? Probably like this: "I am really a most dreadful chap—oh, quite!" said Mr. Roosevelt, the President of the United States of America, to the members of congress who greeted him in Washington upon his return from his fishing trip; "you must all come over and call on me, and if you don't do what I say I'll jolly well prove it. And that's that!

‡

WHAT THE DAWN FOUND.

The short tinseled costume
Droops in tired abandon on a chair.
The small toe slippers smile sleepily
In the light of day.
They are not misled by sunshine,
Who have known
The gay blaze of cornet, the golden clash
Of cymbals, the silver of flute,
The tap of drum.
Come! Come! They seem to say
In a drowsy sort of way,
Where are the twelve year old feet?
. . . She is asleep . . .
Her sweet childish mouth,
Still outlined in garish red.
The dawn must have laughed
To look upon her bed,
To find beside her strong young body
And sophisticated charms,
A baby doll . . . hugged close in her arms!

A HAZARD IN REDUCING.

THERE is considerable interest in dinitrophenol as an agent for reducing. It was noticed that some men working in the manufacture of munitions lost all of their excess poundage. It became a matter of common information among the employés of munitions plants. Finally it was determined that dinitrophenol was the substance which was responsible. Clinical study showed this was much the most effective medicine for weight reduction, but that it was also the most dangerous.

Drs. Wasserman and Goldsmith add a further study to the same effect. They tell of its use in 18 obese people who were sluggish, apathetic, and passive. The remedy is unquestionably both effective and dangerous. They report: "The remedy is, therefore, unpredictably toxic to some patients, but its careful administration may be of empirical benefit."

This means that it is dangerous and it may cause death, and there is no way of knowing in advance whether it will harm a given person. No physician can look over a group of fat persons and say dinitrophenol will be dangerous for this one and safe for that one. He can only know where the rocks are by hitting them. However, if a case under medical supervision and control hits one of these rocks, the medical attendant should be able to patch the hole or beach the ship before she is lost. If a person is taking it on his own he may not be more apt to hit a rock, but if he does his chance of sinking in deep water is great. It is a dangerous method of reducing.

The symptoms that indicate impending trouble are: Fall in blood pressure; rapid, nervous pulse and sometimes irregular pulse; acidosis, and stupor.

Dinitrophenol probably causes loss of weight by increasing oxidation. More oxygen is absorbed by the blood and used by the tissues. In other words, it causes the life fires to burn brighter. Therefore it generally overcomes mental sluggishness and apathy at the same time that it brings about loss in weight.

This physiological action is similar to that of thyroid. Dinitrophenol, therefore, seems to act as a reducing agent somewhat in the same way that thyroid acts. It is more efficient and also more dangerous, but the difference is comparative. Thyroid is somewhat efficient and somewhat dangerous.

"LOOKING OVER HEAD."

Mrs. J. L. G. writes:

1. Is it injurious to a baby to look over his head a great deal? Would this cause his eyes to be red and swollen underneath?

2. Does it help a baby to put tape on his ears to make them grow close to his head?

3. Is corn sirup good for a baby?

REPLY.

1. Much depends on the baby's age and what kind of "looking" you refer to. Young babies are farsighted and various parental antics throw some strain on the eyes of young babies.

2. Sometimes it does. In some cases outstanding ears can be trained back in that way. Making use of a knit cap that holds the ears against the head is a better method for most cases.

3. It is when properly used.

PUFFS UNDER THE EYES.

A. D. K. writes: What causes puffs under the eyes all of the time? Ever since I can remember I have had these bags and, although they cause me no discomfort and are apparently harmless, they certainly are not very becoming to one's looks. I am desirous of getting rid of them, if possible.

They are not due to dissipation in any sense of the word. Nor are they due to lack of sleep, although they are more pronounced when I have not had sufficient sleep. My health is good.

REPLY.

Some form of Bright's disease is the most important cause. Local acidosis is the most frequent cause. Dissipation and lack of sleep are sometimes contributing causes.

I cannot guess the reason in your case.

PURPLE SPOTS.

G. H. S. writes: On Christmas morning I broke out with a red rash which the doctor said was measles. This lasted for six weeks. I had a slight fever and felt a little weak. After the eruption disappeared it left purple spots on my arms, which appear to be under the skin. Sometimes a rash breaks out, but it leaves again in a few minutes. What do you think this is?

REPLY.

RAYNAUD'S.

G. S. writes: What is Raynaud's disease?

REPLY.

It is a disease of the vascular apparatus of some part, such as a toe, finger, ear, or nose, which makes the part very sensitive to cold. It often results in dry gangrene.

TAX FORFEITURE.

Chicago, April 10.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—We have two vacant lots in mind that have been forfeited, and not being able to get a job figured on using the lots for planting vegetables and raising poultry. 1. Can we use same temporarily? 2. To whom must we apply? 3. These lots are in Chicago.

H. G. B.

1. The tax forfeiture is in substance merely a cloud on the title. It does not completely deprive the previous owner of his rights. You are in a better position than we are to estimate the chances he will object.

2. To the owner.

3. No question asked.

BRIDGE TENDER'S JOB.

Chicago, April 12.—[Friend of the People.]—Please tell me when the next examination will be held for bridge tender. Is there any age limit and when will applications be on hand so that I may secure one?

E. W.

I wish to inform you that an examination was recently held for bridge tender and I cannot state at this time when another will be held. There is no maximum age limit for this examination. The minimum age required is 21 years.

We have placed the name of your correspondent on our mailing list for notification of this examination when called.

FROM ACROSS THE SEA

BY HAROLD TATAM.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUENOS AIRES.—Whether he is a benevolently governed and petted child of fortune, or an ill-used victim of currency depreciation and high tarifs is what the Argentine man-in-the-street is now trying to discover. His mentors are divided in opinion on the matter.

Government spokesmen have impressed upon him the incalculable good that recent measures have done him. They tell him that the 20 per cent cut in the gold value of the peso has encouraged languishing businesses to keep going and so provide him with employment, that the government guarantee of a minimum price for grain has put money in the pockets of the farmers, who in turn spend it in the cities, and that prime necessities such as meat and bread cost him no more than formerly.

In short, he is lucky in comparison with the inhabitants of less favored lands, according to these spokesmen.

On the other hand, the government's critics feel sorry for him. They tell him that his savings bank account, his life insurance policy and his stock and bond investments have been cut in value by 20 per cent, that his grocer's bill for eating oil, cereal foods, table condiments has increased by 35 per cent, his tailor's bill 30 per cent, and most anything else from 10 to 20 per cent.

They remind him that such tarif increases figured in pesos, as the following taken at hazard, combine to make the cost of living higher than it used to be and more than it ought to be:

	Duty in 1930.	Duty in 1934.
Rice, per 100 *kilos	0.91	16.30
Eating oil, per 100 kilos	18.40	38.73
Dates, per 100 kilos	18.77	43.22
Olives, per 100 kilos	11.06	20.38
Beans, per 100 kilos	Free	11.63
Lentils, per 100 kilos	Free	12.20
Sewing cotton, per 100 kilos	11.36	152.72
Cotton blankets, per 100 kilos	72.73	194.90
Needles, per 100 kilos	Free	152.72
Bombasi, per 100 kilos	45.45	152.72

And they then remind him that his wages have not been increased, but that on the contrary in many cases he has suffered a severe cut. These, they say, are only a small part of the disabilities under which he lives and labors.

The unprejudiced foreign observer is inclined to think that the lot of his Argentine friend is not so black as painted by the critics, or quite so rosy as his rulers allege. The observer sees him obliged to pay through the nose for many of his necessities such as suits, shoes and shirts in order that home industries shall flourish. But again on the other hand his bread, butter, meat, and milk are cheap.

Lest the views of the critics should gain too much publicity abroad at the expense of the true word, Finance Minister Pinedo recently summoned foreign press correspondents to hear an exposition of the aims of government measures and the success which, he said, had attended them. He devoted considerable time to scoring the highly critical editorials of that stout advocate of orthodox finance La Prensa, which hunts chinks that may exist in protectionist armor or tries to detect the weak spots in hastily devised measures such as the recent auction of foreign exchange.

DEPRESSION MARRIAGES.

Rock Island, Ill., April 12.—Articles like that written by Dr. Meltzer in the Voice of the People of April 8 present but one side of the story of depression marriages. I am single, 24 years old, and had the misfortune to meet my future wife in the bad year of 1930. We both had high ideals of married life and realized the necessity of having enough money to live on. We had faith in ourselves and in our country, faith which has taken quite a tumble in the last four years. The idea of living off the government never entered our thoughts then, nor does it now.

The period between 1930 and 1934 saw the sapping of the morale of single men. When they applied for a job the first question asked was whether they were married, and if a negative answer was given their applications were thrown out. I was laid off in the winter of 1932 because I was single, being one of those persons who refused to get married on a $10 a week income. I have not been able to find work since. Before any city or government would give out a contract they stipulated that men on relief rolls were to be used for labor. The CWA would not consider an unmarried man. Just what was a single fellow supposed to do, anyway? You couldn't even enroll in the CCC unless your parents needed aid.

A young couple who take a chance on getting married in the face of these conditions should be admired for their courage. They do not marry with the expectation of being supported by the government. They are normal people like my girl and myself, who are disgusted with the apparently hopeless future. Why should we have to wait until middle age before we can enjoy the happiness of a normal married life? My ideas on this subject have changed considerably the last few years. An income of $15 a week, a minimum which the codes make it impossible to overcome, is insufficient to get married on when a couple has no way of buying furniture except from the income.

My hat is off to any young couple willing to start in during a depression, and if I had a job of any kind I would throw my ideals of married life out the window and join them with pleasure.

Boyd McIntire.

PROTECTING THE INVESTOR.

Albion, Mich., April 13.—Your editorial of today, "Referred to the Grand Jury," is all right as far as it goes, but the men you are scolding for selling these bonds must have acted with the full approval of the burocrats in the security commission under your blue sky law. Why make the sellers the goat? Line up the political burocrat racketeers who helped put over this racket or you will be unwittingly playing into the hands of the New Dealers who forbid the laying of unholy hands on any burocrat. When Insull returns you will have another opportunity to hit at burocracy in security commissions and like places.

Carl A. Ross.

THE HOLC.

Chicago, April 8.—Why does The Tribune insist on printing what Mr. Zander of the HOLC intends to do? My experience has convinced me that things are worse despite the fact that they have a great deal of additional space and hundreds of employés. Action! A reasonable amount of speed, is that too much to ask? Is it the policy of The Tribune to support and boost a man, deserving or not?

M. C.

CRITICISM.

Chicago, April 11. — The extremes to which your paper has gone in its crude partisan attacks on the New Deal prompts me to take up my pen in protest. The campaign you have carried on against the brain trust by means of absurd and ridiculous cartoons was climaxed by your recent grotesque picture of Thomas Jefferson seated uncomfortably at a banquet table surrounded by university professors, who were distorted into leering idiots by your cartoonist's pen. You indicate that Jefferson would have been ill at ease with the present brain trust. Perhaps your cartoonist could not be expected to know what any high school pupil knows, that Thomas Jefferson was responsible for the founding of the University of Virginia and would have been very much at home in such an atmosphere of culture. And perhaps your Don Quixote, the distinguished Dr. Wirt, does not recall or never learned that it was Thomas Jefferson who said in substance that the tree of liberty would only flourish when its roots were moistened with the blood of an occasional revolution. Perhaps Dr. Wirt might start a campaign to have all reference to Thomas Jefferson stricken from American histories with the thought that if many people have no more sense of balance, perspective, and humor than he, it will be dangerous to have them read about such a man.

If you want to attack the New Deal intelligently, scientifically, and on its merits, do so. I protest, however, against your attempt to do so by means of calling your opponents names, tagging them as Socialists or communists, and jibing at them with your silly cartoons. Such tactics reflect a position which cannot be justified on its merits, and therefore necessitates a resort to such methods. It may be presumed that some of your readers are possessed of a degree of intelligence. Don't insult it!

Robert T. McKinlay.

AFTER THE WIRT INQUIRY.

Chicago, April 13.—Straightforward men in private life whose conduct is assailed and honest and sincere men in public life whose official conduct and public policies are challenged are as a rule not only willing but anxious to hurry to a defense.

The opposite rule seems to have been followed in the Wirt whitewash by the congressmen on the investigating committee, and instead of explaining or answering their critics, the defenders of the brain trust in Washington shouted their outrageous charges against Wirt and McGugin. Everything in the Wirt charges it would seem is very ably supported by the public speeches and writings of Wallace, Tugwell, Richberg et al., and the people of this country are entitled to know what they mean and where we are being taken.

Joseph Turley.

PENALIZING THE TAXPAYERS.

Chicago, April 8.—Concerning the 15 per cent cut in the 1931 taxes, I fail to see where those who are not included have any complaint. The fight for a lowering of real estate taxes was not won by those who rushed to the collector's office in order to pay before a penny of penalty was added to their bill. If the rest of us had done likewise no lowering would have been made and the chances are we would be paying higher taxes. We who held off and are willing to pay a penalty should rightfully be the only ones to benefit. To the victor belongs the spoils.

V. E. McDowell.

Schedules Revised for Summer Months.

Shortening of travel time between Chicago, New York and other cities was announced yesterday by the New York Central Lines. The new schedules are to be effective April 29 when daylight saving time is to be resumed by the principal cities served by the lines.

The schedule of the Twentieth Century Limited will remain at 17 hours and 45 minutes, but will be adjusted one hour to conform to daylight saving time. The Century will continue to arrive at each terminal in time for the business day at 9 a. m. daylight saving time.

With the operation of the new schedules the Century and practically all through trains between Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis, and New York will be air conditioned.

Cut Time 45 Minutes.

The schedule of the Commodore Vanderbilt of the New York Central railroad will be cut 45 minutes. It will leave the La Salle Street station at 3:05 p. m. C. S. T. and arrive in New York at 12:15 p. m. E. S. T. the next day.

The Exposition Flyer from New York, via the Michigan Central railroad, will cut 20 minutes from its running time. It will leave New York at 12:50 p. m. E. S. T. and arrive at the Central station, at the foot of Roosevelt road at 8 a. m. standard time.

The Iroquois of the Michigan Central railroad is to be made a 20 hour train. It will leave New York at 10:30 p. m. and arrive here 5:30 p. m. standard time.

Cut Schedule of Mohawk.

The schedule of the Mohawk of the New York Central will be cut one hour. It will leave New York at 11 a. m. as at present, but will arrive here at 7:40 a. m., an hour earlier than at present.

The Wolverine of the Michigan Central railroad will leave Chicago at 11:30 a. m., instead of noon, for Detroit, Buffalo, and Boston, and will arrive in New York at 9 a. m., instead of 9:30 a. m. eastern standard time. The Motor City will arrive from Detroit daily at 6:55 a. m. instead of 7:20 a. m. standard time.

IOWA EXTENDS LIQUOR CONTROL; STATE WILL SELL

Store System Starts on June 1.

Des Moines, Ia., April 15.—[Special.]—The Iowa liquor commission has started to bring the liquor traffic under strict control, pending the opening of the state store system on June 1.

Orders were issued to all railroads, trucking companies, and other common carriers demanding that they report to the commission all shipments of liquor carrying more than 4 per cent of alcohol by weight. The commission further forbade the carriers from shipping such liquor into the state, except to licensed wholesalers or druggists.

The object of the order is to check the flow of liquor into Iowa. That flow has now reached proportions far beyond the ordinary medicinal need, according to W. H. Millhaem, assistant chairman of the commission. All shipments to druggists will be compared with a report of shipments required during the last several months to judge how much of the new shipments shall be passed as for medicinal purposes.

He came to Chicago 45 years ago from Sauk City, Wis. He received his medical education at the University of Wisconsin and the Rush Medical college, Chicago.

Dr. Naffz, a bachelor, is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Eugene Bruning of New York and Theckla and Ella Neffz of Sauk City; and two brothers, Gustav of Sauk City and Charles Naffz of Madison, Wis. Funeral services will be announced later. Burial will be in Sauk City.

TURKEY'S ENVOY TO BERLIN DIES AFTER OPERATION

BERLIN, April 15.—(AP)—Gen. Kemalettin Sami Pasha, Turkish ambassador to Germany, died today after a stomach operation. He was 49. He was 17 times wounded in the world war, and at the time of the armistice headed the black list of the little entente.

He escaped from Istanbul disguised as a coal trimmer aboard an Italian ship.

Mustapha Kemal, Turkish dictator, a personal friend of the general's, appointed him ambassador to Berlin in 1925, where he officiated excepting for intervals of military service against Kurdish insurgents, until his death. He married Princess Emineh of Egypt.

BYRD CALLS ISOLATION NEAR THE SOUTH POLE PEARL OF TRANQUILITY

LITTLE AMERICA, Antarctica, April 15.—[Via Mackay Radio.]—(AP)—From this ice-sheathed area, where winter is setting in, the second Byrd Antarctic expedition today put on a broadcast to London, where spring has taken command. From a drift covered shack members of the expedition talked nearly half way around the world—some 11,000 miles.

A message written by Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd in which he said perils of his isolation south of the base in conducting meteorological observations were greatly exaggerated was read. Tranquility is "a pearl of great price," the commander asserted.

Days in the Antarctic are shortening, the admiral's message said, reporting that men and dogs, busily engaged in moving stores "are pounding the trails hauling the boxes in a race against darkness." The temperature today was 36 degrees below zero. Darkness will set in April 19 and will continue until Aug. 21.

Antoinette Donnelly Tells How Noted Beauties Keep Charm

What Movies Shall We See? Read Mae Tinee's Advice

BY JUDITH CASS.

"MR. AND MRS. FREDERICK KENDALL LAWRENCE announce the engagement of their daughter, Jane, to Otto F. Schulz, son of Mrs. Otto Schulz," is the interesting announcement we have the pleasure of making this morning. It is not, however, startling news, for the engagement of these popular young persons long has been rumored among their friends. Mr. Schulz has been a devoted beau of the Lawrences' eldest daughter for more than a year.

Miss Lawrence, who made her début at a luncheon at the Blackstone in 1930 with her younger sister, Miss Mildred Lawrence, attended Miss Beard's school and Smith college. Miss Barbara Lawrence, the youngest of the Lawrences' three daughters, was a débutante of the last season.

Mr. Schulz was graduated from Princeton university in 1923. He was best man for his brother, George H. Schulz, when the latter was married to Mary Dawes, daughter of the Henry M. Daweses, last September. Miss Lawrence and Mr. Schulz plan to be married in October.

Miss Bennett's School Alumnae Meet Today.

The alumnae of Miss Bennett's school at Millbrook, N. Y., are meeting this noon at the Woman's Athletic club for their tri-weekly luncheon. While the alumnae members have been doing a good deal of work to raise money for scholarships for the school they are not banded together into an organization with officers and a board. Among those who will be at the luncheon today are Miss Frances Weary, Mrs. William R. Abbott Jr. [Barbara Cox], Miss Katherine Healy, Miss Grace Fitzmorris, and Miss Veronese Beatty. The alumnae are not planning any active work for the scholarship fund this summer, but they have several interesting plans for next fall.

Exhibit New Yale Decorations Today.

Yale alumni and educators as well as decorators and architects are much interested in the exhibition of the work recently completed by a New York firm in the new residential colleges at Yale university to be held in William R. Moore's studio at 40 Bellevue place this week. There is to be a private showing for these Yale men and their wives and other college groups and educators today from 4 until 6 o'clock, and another private view tomorrow at the same hours for members of the Illinois chapter of the American Institute of Decorators and Architects. Mrs. Charles H. Morse, Mrs. John F. Jelke, Mrs. Donald R. Wegg, and Mrs. Theodore Proxmire will pour this afternoon, and Mrs. Ralph Small, Miss Cornelia Conger, Miss Anne Forrester, and Mrs. Alberta Barnes Beale will pour tomorrow.

The exhibit will be open to the public from Wednesday through Saturday.

Meet Elisabeth Rethberg at Luncheon Tomorrow.

It is with more than a little interest that a dozen society folk have accepted the luncheon invitation of Carleton Smith for tomorrow at the Arts club. Mr. Smith is to have as his very special guest Elisabeth Rethberg, who arrives tomorrow morning from St. Louis. It is Mme. Rethberg whom Toscanini has just chosen to sing a cantata of Bach's at the last of the New York Philharmonic concerts in another two weeks, and such an invitation is always considered one of the most outstanding recognitions that can be bestowed by the New York musical world. Charles Wakefield Cadman, Mrs. Frederick Stock, Mrs. Walter P. Paepcke, Mrs. James L. Houghteling, Miss Janet Fairbank, Mrs. Byron S. Harvey, Mrs. John R. Winterbotham Jr., and Arthur Bissell are some of those who have been invited by Mr. Smith to meet Mme. Rethberg tomorrow.

Grove House Board Plans Sale Tomorrow.

Mrs. Morris K. Wilson has invited a half dozen members of the board of the Grove House for Convalescents to her Winnetka home tomorrow for the sole purpose of working. She has asked them to assist her with the collection of shoes, everything from ballroom sandals to boudoir slippers, for the white elephant sale this philanthropy is having April 26 at 517 Davis street in Evanston.

The first plans for the sale were made the other afternoon at a tea at the town apartment of Mrs. Howard W. Fenton, who is the most recent member to be added to the Grove House board. At this time each member was assigned a duty which is sure to result in a veritable mine of bargains on the 26th.

Mrs. Frederic S. Colburn is the board president and Mrs. John M. Butler is the sale chairman, assisted by Mrs. Porter Allen. Other board members are Mrs. James L. Houghteling, whose family was largely responsible for the founding of Grove house; Mrs. Arthur T. Galt, Mrs. Robert T. Sherman, Mrs. Charles H. Mordock, and Mrs. Arch W. Shaw.

Opera Box Committee to Meet Thursday.

With a sun tan that might be the envy of any feminine heart, Mrs. Bartholomay Osborne has returned from a West Indies cruise and plunged immediately into the details of another Chicago grand opera season. She has invited the members of her opera box committee—the same as last winter with a few additions—for luncheon at 12:30 Thursday at the Electric club.

And at this time she expects to tell the definite plans for the opening of opera in the fall since there is to be

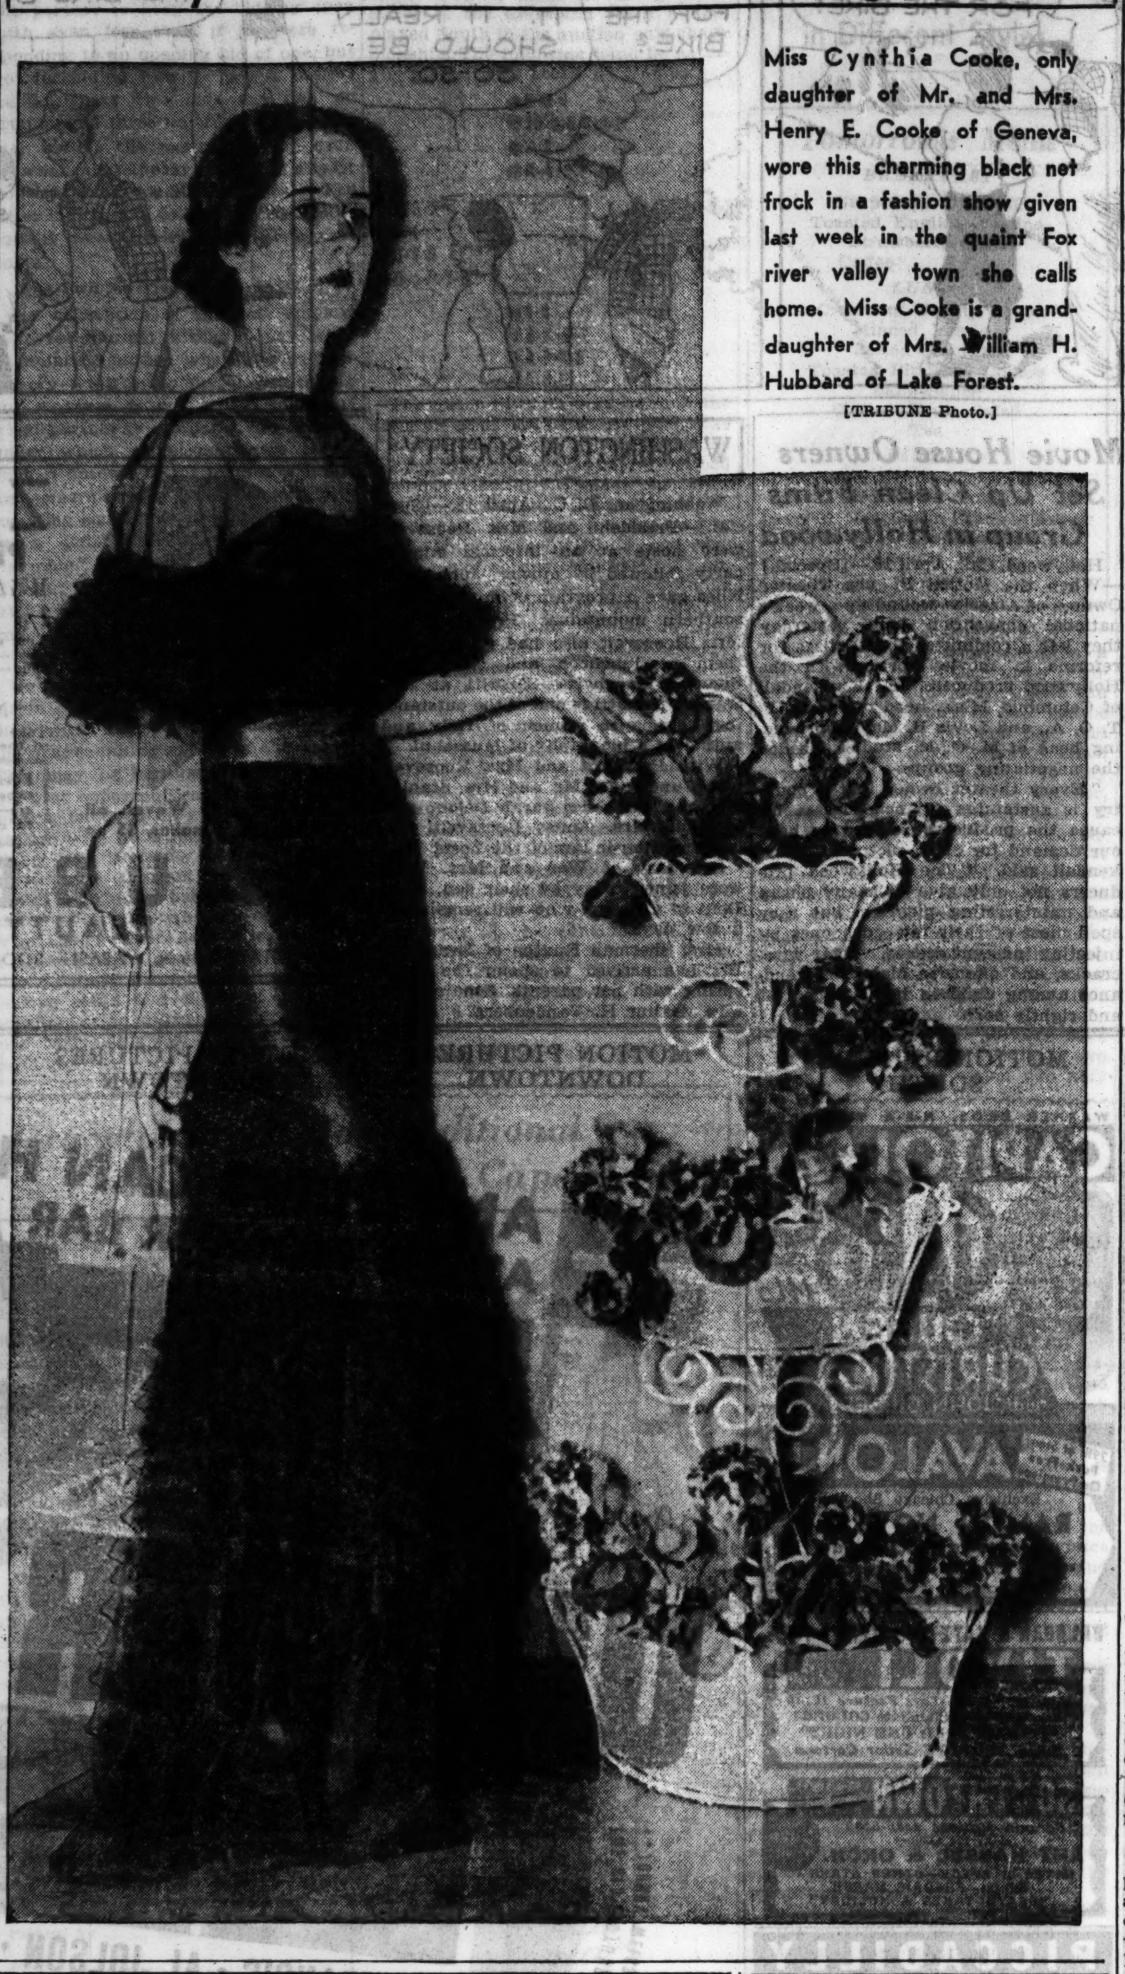
Lovely Model in Charming Frock



Miss Cynthia Cooke, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Cooke of Geneva, wore this charming black net frock in a fashion show given last week in the quaint Fox river valley town she calls home. Miss Cooke is a granddaughter of Mrs. William H. Hubbard of Lake Forest.

Good Morning!

KIND: Drama of family life.

QUALITY: Fair.

ACTING: Excellent.

DIRECTION: Clumsy.

DIALOG: Spotty.

PHOTOGRAPHY, STAGING, SOUND, etc: All right.

REMARKS: Despite the wooden fashion in which the characters were compelled to act and deliver their lines, the film doesn't utterly bore you. And the reason that it doesn't is that the members of the cast are interesting in themselves, entirely aside from their characterizations. You realize what they COULD have made of the piece had they only been given a chance.

See you tomorrow.

Ceska Beseda Juniors.

The Ceska Beseda Juniors will present a three act farce, "It Won't Be Long Now," by Milton H. Gropper, at the clubhouse at 3659 Douglas boulevard Wednesday evening.

Cellist and Dancer Wed, Engagement Party Is Told

Daniel Saidenberg, principal cellist of the Chicago Symphony orchestra, and Eleanore Block, well known Chicago dancer, gave their friends a surprise yesterday afternoon. Assembling at Miss Block's home, 357 Fullerton parkway, in the expectation of receiving the announcement of the couple's engagement, the guests were informed instead that they had been married shortly before.

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

The Studebaker theater, which entertains hopes of stimulating interest in the drama by offering it at prices which compete with the cinema halls, staged a comedy by the late Avery Hopwood last night under the title of "Affections, Ltd." It was one of the minor works of the author of such pre-war impertinences as "Fair and Warmer" and "Getting Gertie's Garter," and I fail to remember it, although I have been told that its original title was "The Alarm Clock." It is, therefore, apparently new to Chicago's down-town theater-goers.

"Affections, Ltd." belongs to the period when the "shimmy" was having its vogue. This form of low-life cabaret dancing is so firmly imbedded in the plot that it cannot be removed by modern retouching of the dialog. The plot itself belongs to the French school of farcical comedy founded by Labiche, and Meilhac and Halevy, and therefore might easily be almost a hundred years old. I submit these evidences of age merely to point out the fact that "Affections, Ltd." is a fairly smooth and workable theatrical mechanism for the provocation of laughter among the popular-priced audiences. The guffaws at last night's performance were frequent and sincere.

The story deals with a frisky New York bachelor of middle age and his country relatives who descend upon him en masse for a protracted visit. The fat and dowdy mamma swiftly succumbs to the infections of Manhattan life, and becomes a cocktail drinking shimmy shaker at the night clubs. Our bachelor views this with alarm.

The plain little village maiden learns how to buy smart gowns and step out to roadhouses with the town rake. Our bachelor is shocked. . . . Thus it runs on, with farcical alarms and excursions, characters popping in and out, frequent surprises and exclamations of "Eek!" . . . Of course, our bachelor marries the country mouse.

The Studebaker management has provided a smart looking stage setting and a fair cast of well routined players for "Affections, Ltd." One notes with interest the return to the footlights of Frances Kennedy, popular singing comedienne of the La Salle theater musical comedies in the Hough and Adams period. She is excellent as the comic dowager from the provinces. James Billings, new to me, but apparently an experienced leading man of stock companies, is plausible as the bachelor. Beverly Younger proves to be an intelligent and pleasant young person as the rural ingénue.

Front Views and Profiles
By June Provines

Wires— Artist— Impressions.

THE other day a charming New York woman passed through town on her way from Mexico to New York, and Chicago friends, with whom she had luncheon, telephoned a Chicagoan who was going east on the same section of the Century that afternoon, asking him to look her up. Later that day a wire, sent from Toledo to the Chicago friends, read:

"THANK YOU VERY MUCH.
"CHARLIE."

A second wire, sent from Cleveland, read:

"THANK YOU VERY MUCH.
"KAY."

"THANK YOU VERY MUCH.

* *

WE met another delightful woman in town on her way from Mexico City to Boston the other day and were charmed with her tale of the vagaries of the Mexican artist St. Valentin Vidaurretta, whose paintings and drawings are on exhibit at O'Brien's galleries and who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Alan Dix during his stay in Chicago. Vidaurreta is young, black eyed, gay and impractical, a great social favorite in Mexico City, and his trip to Chicago for his exhibition is his first to the United States, as he spends most of his time in Spain and France when he is not occupying his Mexican residence. His arrival in Chicago was not too happy, as he had lost his ticket, forgotten his suit case, had chronic appendicitis, an ulcerated tooth, an attack of temperament, and had to finish three pictures that day. A determined effort to locate his suit case was successful, but when it was sent on it was found that all there was in it was a fiesta costume.

* *

VIDAURRETA'S packing had been as careless as his other preparations for departure. He had neglected to get a tourist card as well as having lost his ticket. And his casualness about transferring his paintings from one customs to another at the border makes it a miracle that they got here at all. This informal tale of the difficulties connected with getting him and his pictures here in time for the exhibition was particularly diverting, since the artist himself, looking a model of correctness and formality, was sitting a few feet away at a cocktail party in his honor, chatting, with great poise and competence, with the lady seated beside him.

WEEK-END impressions. The exhibit of John Norton's paintings at the Tavern club, the first of a series of exhibits of members to be held in the club. . . . The high percentage of good looks in the Walter R. Kirk family as they received friends after the wedding of Beatrice Kirk and Capt. Cuthbert Ross Cuthbert Saturday afternoon. . . . The perfect, dignified and flattering bride's mother's gown chosen by Mrs. Kirk—of thin black, the lily of the valley motif in green and white beads at the neckline repeated on the crown of the brimmed black hat. . . . Archibald MacLeish, Chicago born author of the libretto of "Union Pacific," taking his bow at the Russian ballet Saturday evening, while a packed auditorium applauded. . . . Massine's barman's dance in the same number, repeated after prolonged applause and shouting by an insistent house. . . . John Cromeline's comment that the famed "Les Presages" to Tschaikowsky's Fifth Symphony reminded him of nothing so much as Thurber's drawing of the way between men and women. . . . The Tavern club party after the ballet, a shifting melange of the stage, the intelligentsia, the ballet members, and society. . . . Late Sunday breakfast with Sandy and Binge, snowy as lambs after their bath, begging for bits from the breakfast tray. . . . Buying flowers from a country greenhouse, bright with purple and blue cineraria, pink and pale blue hydrangea, fuchsia and geranium. . . . A Sunday afternoon party for children with a famous and well mannered chimpanzee as a special guest.

Junior League to Report Civic Work

Debutantes may roll bandages and think they're civic minded, but it takes child welfare legislation, judicial recommendations, and park board problems to satisfy the public welfare interests of their post-deb sisters.

Rounding out the first year of a civic education program, the Chicago Junior league is prepared to make a report at the annual conference of the Association of Junior Leagues of America May 28 through June 1 in Toronto, Canada.

"The report will go to show that the Chicago league is providing an outlet through civic channels for its members after they have outgrown the settlement, hospital stage," Miss Elaine Blackman, chairman of the newly formed civic interests committee, explained yesterday.

Since last fall, when Miss Blackman, a law student, assumed the chairmanship, more than a dozen league members have been sent as delegates to civic groups and reports have followed.

After a study of the park consolidation act that won by a three to one margin in Tuesday's primary, for example, the committee, and later the Junior league's board, made public its indorsement. When a referee was to be appointed in the Juvenile court recently the committee joined with other organizations in letters to Judge Frank H. Bicek and Judge D. J. Normoyle asking for a reconsideration of the proposed appointment. Such action was taken.

Miss Carol Bush and Mrs. Fletcher Nyce Jr. have already shown such aptitude for public problems that the Lake Shore League of Women Voters has made them members of its directorate. Mrs. Gordon Lang, a tranfer to the Chicago league, has been elected a board member of the United Charities, and Miss Harriet Borland is the new president of the Mary clubs, which aid in the work of the Juvenile court.

Ballet Dances 'Les Sylphides' and 'Prince Igor'

Two Numbers New to City to Be Given Tonight.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Continuing on its joyous course of making two converts to the cause of dancing where there was one before, the Monte Carlo Ballet Russe repeated the mad humor of "Union Pacific" at the Auditorium yesterday afternoon. It was preceded by "Les Sylphides," the loveliest item in the old school repertoire, and followed by the dances from "Prince Igor," one of its most brilliant examples of bravura dancing.

Tonight the company will present two numbers that Chicago has not yet seen. The bill will open with "Les Matelots" [The Sailors] and close with "Cotillon." The central ballet will be "Les Presages," which those who have been attending the company's performances will recognize as Tschaikowsky's Fifth Symphony.

A new organization, the Chicago Polish Pro Art company, presented five talented artists at the Goodman theater yesterday afternoon. There was some exceptionally good piano playing by Thaddeus Kozuch; there was a striking combination of good playing and good staging on the part of Regina Niewinski, harpist; there were other excellent performances by Carl Kosinski, baritone; Constance Rzepczynski, dancer, and Eugene Kilinski, violinist. The new organization would seem to have solved the idea of presenting attractive talent in an original manner, and its future announcements will be watched with interest.

The annual spring concert of the Musicians' club of Loyola university was held at Kimball hall yesterday afternoon under the direction of Joseph N. Moos. A feature of the program was Henry Hadley's cantata, "The New Earth," in which Bertha Floros, Catherine Wendel, Charles Svencikus, and Mace Gazda were the soloists, appeared with the men's and mixed choruses of the club. Previously there had been choral numbers and organ solos by Loretta Hanson and Henry H. Hungerford. The audience was warmly appreciative, and with good reason.

As a service to honor the memory of the late Dr. Daniel Protheroe, the Central church choir, the Bell Telephone choruses, the Gary Municipal chorus, and the Chicago Welsh Male choir, all organizations of which he had been the musical director, assembled in Orchestra hall yesterday afternoon to sing a program made up of his compositions, his arrangements, and numbers of which he had been particularly fond. Dr. Frederick F. Shannon delivered the invocation and Karleton Hackett gave an address of appreciation of Dr. Protheroe's life and work.

Dorothy Crost and Berenice Jacobson, who have developed unusual ability in playing two-piano recitals, appeared in the Chicago Woman's club theater yesterday afternoon. One of their featured numbers was "Animal Pictures," by Rudolph Ganz, a number which the composer conducted during a concert of the Chicago Symphony orchestra earlier this season. Its two-piano form would seem, however, to have been its original version, and the two artists played it in high spirits, developing its humorous as well as its musical aspects to the utmost.

A Vicious Circle

By ALICE CAMPBELL

SYNOPSIS.

Dorinda Quarles is found stabbed to death after a dinner party in her Paris apartment. Unscrupulous, Dorinda had served a drug to her fourteen guests, which was provided by one of them, Bannister Mowbray. Helen Roderick, who was a friend of Dorinda's mother, Lady Agatha, discovers the crime early next morning, and all the guests, except Dinah Blake, a young American artist, lying about in deep sleep. Tommy Rostetter, a journalist, was Dinah's dinner partner. Dinah's engagement to Christopher Loughton, in the American embassy, was, according to gossip, broken on account of Dorinda. Dinah returns two days later, her memory a blank, to the apartment she shares with her cousin Hallie Pemberton. She had been sleeping in the studio of absent friends. Tommy persuades her to pretend an engagement to him to prevent a jealousy motive. Dordinda's stepfather, Basil Jethro, celebrated Oxford scholar, was her guardian and trustee. The two were on unfriendly terms. Dorinda had told Dinah that she suspected Jethro of giving her mother an overdose of a drug. Tommy engages a room at the hotel where Jethro had stopped the night of the murder. He suspects Jethro and searches for proof. He calls on Geoffrey Macadam, whose father was Lady Agatha's solicitor.

INSTALMENT XXXI.

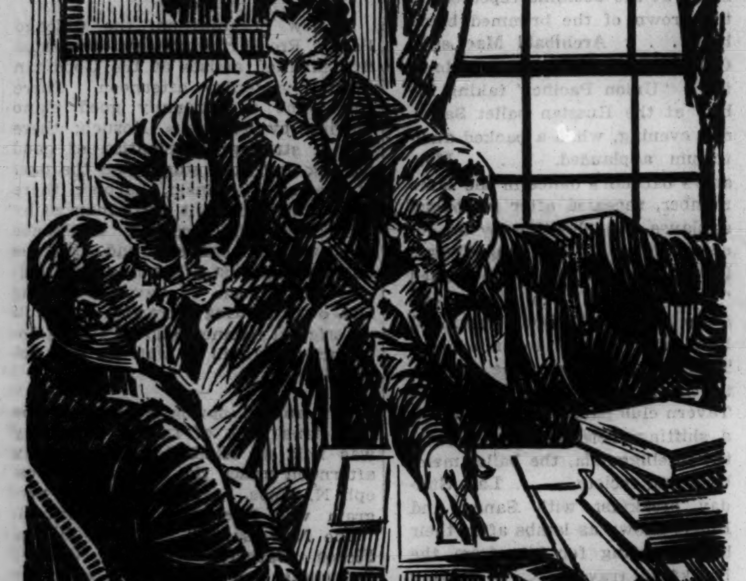
MEDICAL OPINION.

"It's a queer case," Geoffrey Macadam remarked. "But it's a jolly comforting thing to know Dinah's got you to look after her. It's no joke for a young girl, virtually alone in Paris, to find herself up against the French courts."

"Quite," agreed Tommy. "And you'll readily appreciate how important it is, from her point of view, to get completely clear, not simply be let off for lack of evidence. It would kill her to imagine there was the faintest shadow of doubt hanging over her. It's for that reason I'm sticking my oar into all sorts of unlikely places. You don't know anything, do you, which might shed light on that matter I mentioned?"

"I'm afraid I don't . . . but wait! I'll just call in Howard. He's an old clerk of ours, rather a remarkable fellow for pigeon-holing information about our clients."

It was plain that the gray, gaunt Englishman who presently appeared had read his newspaper very thoroughly. His sunken eyes sharpened with intelligence when he caught the visitor's name. He did not, however, offer much assistance, having no knowledge of how Lady Agatha's property was left. He believed Lady Agatha was left very well off by her first husband, Mr. Jonathan Quarles, part owner of the big Quarles colliery and chemical works in Yorkshire, but as her second marriage took place in London and her will was drawn up in that city soon afterwards he had never had occasion to learn its terms.



"She did make an appointment by letter," answered Howard slowly.

"Had you heard," put in Geoffrey Macadam, "that Mr. Basil Jethro was appointed guardian to his step-daughter?"

"I had not, Mr. Geoffrey—but I should think it most probable. With her daughter well under age, Lady Agatha would have had to appoint trustees, and as she was undoubtedly much attached to her second husband—some might say infatuated—she would almost certainly name him as one of them."

"Could Mr. Jethro be occupying the position of sole trustee?" inquired Tommy hopefully.

The old man looked scandalized. "Certainly not, Mr. Rostetter," he answered reprovingly. "Such a thing would be unheard of, in fact under the new act impossible. A good thing, too—not that I'm suggesting anything against a man of Mr. Jethro's character. I only mean the old law put too much power into people's hands."

"Precisely when did this new act come into force?" asked Tommy thoughtfully.

"Let me see . . . 1926, wasn't it?" Geoffrey hazarded with a glance at Howard.

"Yes, 1926," said the clerk. "I see what's in your mind, Mr. Rostetter. You'll say this particular will was drawn up before that date. Well, so it was . . . but even so I feel satisfied no solicitor would have allowed his client to appoint only one trustee. Lady Agatha couldn't have got her way if she'd wanted to—headstrong though she was," he added under his breath.

"So Lady Agatha was not always reasonable, I take it?"

"Well, sir, if I may speak my mind plainly, I've seldom seen a woman more impulsive and capricious. Very emotional, and rash, though of a most generous disposition."

Tommy was wondering how to bring out his next question without giving it suspicious importance when Geoffrey solved his problem by asking if there was not something more he wished to inquire about.

"O, yes," replied Tommy, casually. "It concerned an appointment Lady Agatha made with Mr. Macadam just before she died. Have you any recollection of the circumstance?"

"She did make an appointment, by letter," answered Howard slowly. "She wanted Mr. Macadam to come to her apartment the following afternoon—but he arrived too late by half an hour. She was dead from an overdose of morphia, as you probably know. That fact to our minds explained a good deal, especially when we learned that for some time past she'd been taking drugs to relieve the pain she'd been suffering. I should think it quite certain she had not been herself for more than a year."

When the clerk had withdrawn Geoffrey said: "Howard's quite right about Lady Agatha's neurasthenic condition. I have just remembered an occasion, towards the last, when she came in unexpectedly, and was shut in my father's office for quite a long time. She was very hysterical, though what it was all about I can't say. My father afterwards declared she was talking simply rubbish. Anyhow, in the middle of it, Jethro turned up, quieted her instantly, and took her away. He was gentleness itself, but she must have been fond of him, for she was like wax in his hands.

"Was Bramson her physician?" asked Tommy, rising to go.

"He was. My father found him marrying at the same time as himself the day of her death."

Within a quarter of an hour Tommy was ringing the bell at a smart modern residence out beyond the Etoile. When Bramson entered the reception room, his manner assured and abrupt as befitted the foremost English practioner in Paris, Tommy began at once to pour out the history of Dinah's disappearance and return.

"I've been looking up the stuff we took," he explained. "It turns out to be a combination of hashish and datura—but I can't discover anything dependable about its properties. You see what I'm getting at, don't you? My fiancée's position is bound to be influenced by medical opinion. I know it was impossible for her to have committed a crime, no matter what state she was in but others may not share my belief—as to her lost memory, I mean. Could you, if called upon, give an authoritative statement?"

"As to the effects of this combination?" Bramson eyed him steadily. "I'm afraid, Mr. Rostetter, my knowledge of eastern narcotics is too slight to make my opinion of much value."

Tommy looked downcast. He sat silent for a moment, then, as though struck by an irrelevant idea, remarked. "A bit tragic for Mr. Jethro, isn't it? I mean to have a second member of his family meet death through drugs."

Bramson eyed him in cold amazement. "Through drugs?" he repeated in a mystified tone. "Ah, you're referring to his wife's unfortunate end. An entirely different story."

"O, quite! I knew her, you know. I suspected, as did many of her friends, that she'd contracted a drug habit, but what no one could understand was how she managed to get hold of the . . what was it? Morphia?"

"Lady Agatha suffered from a chronic mastoid. "The pain she endured was so great that I was obliged at times to inject morphia. But I need hardly assure you I never once permitted her to have morphia at her own disposal, nor did I realize she was using it steadily till. . ." He hesitated. "Well, as a matter of fact, it was her husband who first brought it to my attention. He came to me privately, much alarmed over the suspicious symptoms she was showing—erratic vagueness, unreliability, and even downright untruthfulness. The last is a familiar characteristic of the morphia addict. With Lady Agatha it became so noticeable that her word could not be depended on at all.

"And what about the morphia?"

"You mean where it came from? We never knew though we found a bottle of it together with a hypodermic syringe locked in her jewel case. She must have been giving herself injections of increasing strength for sometime. It was the butler who found her, collapsed on the sofa in her bedroom, and at once rung me up. Mr. Jethro was out and did not know of her death for an hour or so."

Today's Styles Favor Stature of Tall Woman

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

A very good looking friend confided how, when she was 15 to 18 years old, her life was a perfect nightmare because of her "extreme" height.

Just another instance of why a young woman in the teens, or women of any age, for that matter, should be glad to be alive today. The tall girl no longer feels sensitive about her height. Or she is very silly if she lets it make her self-conscious. The subject was brought up when a girl, easily 5 feet 9, walked down the lobby where we were lunching. She was stunning. She moved with the most infinite grace, and it wasn't a dressup party, either, when she might have been putting on grace for the occasion. It was noonday. And the girl carried herself without one particle of self-consciousness and every eye gave her a flattering look.

Right now the tall girl is in her glory. Everything—hair styles, hat styles, clothes—are all bent heavenward. Fashions, as some one has said, have a "tall" feeling.

It's curious how styles in height change. I never did think the tall girl had anything but an advantage, even when she was not popularized as she is today. And I' always remember that astounding beauty, Dolores, with her 5 feet 9, and the tribute paid her by a well known woman sculptor: "When she comes into the room she makes other women look like cabbages."

But today is the tall girl's day, as has been said, any girl of over 5 feet 7 who thinks she serves herself best by trying to look shorter, is just plain foolish. The movies, perhaps, is the only show place still prejudiced toward height, but even there I found, on interviewing casting directors in Hollywood, that taller girls are gradually gaining a foothold.

But in fashion centers the tall girl walks off with all the glory. The clothes models must have height, and this year there seems to be a special need for tall ones to handle the windblown draperies effectively.

The tip I am trying to pass on here is not for the tall girl, but for the girl not so tall, who does not stretch herself to her full height, thereby often losing a good inch or two of grace and beauty by her round shouldered, careless carriage.

ENGAGEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Peckarsky of 3263 North Sherman boulevard, Milwaukee, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Ruth Vera, to Benson M. Sherman of Milwaukee. Both Miss Peckarsky and Mr. Sherman attended Marquette university.

Mrs. Faye Collen of the Allerton hotel announces the engagement of her daughter, Mae Beatrice, to Charles Allen Gould, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Gould of 1349 Touhy avenue. The wedding will take place June 9 in Bond chapel at the University of Chicago.

Movie House Owners Set Up Clean Films Group in Hollywood

Hollywood, Cal., April 15.—[Special.]—When the Motion Picture Theater Owners of America wound up a week's national convention here yesterday they left a committee to negotiate for reforms in movie stories with the Hollywood producers. Ed Kuykendall of Columbus, Miss., head of the M. P. T. O. A., and Louis B. Mayer, producing head of M. G. M. studios, headed the negotiating groups.

"Every theater owner in the country is sustaining financial losses because the producers refused to heed our demand for clean pictures," Kuykendall said. "The Hollywood producers not only give us many cheap and uninteresting pictures, but they spoil most of their few good ones by injecting indecent scenes, vulgar wisecracks, and offensive dialog. Attendance among children has dropped off and rightly so."

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., April 15.—[Special.]—President and Mrs. Roosevelt were hosts at an informal supper party followed by music. John Jaco Niles gave a program of music of the southern mountains. President and Mrs. Roosevelt also had guests with them at luncheon and entertained Signora Margherta Sarfatti at tea. Signora Sarfatti is one of the outstanding newspaper women of Italy and author of a biography of Mussolini.

With Presidtnt and Mrs. Roosevelt over Sunday are Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Mortimer and Miss Sarah Delano and Mr. and Mrs. James Roosevelt, son and daughter-in-law of the hosts.

Secretary of War and Mrs. Dern were joined today by their son, John Dern of Chicago, who will remain for a few days.

Mrs. Sherman Ruxton of Evanston, Ill., has arrived to spend the early spring with her parents, Senator and Mrs. Arthur H. Vandenberg.

an opera directors' meeting earlier in the week. Some of the new members on Mrs. Osborne's box committee are Friends of Opera because this group has indorsed the project.

Yesterday afternoon several dozen of the younger set gathered in the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Meyers for cocktails with Miss Margaret Sinclair and her fiancé, Andrew B. Harper Jr. of Detroit. Mr. Harper spent the week-end with Miss Sinclair and her parents, the William J. Sinclairs.

Winnetkans to Award Radcliffe Scholarship.

Mrs. Harry J. Dunbaugh, Mrs. Heyliger de Windt, Mrs. Walter Fisher, Miss Jane Cone, Mrs. Edward McDermott, and Mrs. William A. Magie II, all residents of Winnetka and Evanston, have just accepted a very important responsibility. They have become members of a committee that is to select a recipient for a Chicago regional scholarship to Radcliffe college.

Following in the footsteps of its masculine counterpart, Harvard university, Radcliffe has just founded a group of twelve awards to be known as regional scholarships. Contrary to the usual procedure in awarding scholarships to entering freshmen, however, these are to be given to girls of outstanding scholarship and character, without regard to financial need. They will cover the tuition for the freshman year and three-quarters of that for the sophomore year.

Mrs. Horace H. Martin, who, with Mrs. Charles Norton, is in the Orient, is expected in Lake Forest in July, when she will open her home for the summer.

Visitors to Chicago who are being entertained widely but informally by all of their old friends are Mr. and Mrs. Curtis McWhinney of Greenwich, N. Y. Mr. and Mrs. McWhinney formerly had a home in Highland Park. In Chicago they are visiting Mr. McWhinney's sister and brother-in-law, the Raymond E. Daniels.

Sylvia Peters Combines Studies and Riviera Life.

Young Miss Sylvia Peters, daughter of the William F. Peters of Lake Forest, is having a delightful school year abroad. She is a student in Maintenon school at Cannes, where she finds life perfectly divided between studies and Riviera life. She spent the Christmas holidays with her uncle, Norman Mason, who has a villa in Cannes, and spent the Easter vacation touring through Avignon and hundreds of other fascinating small towns in the south of France. Recently she took part in the battle of flowers, which is held every spring in the Riviera towns.

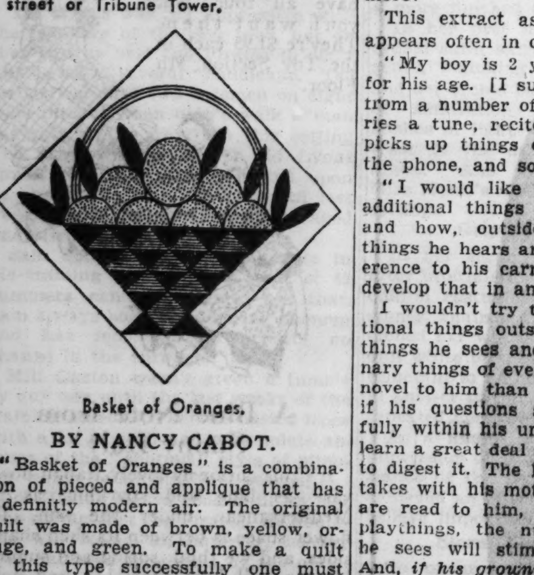
Miss Peters will return to Lake Forest in July. She will have another year abroad and one year at an American school before making her debut.

The Benjamin L. Behrs are in Maryland with interest concentrated on the hunters and steeplechasers they have entered in the spring races there. They are chiefly interested in winning permanently the Maryland Hunt cup, which will be raced for April 28. Their daughter, Miss Edith Behr, will have joined them by that time to watch Brose Hover try for the cup. Miss Behr is going south this week.

From Tucson, Ariz., comes the news that Mrs. J. Wallace Wakem's granddaughter, Celeste, was one of two runners-up in a gymkhana and horseshow held recently at the Hacienda del Sol, where she is attending school this year. Betty Babson and Elise Peterson were the other Chicago girls riding in the gymkhana.

Quilt Combination of Applique with Piecing Is Modern

Patterns of this quilt design are 5 cents each, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, One South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.



Basket of Oranges.

BY NANCY CABOT.

"Basket of Oranges" is a combination of pieced and applique that has a definitly modern air. The original quilt was made of brown, yellow, orange, and green. To make a quilt of this type successfully one must possess the necessary faculty of exactitude, which all fine, careful sewing requires.

CONQUERING CONTRACT

By P. HAL SIMS

Mr. Sims is universally acclaimed the greatest living contract and auction player. He is captain of the renowned "Four Horsemen" team of four, and has won twenty national championships since 1924.

INVITATION OPENING BIDS.

There are only two opening bids which we use as invitation bids urging the partner to keep the bidding open with even less than if he were responding to an opening bid of one, but not forbidding him to pass a useless hand. These two bids are two no trumps and three no trumps. The former invites the partner to bid even on what must appear to him an almost hopeless hand, for game purposes. The latter invites him to bid even on almost equally weak holdings, for slam purposes.

The Two No Trump Opening Bid.

My conception of the best employment for this bid is that it may be of a gambling nature when the partner is very weak in so far as scratching out a game is concerned; but that when partner is comparatively strong, under which conditions there is no doubt whatever about making a game and generally over tricks as well, any resulting slam developments should be on a definite basis, with no more "gamble" involved than in slams arrived at by the other bidding processes which have already been explained to you.

My Theory of Gambling Bids.

So far, perhaps, I have stressed precision and safety in constructive bidding with too little consideration of the chance-taking aspect of the game. This may be because I believe that the best opportunities for audacity in bidding for doubtful games are in connection with no trump contracts. The player who is hardly ever set a trick in a game contract voluntarily assumed is an under bidder who is losing many points through lack of courage or of vision. There is still less excuse if he or she is a good player of cards, able to profit by mistakes in the defensive leads and plays of the opponents, or to discern the gifts they may be handing out through bad discarding.

How the Ranking Expert Shows His Class.

In the 1932 congress of the American Whist league, John H. Law, bridge editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, played South in the auction pair championship. The following hand he naturally played with hearts as trumps.

	♠K-9-4 ♥10-9-8-5-3-2 ♦K-2 ♣K-4
♠Q-8-7 ♥6-4 ♦Q-7-5 ♣Q-J-9-7-3	N. W. E. S.	♠A-J-10-5-3 ♥J ♦J-10-6-3 ♣10-6-2
	♠6-2 ♥A-K-Q-7 ♦A-9-8-4 ♣A-8-5

The queen of clubs was led, and the declarer could see that the hand was a spread for six-odd if West held the ace of spades, otherwise only a five-odd would be made if the spade play were tried unsuccessfully. Johnny Law was not content to accept average on the hand. He made a try for six-odd even if the ace of spades were held by East. A pseudo-squeeze was the weapon he selected—and it worked. Winning the first lead in dummy, he led out five rounds of trumps. East discarded safely three times—then unwisely let go one of his diamonds. Thereupon declarer led two rounds of diamonds, ruffed the third round with dummy's last trump, got back to his own hand with the ace of clubs, and led the last diamond. His own holdings were then the two of spades and the six of clubs. West had to discard from the jack of clubs and the queen and eight of spades. Completely fooled by the declarer's failure to ruff any losing clubs when he could so easily and safely have done so, he concluded the declarer had only spades left—and threw away the club jack. East naturally had no club left in his hand, so South's 6 of clubs won the twelfth trick.

Graceful Frock Has Additional Advantage of Cool, Cape Sleeves

WOMAN'S AND MISS' DRESS.

The new caped sleeves are delightfully cool, and becoming besides. Printed silk crêpe, in red and white, made the original dress, and a striped, handkerchief linen in Mexican pottery tones is stunning in this model, and inexpensive. Another delightful scheme is to use a navy blue, sheer, silk crêpe.

The pattern, No. 2678, comes in sizes 14, 16, and 18 years, and 36, 38, and 40 inches bust measure.

Don't Try to Push Two Year Old Who's Bright for His Age

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

Doesn't your 2 or 3 year old seem like a little sponge sometimes? I mean in his or her eagerness to know—in his or her ability to absorb all the information you can supply—and even more?

This extract asks a question that appears often in other letters:

"My boy is 2 years old and bright for his age. [I suppose you hear this from a number of mothers.] He carries a tune, recites little poems, and picks up things quickly. Talks over the phone, and so forth.

"I would like to know just what additional things I could teach him, and how, outside of the ordinary things he hears and sees. Also in reference to his carrying a tune—can I develop that in any way?"

I wouldn't try to "teach him additional things outside of the ordinary things he sees and hears." The ordinary things of every day life are more novel to him than they are to us—and if his questions are answered carefully within his understanding he will learn a great deal as fast as he is able to digest it. The little jaunts that he takes with his mother, the books that are read to him, the right toys and playthings, the numbers and letters he sees will stimulate him enough. And, if his grownups are responsive, he will develop into an interesting and intelligent child.

BY MARY MEADE.

What goes with what is often a puzzler when the subject under scrutiny is the meat du jour. Foods can be such heavenly twins or they can be anything but that. Which pair will preside at your table is pretty much up to you as meal planner. It may jump around according to the weather, the season, and the styles in foods. It may be determined by the family tastes or by the cost of groceries. But even with all this variation there are some flavors which down through the years just have gone with certain meats and, since palates so dictate, it's our job to find not something new for a flourish but better ways of dressing up old friends for their grand march to the table.

First up to bat is the porker. He's going to be roasted, so I suggest two different dishes from which you may take your pick. The first is:

BAKED STUFFED APPLES.
7 large Jonathan apples
3 pork sausages
½ cup yellow kernel corn
2 tablespoons sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1-3 cup water

Wash the apples and core them, being careful not to force the core all the way through. Now cut the sausages in two crosswise and put a half one in each of the apple cups. Pile into each sufficient corn to fill up the cavity. Sprinkle each with one teaspoon of sugar and a pinch of salt and place the apples side by side in a shallow, glass oven-proof tray. Or each one may stand in a separate large sized ramekin. If the large dish is used pour all the water into the bottom of the pan. Otherwise add one tablespoon of water to each of the ramekins. Next sprinkle lemon juice over all to preserve their color and lend a nice little nip. Bake the apples in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) for three-quarters hour, basting frequently.

The second companion which pork roasts like is this same raw apple shell filled with soaked and stewed apricots or peaches, then baked.

Have you tried my favorite run-along with roast veal? It's green peppers stuffed with creamed macaroni and a very little minced onion, dashed finally with paprika or grated nippy cheese. Bake these in a pan containing a very little water or in the roaster with the veal.

So we arrive among the lambs. One of the smartest things to serve as a dresser-up for roast lamb, I just learned recently, is:

SUCCOTASH IN TURNIP CUPS.
6 white turnips
1½ cups canned yellow kernel corn
¾ cup canned lima beans
¾ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons butter
Pepper to taste

The turnips should be fairly large, sweet in flavor, and even in shape. Peel them carefully and even them off on the root end to insure a firm bottom for setting. Now scoop out the turnips to form cups, with walls about three-eighths inch thick. Have a kettle of boiling water ready and put into it the turnip shells and also the scooped-out sections. The water should just cover them well. Cook at a good boil, uncovered, just until tender. Now carefully dip out the shells, leaving what is left for cream of turnip soup. Dip the turnip cases in melted butter, then sprinkle all over with minced parsley. Have ready the beans, corn, seasoning, and butter, heated together. Fill the turnip cups and neatly plant them around the roast lamb on a good sized platter.

With which we wind up our merry-go-round and dish you up roast beef with:

GLAZED PAPRIKA ONIONS.
6 medium large white onions
2 quarts water
1 tablespoon paprika
1 tablespoon butter
½ cup brown sugar

The onions should be even in size, white, and about 2½ inches in diameter. Drop them into very hot water, then fish them out at once and skin. Cut a thin slice from both the tops and the bottoms. Have the two quarts of water boiling and drop the onions into it. Add the paprika and let them cook, barely simmering, until tender. This will take from three-quarters to one hour. Drain off the water and place the onions in a shallow baking dish. Sprinkle over the top of each one-sixth of the butter and one-sixth of the sugar. Broil for two to four minutes, until the tops of the onions are golden brown.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

The soundest method of restoring oil to a dry, crinkly skin is to use a rich cream that serves not only as cleanser, but as lubricant.

A glorious cream is enjoying the spotlight in a State street store today and for the remanider of the week. It's so important that a young woman is here from New York to tell the store's patrons all about it. She's going to do other things, too, we hear. With each jar of the cream she'll fix you up with a few other things her skin analysis shows you need. Pretty nice?

The cream is the oiliest imaginable, so much so that it's almost drippy, and a jar lasts almost forever. It's a great little replenisher of the natural oils you need to keep skin smooth and fine. It's faintly yellow in color, and if there is perfume in it the odor wasn't noticeable to us.

It's a double purpose affair, used in one layer for a good cleansing. When this is removed a second film of it is worked into the skin of the face and neck to serve as an emollient. Because it's so rich and because we have what amounts to a complex about the beauty evils of dry skin we're enthusiastic about it for skin of that type, but women we know with normal or oily skins seem just as taken with it. It can be used sparingly on oily skin; the fine oils do a good cleansing job and the second creaming, the purpose of which is to serve as special lubrication, can be omitted.

Experimentation with it on a dry, rapidly crinkling skin showed interesting and successful results in a week. Consider it if your skin is in that class or threatens to be.

Jabots, Veils 2 Accessories You Will Need

Lace Makes Off-the-Face Hats Less Severe.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Two interesting new accessories for your spring wardrobe are jabots and lace veiling.

The jabots literally cascade down the chest of nearly every sort of a frock or ensemble you can wear. With superslim, severely tailored black or navy suits the froth and foam of a jabot is the outstanding white accent.

With silk, corded silk, and satin dress parade outfits the jabot is usually a bit of fragile heirloom, the cobwebby film or priceless antique lace revived for spring 1934.

◆

Crisp organdy jabots edged with narrow lace . . . more intricate affairs made of fine lawn, with rows and rows of insertion and then edged with matching lace; together with jabots of wide open mesh crocheted patterns are popular creations you can buy in any shop.

The neckwear sections or departments are filled with these flattering feminine accents that simply make a costume.

Lace veils are both trimmings and and filmy wisps of flattery. Off the face hats, which still maintain their popularity, are more than wearable, even over older eyes, with a charming nose veil to soften the hat outline.

◆

New smart straws are rough, and bright shoppers have discovered that an edge of stiffened veiling makes them much more wearable. Medium brimmed hats become wider and softer with an airy transparent halo of veiling, net or tulle at the edge, and infinitely more becoming.

Tricornes are coming back, sleek black things with all sorts of dash and with the proper veil they become disturbingly attractive.

Everything new and smart is being veiled!

It is truly a CRIME against ROMANCE—a MYSTERY why YOUTH is sacrificed on the altar of GRAY HAIR when it is so easy to impart color perfectly—in the secrecy of your own home. You can now do this SAFELY, CERTAINLY, ECONOMICALLY.

It's a MYSTERY why GRAY HAIR is tolerated! It's the CRIME that KILLS ROMANCE

The tonic-like qualities of Nourishine for Gray Hair and Dandruff actually work like magic! No one can detect its use — the color is SO NATURAL IN APPEARANCE! No matter what you have tried you'll find Nourishine "infinitely better!" Everyone says this. Applied as easily as water, the result is gloriously beautiful hair — full of life and luster. Dandruff disappears —the scalp is cleansed. Does not affect waving — does not rub off. Is not sticky or greasy. Does not stain scalp or linen. It contains positively nothing injurious — cannot deaden hair or cause it to split. We sincerely say that Nourishine is the BEST hair coloring preparation known. You can easily prove this. Look 20 years younger by using Nourishine. The one liquid for any shade. For better results use NOURISHINE SHAMPOO. Contains no acids that hinder the action of Nourishine.

Write for our free booklet, "Home Care of the Hair." Contains helpful hints on the home care of permanents, marcels, oily and dry scalp, describes coloring methods, etc. Nourishine, $1.25; Shampoo, 50c, at drug and department stores or by mail from NOURISHINE COMPANY, 929 South Broadway, Los Angeles.

Now, thanks to a great scientific discovery you can quickly make dull, dingy teeth lustrous, sparkling—shades whiter. All you need do is start using antiseptic KOLYNOS—a half-inch on a dry brush morning and night. You'll be surprised at the way this wonderful dental cream cleans and brightens teeth.

KOLYNOS acts differently. It contains finest cleansing and polishing agents plus an important ingredient dentists say is necessary to remove the "bacteria plaque" that makes teeth so dingy and offensive looking.

This extra-cleaning KOLYNOS gives teeth is impossible to obtain by ordinary brushing methods. That is why KOLYNOS will clean and whiten your teeth so much better and faster than anything else you can use. Try it. You'll say it's wonderful.

Cottons Smarter Than Ever This Spring of 1934

Print Piques and Plaid Ginghams Just Arrived at Carson's

Ginghams in Clay

All of these fabrics are notable for their splendid laundering qualities. 75c yard.

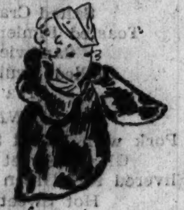
Fresh New Colors

Because the colors are fresh and new, the printed designs unusual, these cottons are already assured of summer success for every type frock from tennis dresses to evening formals.

They will make the crisp, fresh cotton frocks for summer that belong in every girl's and woman's wardrobe.

Flat Fur Scarfs Dress Up The Untrimmed Suit

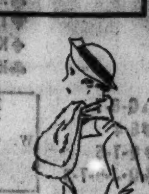
The new flat fur scarfs make it perfectly simple for you to have your cake and eat it, too. In other words, to have all the joys of an untrimmed suit and a befurred one—with only one suit in your wardrobe.



Toss one of these scarfs around the neck of your untrimmed suit—and there you are in a dressy, fur-trimmed outfit that seems like a complete change of costume.

There is a great variety of furs to choose from, and prices travel all the way from $3.95 up to $125. Lapin, kidskin, galyak, baronduki, and fine lambskin are included — in cravats, ascots, capelets, Peter Pans—and a choir-boy collar that becomes a bib when you turn it around.

The little sketches show a Peter Pan of lapin at $3.95, a cravat of white galyak at $13.50, and a black kid cape at $29.50. You'll find many to choose from in the Fur Section on the Fourth Floor at Carson's—and they may be of interest to your spring coat as well as to your suit.



The evening mode, too, has conceived a smart new idea in furs. It's the new Chinchilla Bunny Cape—and looks almost as luxurious as real chinchilla over your evening frock.

It has the same lovely gray and white markings—for the bunnies that fashion it are bred that way. You will find two styles to choose from in the Fur Section—and you'll have to see them to realize what values they are at $29.75.

Lapin Jackets are another important news item in furs—of interest to the wardrobe that has to brave the uncertainties of a Chicago spring. Carson's have a most attractive and varied assortment—featuring newest 1934 details. Prices range from $29.75 to $49.75.

THE NEW LACES ACQUIRE STRENGTH OF FABRICS

Carson's is presenting this new type of lace today. It's an all-over weave—lacy and lovely, but with a new sturdiness which is necessary for this season's fashions.

In ten shades, all fast dyes and pre-shrunk. $1.25 yard.

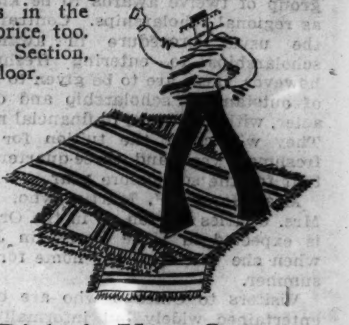
THE COLUMN

The Duke Went a Bit Too Far

We mean the Duke of Clarence, who drowned himself in a wine barrel. If he'd had one of these new "What Wines and When" trays, he might have shown better taste. This new tray sparkles with Bacchanal color and sketches—one of the Duke himself. It's one way to put a sharper edge on your wine knowledge. A gift suggestion. Just $1 in the Gift Section. 7th Floor.

Everything But the Stiletto's Here

In this luncheon set of seventeen pieces striped in Mexican colors—and each piece suggests the flashing, sunny notes and spirited action of rancho life. Like a peon's serape, they're fringed. It's an appetizing idea to introduce at your most original luncheons. Good news in the $2.50 price, too. Linen Section, 2nd Floor.

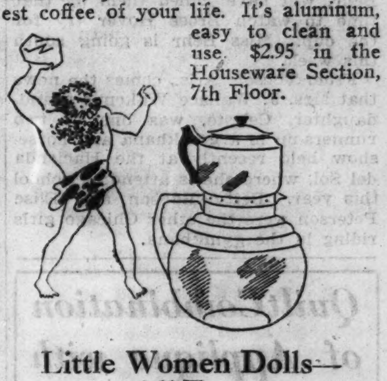


Right in Your Own Backyard

That's where this lawn chair belongs. But we warn you that once you're in it you'll just give up to comfort and think of that song about backyard happiness. It has a detachable foot-rest, an adjustable back and a painted duck canopy and a soft seat as gay as a holiday mood. It's $2.95 in the Furniture Section, 6th Floor.

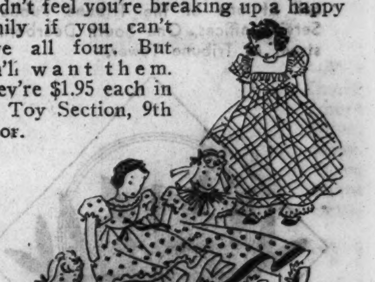
The Stone Age and Nature

We think the idea for this new stone-filtering coffee-maker probably started at the dawn of history—inspired by spring water bubbling through sandstone and purifying itself to crystal clearness in the process. In this new heat-proof Filter-Stone (exclusive with Carson's) you'll have the finest, clearest coffee of your life. It's aluminum, easy to clean and use. $2.95 in the Houseware Section, 7th Floor.



Little Women Dolls—All Four

Meg's very demure; Joe's independent; Beth's so shy; Amy's pert—and they're all dressed in those cunning long panty dresses. They've made up their minds to being separated so you needn't feel you're breaking up a happy family if you can't have all four. But you'll want them. They're $1.95 each in the Toy Section, 9th Floor.



A Blue Note from Sunny Italy

It's this curiously lovely Italian flower vase—as blue and sparkling as the Mediterranean under the sun. The flower space is between its shell shaped sides, and we think spring and summer blooms will hold their life and color longer in this new "Italian setting." It's only $2 in the China Section, 7th Floor.

You Won't Count Sheep Under Carson's Extra Length Sheets

Experts at Carson Pirie Scott & Co. are agreed that extra length sheets are excellent sleep inducers. Old Time Muslin Sheets, now on sale at that store, are noted for this feature.

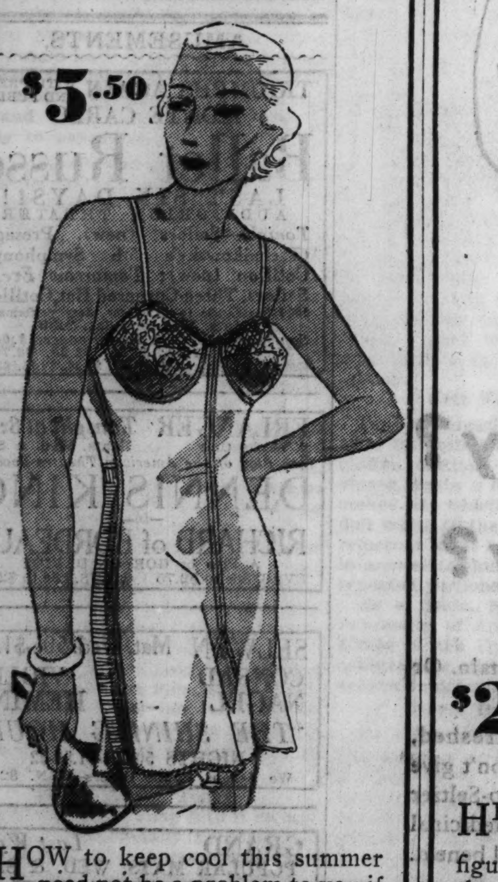
They are long enough to tuck in securely at the bottom and fold over the covers at the top. So that your feet are protected against drafts and your coverlets stay in place at the top.

Known for laundering qualities, they are very durable, for the wear is there. Prices are unusually low, comparable only to our famous January White Sale values.

The 63x108 inch size at $1.50 each, the 72x108 at $1.65, and the 81x108 size only $1.75. Cases are 40c each for the 42x38½ inch size and 45c for the 45x38½. Furthermore, these sheets are evenly woven and very smoothly finished. Featured in a special sale now in progress in Carson's Sheet and Pillow Case Section on the Second Floor.

SUMMER COMFORT

In a Lightweight Corset of Crepe de Chine



HOW to keep cool this summer need not be a problem to you if you start out with this foundation. Smooth crepe de Chine with elastic panels and a molded lace brassiere top. It washes beautifully and has an under foundation for extra firmness. A comfortable, adequate garment for controlling without any uncomfortable restraint.

Corsets, Third Floor.

PERFECT SLIP

We Don't Think We Exaggerate in Calling It This

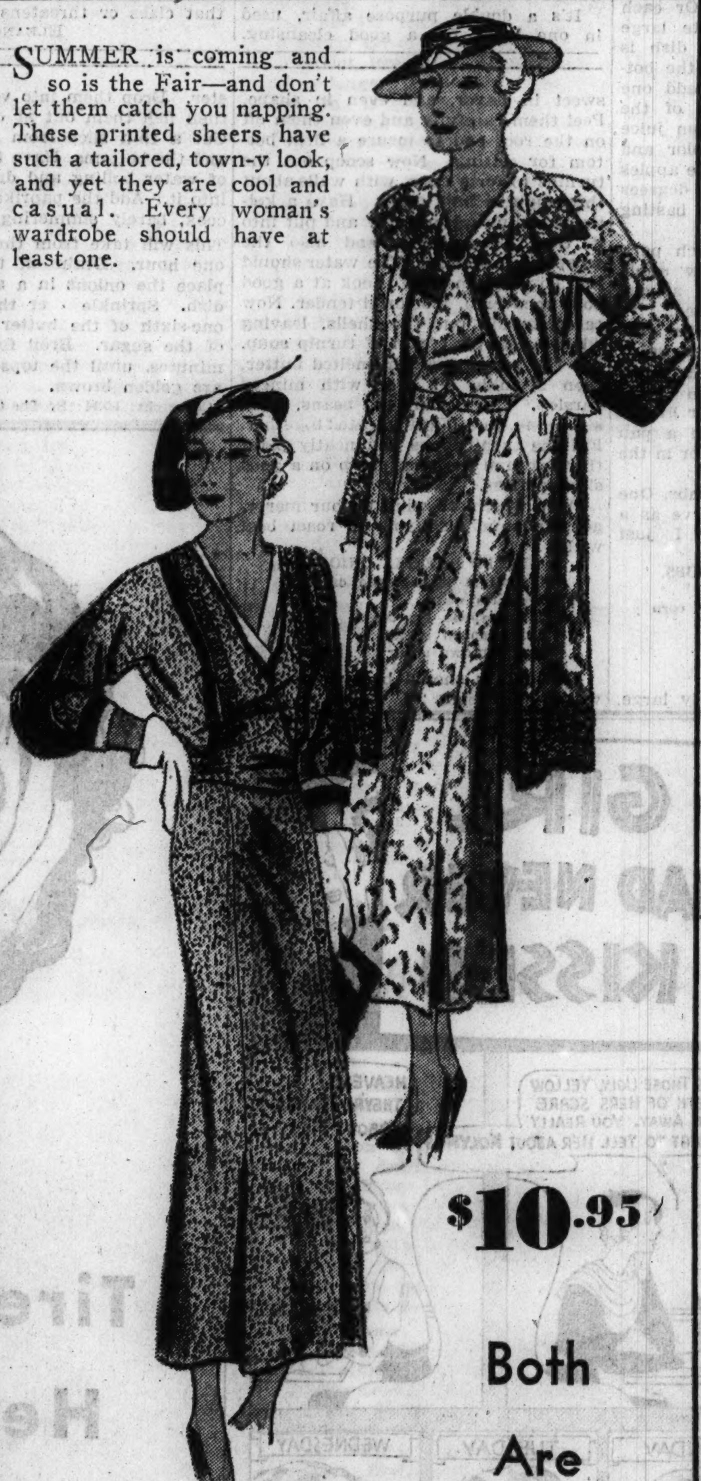
Lingerie, Third Floor.

SHEER PRINTS LOOK TO THE FAIR

SUMMER is coming and so is the Fair—and don't let them catch you napping. These printed sheers have such a tailored, town-y look, and yet they are cool and casual. Every woman's wardrobe should have at least one.



New Border Print Sheers
With a Tailored Town-y Look

The Cool Charm of White

There's lots of white in this fine cluster print—which gives it a cool charm for summer. The ¾ coat makes it ideal for immediate wear. The short-sleeved frock has a jabot collar. With navy, black, brown, or red background. 36 to 42.

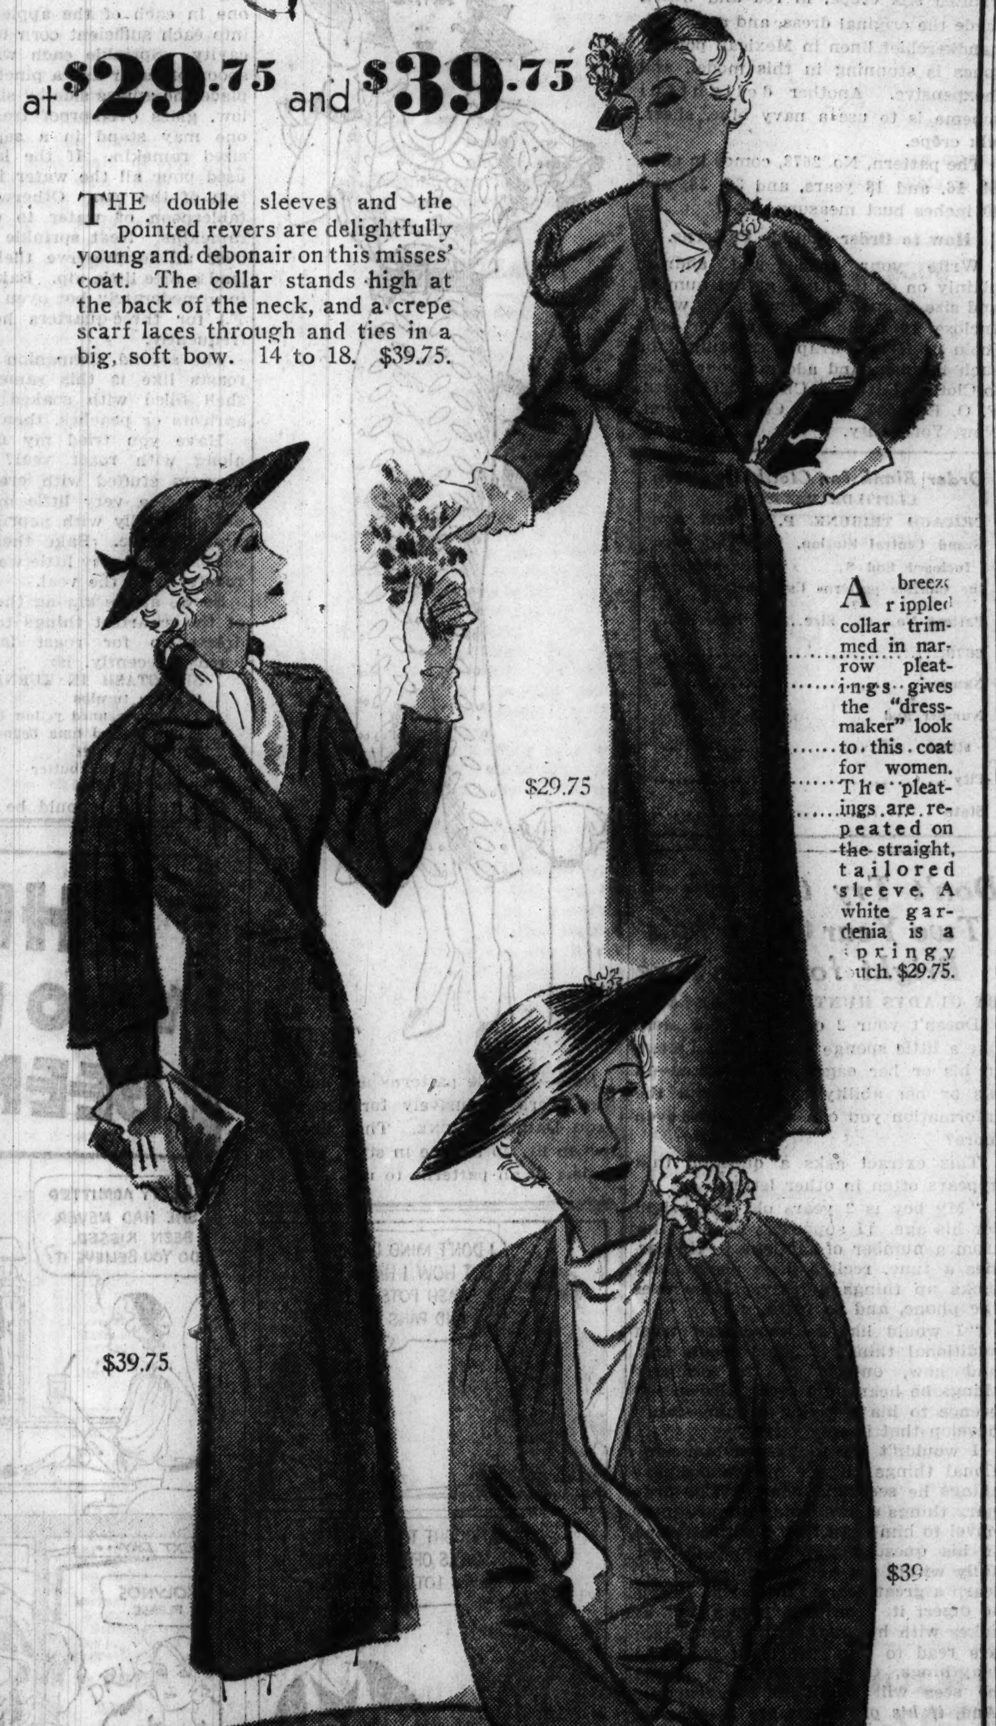
Women's Moderate Price Frocks, Fourth Floor.

THREE CARSON-ENDORSED FASHIONS

"DRESSMAKER" TOUCHES AND VERY FINE TAILORING MAKE THESE COATS EXTRAORDINARY

at $29.75 and $39.75

THE double sleeves and the pointed revers are delightfully young and debonair on this misses' coat. The collar stands high at the back of the neck, and a crepe scarf laces through and ties in a big, soft bow. 14 to 18. $39.75.



A breeze rippled collar trimmed in narrow pleatings gives the "dressmaker" look to this coat for women. The pleatings are repeated on the straight, tailored sleeve. A white gardenia is a springy touch. $29.75.

TUCKING is used to perfection in the shoulders of this beautifully fitting straight-line coat trimmed with just a suggestion of pique. It is collarless, with a cluster of flowers placed high on the shoulder. The sleeves are straight, widening toward the cuffs. Sizes 36 to 44. Priced at $39.75.

SENATORS OPEN SEASON WITH BOSTON TODAY

SOX AND CUBS RAINED OUT OF SERIES WINDUP

National Leaguers Go to Cincinnati.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Bad weather finally caught up with the White Sox yesterday, the last day of a training and exhibition season which previously hadn't suffered a minute's interference because of rain and such. Scheduled hosts of the Cubs at Comiskey park yesterday afternoon, the Sox were forced by rain to tell the National leaguers to go on about their business. At the time the game was called off about 5,000 fans had gathered outside the premises, but the field was in no shape for the contest, though the downpour had eased off.

The Cubs didn't complain about calling off the final of their six game spring series. In the first place they had to finish packing their satchels for last night's trip to Cincinnati for the opener tomorrow. And in the second place they were willing to rest on the laurels gained in their spring competition with the American leaguers.

Gabby Hartnett remained in Chicago because of the illness of his wife. Phelps will catch the opening game if Hartnett does not rejoin the team in time.

Sunshine for Cubs.

Prior to the spring set of battles the Cubs were smarting under a record of eight losses in nine games played with the Sox. But in the five games of the 1934 spring series they won four. A 16 to 7 victory over Dick Ward and Bud Tinning was the only Sox solace. The Sox were easy whenever they faced Cub starting pitchers.

The Cubs face the prospect of six days of weather much better than they met during their noble experiment with "the pre-view series" which was destined to be a flop even if the blizzard hadn't hit. After three games in semi tropical Cincinnati the Cubs move to tropical St. Louis before returning to Chicago for their Wrigley field opener a week from tomorrow.

The Sox themselves didn't mind a day off, for the record stretch of fine weather and their tour with the Pirates calling for daily performance right into Chicago from the coast kept even the lazy fellows moving, to the extent of at least packing and unpacking grips and getting to and from ball parks and depots.

Plan to Turn on Heat.

Mr. Comiskey's lads found little to be proud of in the closing phases of their exhibition season, having been clipped on the chin in their last five starts. But like all outfits that can't click in the spring, the Sox have been talking about what they are going to do "when it means something." And maybe they will, for the spring has not been without its pleasing developments.

The improvement in the work of Whit Wyatt and Phil Gallivan has brought the most cheer to Sox officials. Both have been known to have had a lot of stuff for several years, but poor control. Now each seems to have overcome his tendency toward wildness. While Earnshaw and several other performers have been shuffling around in blase fashion, Whit and Phil have been bearing down at every opportunity and their industry apparently is ready to pay dividends.

Lyons Has Old Spirit.

Ted Lyons was not impressive until the last day of the Sox tour, but on that day he held the Pirates to eight hits under several handicaps. Ted walked the first two batsmen on eight wide pitches, then didn't walk a man the rest of the way. In this setting Ted showed some of the old Lyons spunk that always was looked upon as one of his major assets until last year, when he became discouraged under a series of bad breaks.

Sam Jones has been deliberate in his training processes. A gent of 42 summers can't be blamed for that. Sam always has been a spring phenom and has indicated he expects no change in the spring of 1934.

Milt Gaston wasn't given a tumble by any one until the last weeks of the training season. Then he busted loose with a lot of stuff and a complete absence of the "shotput" style of pitching which he adopted last season.

Joe Heving looked good until his last time out against the Pirates. He doubtless will round to, however, having been harassed somewhat by the clumsiness of his support the last time he pitched.

Tigers Arrive Today.

Les Tietje didn't snap into it as rapidly or as sensationally as some had expected and at one time was lined up in a tit-tat-toe scene to determine the pitcher who was to be sent to Sacramento. The finger fell on Paul Gregory instead of Les, however, and since that time it has appeared that the Iowa German will be retained.

Muddy Ruel and Merv Shea are good catchers and much of the improvement in the younger pitchers has been made while they were working with them.

Headed by their new manager, Mickey Cochrane, the Detroit Tigers, who will open the season at Comiskey park tomorrow, are due in Chicago this morning.

Maranville, on Mend, Goes from Hospital to Hotel

St. Petersburg, Fla., April 15.—(AP)—Walter [Rabbit] Maranville, Boston Brave shortstop, whose leg was broken in an exhibition game here three weeks ago, was at a hotel today. He was discharged from the hospital yesterday, his condition being described as "greatly improved."

SONJA HENIE'S SKATING THRILLS RECORD 18,200

Norwegian Girl Perfect in Exhibition.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Sonja Henie, a modest, flaxen haired miss from Oslo, Norway, is the champion figure skater of the world. This Chicago knew. But last night at the Stadium Miss Henie captivated a capacity throng and gave them living proof of her graceful ability.

Officials of the Norwegian-American Athletic association, which sponsored the appearance of their famous countrywoman, announced that the attendance was 18,200. This gathering, an all time record for Miss Henie's American tours, was definite tribute to her long series of international achievements.

Better than Advance Notices.

Some might have insisted that Miss Henie's advance notices were responsible for the outpouring of citizenry. But these critics, if there were any, could not have persisted in their argument had they witnessed Miss Henie's three performances last night.

In costumes of her own design, as distinctive as her movements were graceful, Miss Henie ran through her repertoire without hesitation. From the moment of her debut she held complete command. Center of intent attention of thousands, she twirled and spun under the piercing, crystal white floodlights with nonchalant skill.

The gleam of brilliance followed her, delineating each move. It was not sufficient that her performance be adequate, perfection was demanded. And Sonja rewarded the tremendous crowd with perfect skating.

Technique Is Superb.

In general plan, Miss Henie followed orthodox procedure. A thousand figure skaters might have copied her program. In technique, however, she was supreme. From long, soaring glides, she changed position, swung into shortened spins, then halted abruptly, motionless. At no time did she betray by the slightest tremor that balance had been lost. Certain of each stroke as an actress who speaks her line for her hundredth performance, Miss Henie never has given a more finished exhibition.

In her first number, Miss Henie's orchid satin skirt, scalloped with magenta, matching her feathered hat and her orchid bouquet, brought gasps of admiration when the dancing flashes of light were reflected in contrast to the darkened areas of the arena. And with this background Miss Henie's skill was given a proper setting.

Gets Four Encores.

In her second appearance, shortly after intermission, a long sleeved blue chiffon costume trimmed with rhinestones, again a design by Miss Henie, etched her whirling figure against the dull white of the ice. The crowd was reluctant to let her leave. Four times, in answer to thunderous applause, she repeated portions of her waltz.

As a finale, Miss Henie gave her impression of Anna Pavlowa's famous Dance of the Dying Swan, and in it achieved an effectiveness many might believe impossible.

Storm Dressing Room.

To unsurpassed grace in the mechanics of skating Miss Henie brought a graciousness which captivated. No small part of her charm was due to personality, a personality which attracted hundreds who waited for her at the door of her dressing room, and from whom she was rescued by an escort of police.

An excellent program enhanced Miss Henie's presentations. The girlish youth of the Simpson sisters, Mary and Margaret, from Banff, Alberta; the mass rhythm of the members of the Figure Skating club of Chicago; the skill of Eleanor Berger, Northwestern university student, and the dashing figure of Jack Smalley of Minneapolis might at another time have served as a complete program. All, however, served as foils to show more clearly the supremacy of Sonja Henie, champion of champions.

Locatelli and Bass Sign for Return Bout

Philadelphia, Pa., April 15.—(AP)—Cleto Locatelli, lightweight champion of Italy, and Benny Bass, Philadelphia boxer, were signed today for a ten-round return match on April 30. Locatelli and Bass fought a draw here a month ago.

Talking It Over

BY ARCH WARD.

BOOKKEEPERS who attempted to keep up with the winnings of Paul Runyan during the recent winter golf campaign slipped up a bit, it now develops. . . . They credited him with $6,483, but Paul's own book showed that he won $7,083. . . . He also computed his earning per stroke and found that he averaged $1.73 a shot. . . . Clarence Rowland, scout for the Cubs, has his eye on a couple of Notre Dame baseball players. . . . President Benswanger of the Pirates donned a uniform and took a light workout with the boys before each exhibition game with the White Sox. . . .

PAUL RUNYAN.

The rookie classes at Wrigley field last week provided Charley Grimm with more than a few laughs. . . . When he announced that Friday's class would be the last, one of the boys remarked it was sad news. . . . The lad explained his dad had told him he would have to play baseball or go to work. . . . Paul Beeler, who was timekeeper at the battle of the long count between Tunney and Dempsey, is employed by a mining company at Sacramento, Cal. . . . Meadowbrook Pat, the dog which won the indoor retrieving contest at the Northwest Sportsmen's show in Minneapolis, is stone deaf. . . . His owner directs him by signs. . . . A year after he lost his hearing while diving he accompanied a party of 15 hunters and retrieved 481 ducks in a week, regarded as a world's record. . . .

Horton Smith, who won the Masters' golf tournament at Augusta, Ga., says that every man on the course on the first day acted as though a cyclone were about to strike until Bobby Jones' 76 was posted. . . . From there on they laughed and breathed freely and played their own kinds of golf. . . . Ground was broken Monday for the University of Minnesota's new $400,000 sports administration building. . . . The right name of Battling Siki, who won the light heavyweight championship from Georges Carpentier in Paris, Sept. 24, 1922, was Louis Pfal. . . . Two years ago Thomas Patrick Gorman, manager of the Blackhawks, was sitting at his desk in the general manager's office of the Agua Caliente race track, far away from the National Hockey league. . . . One day Tommy was asked whether his retirement from the ice was permanent. . . . "I would enjoy getting back into hocky, if I felt I would have enough luck to play a part in winning the Stanley Cup within a couple of years," he answered. . . . You probably have heard he recently made good. . . .

Harry Kinnell, Edgewood Valley professional who returned a short time ago from a winter in Scotland, comments about the long periods of service enjoyed by golf instructors over there. . . . His uncle has completed his 33d year at the same club and nearly all of the professionals in the district, Prestwick, have served as long or longer. . . . Don Geyer, Waterloo, Ia., is giving Chuck Duvall a battle for the full back position in spring football practice at Northwestern. . . . He will be a sophomore next fall. . . . Gabby Hartnett's bat weighs 38 ounces. . . . Jack Fournier, one time White Sox first baseman, is an insurance salesman in Los Angeles. . . .

Cecil Storey, who withdrew from the University of Chicago and entered Southern California a year ago, will have no easy job earning a place on the Trojan eleven. . . . Wotkyns and Propst, holdovers from last year, are available for the position Storey seeks, full back. . . . Coach Jones has shifted Propst to inside half back, the half back who catches those passes in the Notre Dame games. . . . Theron Keller, a freshman, is also beating Storey's time at full back. . . .

Ten Years Ago Today—An effort to bar Johnny Weissmuller from the United States Olympic team was frustrated when it was proved he was born in Chicago. . . . Marquette Council won the Knights of Columbus basketball championship, defeating Barry, 43 to 20. . . . Al Krause, Steve Seplak, and Elmer Hooker starred for the winners. . . . The Giants defeated the Sox, 9 to 3, in the last exhibition game of the season. . . . The Cubs beat Kansas City, 13 to 1.

Golden Gloves Match Puts New Life in Polish Boxing

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

POZNAN, Poland, April 15.—Although boxing is popular in Poland and large crowds turn out to see the fights the sport is still in its infancy here. Hence the invitation to Poland's fighters to meet the Chicago team in the international Golden Gloves contest on May 23 was regarded by Polish amateur boxing officials as a high compliment and has done more to stimulate interest in the sport than any other event since boxing has been taken up as an amateur sport.

Heretofore boxing matches have been more or less routine exhibitions of the skill of the two combatants. Fight shows have been unattended by any of the color which has marked the boxing game in the United States and some European countries where the amateur sport has grown apace with the professional.

Hot Dogs Still Unknown.

The boxing shows here depended upon boxing for their entertainment. There has been little ballyhoo or ceremony. Poland knows nothing of concessions for hot dogs and pop. One of the programs I witnessed in the Polish amateur championships consisted of 26 bouts, each lasting three rounds, which began at 7 o'clock in the evening and ended around 12:30.

Here was a chance for a Polish Harry Stevens to make a lot of money, but the business of catering to the sporting public over here has never been thought of. The 6,000 spectators were not even provided with a drinking water tap and the nearest place where soft drinks could be obtained was almost a block away.

In the bantam class the fight was won by Tadeuz Rogalski, 21 years old, who has been boxing three years and has lost 10 out of 57 bouts with nine resulting in a draw. He whipped Kozlowski, another Pomeranian, in the title bout with ease. Rogalski was formerly Poland's champion flyweight but has outgrown that division. He seems to be fighting even better as a bantamweight, the added poundage apparently having given him enough power for a punishing wallop, which he had lacked.

Featherweights Show Class.

Poland's featherweights showed real class. Mike Forlanski of Warsaw, three times champion of Poland and twice champion of Europe, has been fighting for seven years and of 106 fights he won 40 by a knockout. He has won 38 decisions and had 18 draws. He boxes with a nice clean open style, has a fast left jab and a good right uppercut. He also has a punch loaded with dynamite, and when he steps into the ring in Chicago the spectators are going to see a real fighter go into action.

His opponent, F. Rudzki, fought with a crouch. He was saved by the gong in the first round, but came back and gamely finished the match. Both boys fought every second of each round. There was no sparring for openings. Both waded in and whaled each other. Rudzki tried to bore in past Forlanski's guard, but he was outboxed. He landed some hard punches, but Forlanski proved he had stamina and if the fight had gone another round he would have won by a knockout.

Lightweight Bout a Thriller.

The lightweights were equally good. Jaroslav Lipinski of Poznan won the championship by whipping Josef Chrostek of Krakow. Lipinski has fought 92 times and won 70 of his bouts by knockouts. Chrostek has been boxing four years. He is 21 years old and of 58 bouts he has lost only five and had two draws. He is Poland's champion uppercut artist, and had the fight gone a couple more rounds he might have won. His right uppercut had brought him into the finals and it nearly won him the championship. With a little more training he will reach the international class.

Lipinski's right is more dangerous than his left. He had a longer reach than Chrostek. Both boys like infighting and there was more mixing in this fight than in any of the others. The decision was doubtful and the fight could have been called a draw.

Heydler to See Cubs Play Reds Tomorrow

New York, April 15.—(AP)—John A. Heydler, president of the National league, will attend the opening game between the Chicago Cubs and Reds at Cincinnati Tuesday.

YANKEES WHIP DODGERS, 4 TO 2, BEFORE 25,000

Three Runs in Sixth End Series in Victory.

New York, April 15.—(AP)—A crowd of 25,000 saw the New York Yankees hammer Phil Page for three runs in the sixth inning and win an exhibition game from Brooklyn, 4 to 2, in the Yankee stadium today.

The Dodgers had gained a 2 to 1 lead in the first half of the sixth. Russ Van Atta, who had relieved Danny Macfayden after the fifth, began the Yankees' rally with a triple. A walk to Earl Combs, a single by Red Rolfe, and Babe Ruth's double scored three runs. An error by Ruth and a passed ball by Bill Dickey led to both Dodger runs.

TIGERS WHIP REDS.

Cincinnati, O., April 15.—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers defeated Cincinnati, 7 to 4, again today in the Reds' last pre-season exhibition game.

Goose Goslin, Detroit left fielder, got in the way of a ball thrown by Catcher Lombardi in the seventh inning and suffered a nose injury that is expected to keep him out of the opening game with the Chicago White Sox.

Goslin was taken to Good Samaritan hospital after a hemmorhage that caused him to lose considerable blood. Hospital attendants said they did not believe his nose was fractured.

Dr. M. Scott Kearns advised that Goslin remain in the hospital tomorrow.

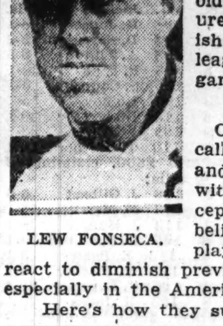
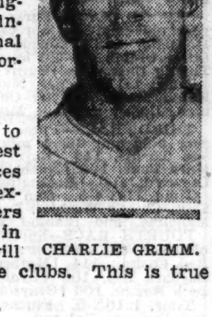
This Is Day All Big League Clubs Are Pennant Winners

New York, April 15.—(AP)—On the eve of the major league baseball pennant races, starting in Washington tomorrow and spreading to all fronts on Tuesday, all sixteen managers today donned rose colored glasses to view the forthcoming campaign with optimism.



LEW FONSECA.



CHARLIE GRIMM.

Seven of the eight pilots in the American league, including 71 year old Connie Mack of the Athletics, figure their clubs have a chance to finish in the first division. Five National league leaders consider they have organized real pennant contenders.

Races to Be Closer.

On this basis it may be necessary to call a trafic cop to control the closest and most exciting championship races witnessed in many years. Without exception the major league managers believe that the wholesale shakeups in player material since last season will react to diminish previous gaps in the standing of the clubs. This is true especially in the American league, it was pointed out.

Here's how they sum up the outlook:

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Lew Fonseca, White Sox: "The batting power of the White Sox is going to make the club a threat. The failure of Durham's sore arm to respond to treatment is a problem, but we still have several promising young pitchers to aid the veterans, Lyons and Earnshaw. Bonura has proved his ability to hit. We do not expect to finish worse than third."

Connie Mack, Athletics: "I am very optimistic we are going somewhere this year. Our team is not so bad as some baseball experts would have you think. If the team does what I expect of it, I feel we will have a good year."

Joe McCarthy, Yankees: "We are stronger than a year ago. The team has great offensive power. Defensively we are improved on the infield. Rolfe and Heffner will mean much to us around second base. Our pitching is promising, with Ruffing and MacFayden geared for successful campaigning. We ought to be in the fight all the way."

Walter Johnson, Cleveland: "The Indians look to me like a first division club. We have what I believe to be the best pitching staf and the best catcher (Pytlak) in the American league. We have a very good outfield. Our main weakness lies in the infield."

Rogers Hornsby, St. Louis: "The American league race is a tossup. The Browns have a better club, all members of which will be trying hard to get out of the cellar."

Joe Cronin, Senators: "We are going into the 1934 race with the confidence of pennant winners. Excepting Luke Sewell, our catcher, who still has a bad finger, and Al Crowder, who hasn't reached top pitching form yet, we are in splendid condition. Stone's spring training play has been outstanding. We hope to repeat although we look for stiffer competition from the Yankees, Red Sox, Tigers, and Indians."

Bucky Harris, Red Sox: "Lefty Grove's condition seems to threaten our immediate chances, but I think the club is fortified with enough other pitching strength to more than hold its own until he is available."

Mickey Cochrane, Detroit: "I feel sure we have a real first division club. We will have more punch than the Tigers of 1933, in addition to better pitching. The club will hustle every step of the way. The Senators and the Yankees are the clubs we will have to beat, but the entire league is better balanced than at any time in the last ten years."

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Charley Grimm, Cubs: "We intend to win the National league pennant. Our attack has been bolstered by Chuck Klein and the presence at the start of Kiki Cuyler, who was out the first half of last season with a broken leg. Our reserve strength is better and I have no worries as to pitching."

Bill Terry, Giants: "I am not claiming the pennant, but I believe we have a better ball club than we had last year and that we may win, with the benefit of a few breaks. At any rate, I do not concede any other club has a better chance than ours. We haven't looked so good against Cleveland and we miss Mancuso, but the hitting will improve and we will get some great pitching."

Frank Frisch, Cardinals: "I don't predict a pennant for the Cardinals, but that's our objective. We have a great club. I'm satisfied with all departments and we won't have any worries if the pitchers deliver."

Jimmie Wilson, Phillies: "We may not make as many runs as last year, but we will be faster, our defense will be better, and our opponents will not make as many runs. The team may not look as hot on paper as the outfit that included Whitney, Klein, Davis, and Lee, but it's twice as hot on the ball field and will win games."

George Gibson, Pirates: "If our pitching staf comes as expected the Pirates will be in the thick of the fight from the start. The staf appears strengthened by the addition of Red Lucas and the development of Lefty Birkhofer. Larry French is better than ever. We are strong in every position."

Bill McKechnie, Braves: "We are fortunate to get a man like Marty McManus for the infield, after losing Rabbit Maranville, and I see no reason why the Braves should not be in the pennant race from start to finish. All of these clubs claiming the flag will find they have us to reckon with."

Casey Stengel, Brooklyn: "I'm not making any predictions, but I will say we should beat out at least two other clubs and provide Brooklyn fans with some interesting baseball as we go along. We have some talented young players."

Bob O'Farrell, Cincinnati: "We have a good ball club and while we don't expect to win the pennant, our hitters are going to worry a lot of opposing pitchers. I will be satisfied if we can jump up a couple of notches in the standing."

Hornsby Will Play Third in Place of Clift

St. Louis, Mo., April 15.—(AP)—Rogers Hornsby, manager of the St. Louis Browns, who has been grooming young Harland Clift for third base, said tonight he intended to play the position in the opening game of the American league season at Cleveland Tuesday.

The veteran slugger, whose only appearance in exhibition games was at first base and as a pinch hitter, did not elaborate upon his statement.

Clift, a newcomer to the majors, has done well in exhibition games. Hornsby's decision to play was believed to have been prompted by the Browns' weak hitting.

Cincinnati Kickers Defeat Chicago Sports Club, 4-2

Cincinnati, O., April 15.—(AP)—The Cincinnati Kickers defeated the Chicago Sports club, 4 to 2, today in the first of a series of intercity soccer matches.

ELEANOR HOLM JARRETT SETS TWO NEW MARKS

Detroit, Mich., April 15.—(AP)—Eleanor Holm Jarrett broke two of her own American back stroke records today as the New York Women's Swimming association team was defeated by the Detroit Yacht club, 23 to 22, in a dual meet.

Mrs. Jarrett set both new records in one race against time. In the 220 yard she was timed in 2:51.9. This is five and seven-tenths of a second faster than the old American mark which Mrs. Jarrett set in Buffalo in 1932. The second record was 2:51 flat for the 200 meters. The old mark was 2:57.2 which she set in 1932.

Woman Bowler Makes Ninth Perfect Score

Hoboken, N. J., April 16.—(AP)—For the ninth time in her career Mrs. Floretta McCutcheon, Pueblo, Colo., rolled a perfect score of 300 in a bowling exhibition here tonight. The perfect score came at the outset of a series in which the Colorado star rolled games of 255 and 205 for a total of 760, her highest score of the season.

WHITEHILL WILL FACE WEILAND IN WASHINGTON

President May Pitch First Ball.

Washington, D. C., April 15.—(AP)—The stand-pat Washington Senators and the renovated Red Sox of Boston—with possibly a bit of help from President Roosevelt and the grace of the weather man—are poised to open the 1934 baseball season.

Joe Cronin, Washington manager, tonight named Earl Whitehill, left-hander, to start tomorrow's first game in either league. Whitehill won the Senators' lone victory against the Giants in last October's world series.

Stars on Bench.

Strangely enough, the star workhorse pitchers of both teams will be on the bench at the opening. Robert Moses [Lefty] Grove, minus a few molars, is recovering from his first sore arm. Alvin [General] Crowder, who apparently overworked himself last season, has been unable to round into the fine early spring pitcher he usually is.

Cronin has decided to make Crowder a relief hurler for a while and bring Jack Russell, the Senators' rescue star of last year, into a starting rôle. Crowder or Russell may pitch in tomorrow's game, however, as no Washington pitcher has yet gone nine innings this spring. The same may hold true in the case of Grove.

"The minute he says he's ready, I'm going to let him pitch," Harris told friends.

Clark Griffith, the Washington owner, has a date at the White House tomorrow morning to ask Mr. Roosevelt to toss out the first ball. Mr. Roosevelt very likely will say "yes."

Senate Declares Holiday.

In any event, senators are sure to be present in goodly numbers, for the senate has declared itself a holiday for tomorrow. More than a few house members probably will play hookey, as will cabinet members and other government officials.

Both the Red Sox and the Senators have come through the training season in reasonably good shape. Luke Sewell, regular Washington catcher, suffering from a bruised finger, will be replaced by Moe Berg, himself only partially recovered from the same ailment.

The game possibly will see the entry of Elmer Klumpp, third spring catcher, late of Chattanooga. Klumpp has been hitting heavily, but has been weak on pop fouls.

Ossie Bluege, veteran Senator, will be back on third wearing spectacles as a batting aid. John Stone, the only new face in the Washington lineup, will be in right field. Joe Judge, for many years a Senator, will be at first base for Boston. Bill Werber, a Washington high school product, will play short stop for the Red Sox. Generally, the same lineups as appeared during the training season will be used.

SENATORS WIN, 12-7.

Baltimore, Md., April 15.—(AP)—Washington, champions of the American league, defeated the Baltimore Orioles of the International league, 12 to 7, today in an exhibition game.

The Senators made 18 hits off three Baltimore pitchers, while the Orioles got nine from a like number of Senator hurlers. Score:

Washington ....401 005 002—12 18 0
Baltimore ....007 000 000— 7 9 2

London Girl Races Against Big Ben; Wins by 2 Strokes

LONDON, April 15.—(AP)—Florence Ilott, 19 year old amateur sprinter and member of the house of commons catering staf, undertook Saturday to run across Westminster bridge before Big Ben had finished striking 12. Wearing shorts and singlet she started at the first stroke of noon, ran through the sidewalk trafic and reached the far side before the 10th stroke. The distance is 252 yards and Big Ben takes 46 seconds to toll 12.

Hey, Alaska!

Or maybe you don't live in Alaska. A good many people don't. But whether your home is in the Klondike, Kenosha, Wis., or Kenmore avenue in Chicago, it's time to order tickets for the fourth International Golden Gloves bouts at Chicago Stadium May 23.

The champions of Poland against the champions of Chicagoland! That's the program. If you saw any of the Golden Gloves fights this year, you'll be coming back for more. If you missed those battles in February and March, your friends probably have urged you never to be absent again.

Mail check or money order to Golden Gloves Ticket Manager, Tribune Tower, Chicago, Ill. Prices are $3.30, $2.20, $1.65, $1.10, and 55 cents. All seats are reserved.

FIERRO, O'DOWD MEET TONIGHT ON MARIGOLD CARD

Sisk and Joy Will Clash at Midway Arena.

Two small clubs tonight will continue the business of supplying Chicago fans with boxing entertainment. Big names are missing but that does not detract from the interest of the shows.

Harry Fierro, local bantamweight, is matched with Bobby O'Dowd of Sioux City, Ia., for eight rounds at Marigold Gardens, Broadway and Grace street. At Midway arena, 6115 Cottage Grove avenue, Dick Sisk and Mickey Joy, Brighton Park welterweight rivals, clash in the eight round windup.

Fierro returned a few weeks ago from a two years' campaign in China, Japan, Philippine Islands, Mexico, California, and Washington. He engaged in 17 battles on the tour, losing six. His most prominent triumphs were scored over Little Pancho in California and Joe Grande in the Philippines. O'Dowd is a veteran of 135 fights and has been defeated only 16 times. Probably his best accomplishment is a draw with Young Rightmier. He won his four appearances here, defeating Lenny Cohen and Jimmy Eliopoulos twice each. Supporting matches:

Bud Dempsey vs. Lenny Cohen [5], 118.
Johnny Liston vs. Eddie Allen [4], 160.
Jackie London vs. Frank Keevil [4], 139.
Sammy Richman vs. Johnny Reba [4], 135.
Al Williams vs. George Jonasen [wrestling].

The Joy-Sisk contest is attracting its share of attention at Midway. Johnny Coulon has attempted to match the pair on several occasions. The rivalry is reported intense. Jack Kranz, Gary, Ind., heavyweight, and Biff Bennett of Fort Sheridan are paired in the four round semi-final. Preliminary bouts:

Joey Esposito and Eddie Smith [4], junior welterweights.
Lester Schultz and Joe Serletic [4], welterweights.
Al Woznica and Tony Hajdich [wrestling].

Two other matches are scheduled.

The first of a series of bimonthly amateur boxing shows will be held Friday night at the Polish Youth organization, 4637 South Ashland avenue. Sam Zaczek, flyweight runner-up to Johnny Noto for the Golden Gloves novice title at the Chicago Stadium, will appear in the windup bout against Fred Brown. Eight other matches are carded, one between wrestlers.

Henry Rothier, Chicago welterweight, has been substituted for Johnny Stroppa against Eddie Ran, Polish title claimant, on the Kid Leonard-Tait Littman program at Milwaukee, Wis., tonight. The bout is slated for six rounds. It may be one of Rothier's hardest tests. Henry whipped Young Terry, Danny Delmont, Billy Hoon, Lou Avery, Joe Redd, Billy Miller, Jackie Purvus, and Meyer Grace in succession in recent weeks.

MATA HARI ON DERBY SCENE; 2 RUN FAST TRIALS

Louisville, Ky., April 15.—(AP)—The arrival of Mata Hari, C. T. Fisher Derby candidate, from Lexington held the center of the pre-Derby stage today. Scanty workouts, however, produced two excellent performances.

Dan Sabath, owned by Al Sabath of Chicago, worked with Norman D., his stable's secondary Derby candidate, over a mile course. Norman D. started four lengths in front of Dan Sabath, but at the six furlong mark Dan was leading by two lengths. Dan Sabath did the quarter in :24, half in :48, three-quarters in 1:13 3-5, and then galloped out the mile in 1:42 1-5. Norman D. did the three-quarters in 1:14 3-5 and finished out the mile in 1:44 1-5. Al Sabath was here to witness the trials.

Joseph E. Widener's Peace Chance, working with the older horse, Golden Way, also turned in what railbirds considered an excellent workout. The pair went as a team, doing the quarter in :25 2-5, half in :50 4-5, three-quarters in 1:16 and the mile in 1:42 2-5, under double wraps.

Among the other workouts today was a short dash by Fogarty, which did five-eighths of a mile in 1:02 2-5.

HOLD FINALS IN PING-PONG MEET AT I. A. C. TONIGHT

Finals in the Board of Education playgrounds' ping-pong tournament, for which more than 6,000 boys registered, will be held tonight at the Illinois Athletic club, 112 South Michigan avenue. The first of the finals will start at 7:15 o'clock.

The tournament is divided into two classes, junior and intermediate, and it will include both singles and doubles competition, according to Herman J. Fischer, director of the bureau of recreation for the Board of Education. The schedule of tonight's finals follows:

Intermediate Singles—William Page, Avondale playground, vs. William Sampson, Lawson playground.

MIDWEST LEAGUE TO MEET.

A meeting of the Midwest Baseball league will be held tonight at the Harding hotel. Forty-three teams are entered in the league.

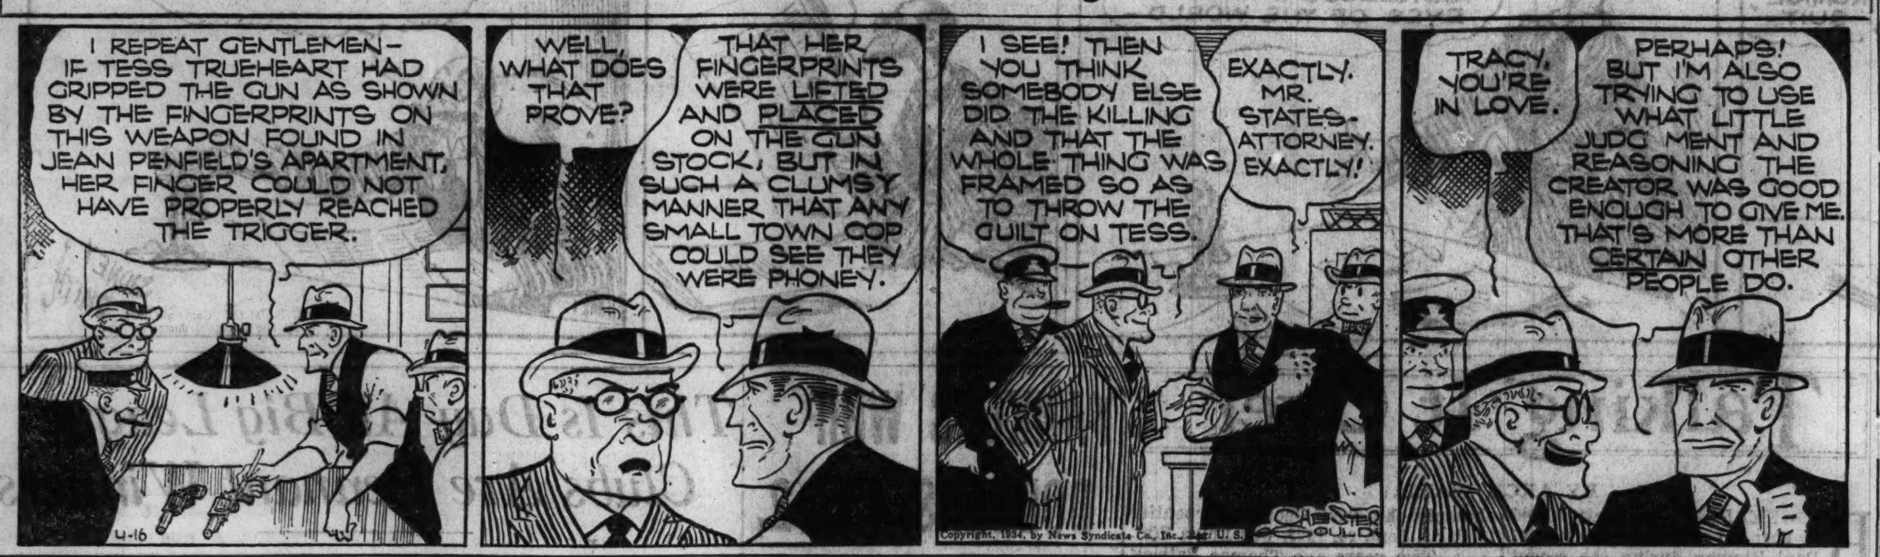
DICK TRACY—Refuting Evidence



I REPEAT GENTLEMEN-IF TESS TRUEHEART HAD GRIPPED THE GUN AS SHOWN BY THE FINGERPRINTS ON THIS WEAPON FOUND IN JEAN PENFIELD'S APARTMENT, HER FINGER COULD NOT HAVE PROPERLY REACHED THE TRIGGER.
WELL, WHAT DOES THAT PROVE?
THAT HER FINGERPRINTS WERE LIFTED AND PLACED ON THE GUN STOCK, BUT IN SUCH A CLUMSY MANNER THAT ANY SMALL TOWN COP COULD SEE THEY WERE PHONEY.
I SEE! THEN YOU THINK SOMEBODY ELSE DID THE KILLING AND THAT THE WHOLE THING WAS FRAMED SO AS TO THROW THE GUILT ON TESS.
EXACTLY. MR. STATES-ATTORNEY. EXACTLY!
TRACY, YOU'RE IN LOVE.

HADDOCK AND NICHOLS TO MEET ON RAINBO CARD

Matchmaker Hynekk Howell has completed the card for the wrestling show at the Rainbo Fronton Wednesday night. Dale Haddock and Jackie Nichols, the latter from Tampa, Fla., will appear in the 90 minute windup.

Frankie Hart, Holland light heavyweight, meets Gorilla Parker in a 30 minute bout. Hart threw Tony Papilino in five minutes last Wednesday.

John Fultanis meets Zack Malkov in another 30 minute encounter. Walter Roxy of Fort Wayne is scheduled to face Pierre La Belle, Canadian star. Al Williams and Jack Ross will complete the card.

Chocolate and Levinsky Head Week's Fights

New York, April 15.—(AP)—California has a virtual monopoly on boxing this week. Three major shows featuring Kid Chocolate, King Levinsky, and Bob Godwin will be held on the west coast, while boxing arenas in other sections are idle or offer less important bouts.

Chocolate, Cuban featherweight, begins what he hopes will be a successful comeback campaign at San Francisco tomorrow night. Knocked out by Frankie Klick in his last start, stripped of his claim to the featherweight title by the New York state athletic commission, Chocolate will start on the comeback road in a ten round match with Frankie Wallace, Cleveland lightweight.

Levinsky, Chicago heavyweight, meets Lee Ramage, San Diego, at Los Angeles Tuesday night, while Godwin, who held Mickey Walker to a draw last week, faces Frank Rowsey, Los Angeles, at Hollywood Friday.

Bouts on the national schedule:

TUESDAY—At Los Angeles, Lee Ramage vs. King Levinsky, heavyweights [10]; at Portland, Ore., Bert Paxton vs. Sig Eckland, light heavyweights [10]; at Jacksonville, Fla., Eddie Burl vs. Ray Schneider, featherweights [12], and Lope Tenorio vs. Billy Hood, welterweights [10]; at Cleveland, Eddie Simms vs. Charley Massera, heavyweights; Jimmy Vaughn vs. Lew Feldman, featherweights, and Mickey Dugan vs. George Nichols, light heavyweights [each 10]; at West Palm Beach, Fla., Relampo Saguero vs. Billy Shell, middleweights [10].

WEDNESDAY—At Kansas City, Joey Alcanter vs. Tommy Corbett, junior lightweights [8]; at St. Louis, Natie Brown vs. Al Stillman, heavyweights [10]; at Cincinnati, Roughouse Glover vs. Sammy Slaughter, middleweights [10].

THURSDAY—At St. Paul, Base Daniels vs. Frankie Neenan, lightweights, and My Sullivan vs. Johnny Simpson, middleweights [each 6]; at Milwaukee, Kid Leonard vs. Tait Littman, middleweights [10].

Singing Wood Is Second Choice in Derby Book

St. Louis, Mo., April 15.—(AP)—Mrs. J. H. Whitney's Singing Wood, 1933 Futurity winner, received the bulk of the play last week in Tom Kearney's line on the Kentucky Derby, the betting commissioner said today.

Singing Wood now is second choice with Mata Hari and Riskulus at 8 to 1 to win, 4 to 1 to place, and 2 to 1 to show. Sir Thomas, the favorite, is quoted at 6, 3, and 3-2.

Chicstraw and Cavalcade are 12, 6, and 3; Baker's Dozen, Bazaar, Time Clock, and Discovery, 20, 10, and 5, and Black Buddy and Sergt. Byrne, 30, 15, and 8.

MARCEITA WINS TANFORAN STAKE IN STRETCH DRIVE

San Bruno, Cal., April 15.—(AP)—Staving off a determined bid in the stretch, Marceita of the Meadowbrook stables won the feature race at Tanforan today by a head from Onrush before 15,000.

The winner, which made the mile and 70 yards in 1:42 2-5, got away to a four length lead almost at the start. But in the stretch Onrush came up fast, closing the gap and threatening to run away with the race.

New Sun, which placed third, was five lengths behind Marceita and Onrush. Marceita paid in the mutuels $4.20, $2.80, and $2.20. Onrush paid $2.80 and $2.20 and New Sun $2.40.

Squabbing Was Popular in Civil War Days.

BY BOB BECKER.

Spring migration of birds brings northward countless thousands of feathered travelers. But residents of the middle west who are old enough to remember the great flights of passenger pigeons are ready to tell the world that no bird flight to be seen today can compare with the huge flocks of passenger pigeons which used to nest in the Mississippi valley.

1865 Pigeon Flights.

Orrin F. Smith of Winona, Minn., has sent in excerpts from newspapers published in 1865 discribing pigeon flights in the Mississippi valley. Anyone who has not had the luck to see those pigeon flocks can hardly believe some of the descriptions. In commenting on these newspaper clippings, Mr. Smith writes:

"I was a steamboat agent more than 40 years ago and being now retired, typing steamboat news of early days is one of my methods of finding entertainment during my waking hours. That accounts for the finding of the passenger pigeon items, for I've been through the files of our local paper [Winona Daily Republican] for the years 1855 to 1866."

Squabbing Was Amusing.

One of the newspaper stories about pigeons which Mr. Smith has sent was taken from the issue of May 31, 1865. It reads as follows:

"Squabbing—The woods near Chatfield are said to be literally alive with young pigeons, or squabs, which have obtained a good, eatable size. The amusement in catching them is said to surpass chicken hunting or trout fishing in excitement or real sport. The kind friends of Chatfield intend to have a grand picnic on the grounds next Saturday, and cordially invite people hereaway to join with them, as will be seen by the following:

"'Editor of the Winona Republican:

"'Dear Sir.—The ladies and gentlemen of this place have decided to have a general pic-nic party on Saturday next, for the purpose to taking young pigeons in the grove near here. We would cordially invite all our friends of Winona and vicinity to come and enjoy the day with us.

"'ISAAC DAY.'"

"We presume a number of our citizens will avail themselves of this opportunity to rusticate and enjoy the fine amusement."

Shake Squabs from Trees.

Two hundred squab passenger pigeons in a couple of hours . . . that apparently was nothing at the time of the civil war. On June 5, 1865, the Winona Republican carried this item about the sport of gathering squabs from the pigeon roosts:

"A sporting trio returned this morning from the great pigeon roost near Chatfield. They brought with them about a hundred and fifty live squabs, and report any quantity of fun. Hundreds of people assembled to enjoy the sport. The squabs are shaken from the trees, and fall an easy prey to their captors. Our Winona friends bagged a couple of hundred in two hours."

RED SOX DEFEAT BRAVES, 10-3, IN CITY SERIES FINAL

Welch Goes Route; Allows Only Seven Hits.

Boston, Mass., April 15.—(AP)—The Red Sox defeated the Braves, 10 to 3, in the fifth and last game of Boston's spring series before a 12,000 crowd today.

The Braves won the first three games of the series, two of them in the south, and the Red Sox captured the two here. John Welch pitched the distance for the Red Sox and held the Braves to seven hits, all singles. The Red Sox hammered Huck Betts for eight runs after 2 were out in the fifth inning. Score:

JACK GITTERS CAPTURE K. OF C. BOWLING TITLE

Milwaukee, Wis., April 15.—(AP)—The Jack Gitters squad of Green Bay, Wis., rolling on the final shift of the twelfth annual Knights of Columbus bowling tournament, won the five man championship tonight. The Gitters had a total of 2,921, finishing five pins better than the De Soto Majors of Chicago, who went into the lead a week ago.

The final week-end failed to displace leaders in other departments. Phil Bauman and Chick Crygier of the Palace Recreation team of Detroit, won the doubles with 1,293. J. Makowski of Chicago, finished first in singles with 670. The all events went to Phil Bauman, Detroit, who spilled 1,886 pins. Final standings:

TEXAS PROMOTER CONTINUES PLANS FOR ROSS BOUT

Herrera took a light workout. Promoter Dick Griffin, who has appealed to the national boxing association to force Ross to fight, said the match was "still on."

Grace, Chicago, Quintet Wins Lutheran Title

Grace, Chicago, yesterday defeated Grace, River Forest, 21 to 3, to win the men's heavyweight basketball championship of the Evangelical Lutheran Athletic association. The game was played at Olivet institute gymnasium. The winners' passing and defense stopped the River Forest five.

Other scores:

Preps to Play Sudden Death in Basketball

New York, April 15.—[Special.]—The national basketball committee today concluded its two-day conference by making eight minor changes in the rules for the 1934-'35 season. All of them are of a technical nature or for purposes of clarification. All radical changes were referred to the research committee for further study and experimentation.

The most important change is one that awards victory to the first team to score two points in overtime play. This ruling is to apply only to high school tournaments for the present, but Oswald Tower, editor of the Basketball Guide, stated this sudden death system may be adopted by mutual agreement of any two teams.

Rule May Become Regular.

This will result in experimentation by many college teams. Should it prove satisfactory it eventually may be adopted as a regular rule. There is little possibility that such a step will be taken in the immediate future, however.

The other changes follow:

1. The dimensions of the ideal playing court should be 50 feet by 90 feet for colleges, 50 feet by 84 feet for high schools, and 42 feet by 74 feet for junior high schools.
2. The circumference of the ball is to be not less than 29½ inches or more than 30¼ inches.
3. A penalty of one technical foul for each minute of delay when a team fails to report ready for play at the start of each half.
4. The number of the player to be four inches high on the front of his shirt and the number on the back to be six inches high.
5. Officials must hand the ball to the player starting action from an out-of-bounds play.
6. On a free throw successfully made, time will not be resumed until the ball is put into play at center.
7. On a free throw resulting from a personal foul time will not start until the ball misses the basket.

Will Rewrite Rules.

The national committee, which is composed of officials and which was presided over by Floyd Rowe of Cleveland, also voted to rewrite the rules on the duties of officials, so as to provide for the double referee system.

A special article will be written for the annual basketball guide, the handbook of officials, on the practice of drawing fouls, the article warning officials to watch for such methods of play.

Because the ten second rule has done away with a player holding the ball in the back court, the committee will rewrite the rule calling for a jump ball when a closely guarded player holds the ball too long in the back court.

L. W. St. John of Ohio State university was elected chairman of the national committee. The other officers chosen were Rowe, vice chairman; George T. Hepbron, New York, secretary, and A. E. Metzdorf, Rochester, N. Y., treasurer.

INDIANA BOWLER BOWLS 300 GAME AT ELKS' TOURNEY

Cleveland, O., April 15.—(AP)—A perfect score was chalked up today by Jess Pritchett, Indianapolis, in the finals of the national Elks bowling tournament when, in the doubles, he rolled a 300 game. Other games of 207 and 213 gave him a 720 series, which, coupled with a 606 series by his partner, J. Fehr, for an aggregate 1,326, was good enough for second place.

T. David, Massillon, O., went into first place in the singles of the tournament, which had been in progress since March 24, with 705. C. Lausche and R. Rice, Cleveland, led the doubles with 1,331; Waldorf Golden Bocks, Cleveland, took the team event with 3,209, and Lausche won the all-events with 2,044.

DE PAUL, PURDUE TO BATTLE JAN. 1 IN BASKETBALL

De Paul university will meet Purdue university in basketball next year, Athletic Director Jim Kelly announced yesterday. The contest has been scheduled for Jan. 1 in Chicago. De Paul was one of the two major university basketball teams to come through last season without defeat. The Blue Demons won 17 games.

Threatening Weather Forces Postponement of Auto Race

Ascot Speedway, Los Angeles, April 15.—(AP)—Overcast skies today caused a postponement until next Sunday of the 150 mile Targo Florio road race. Twenty cars had been entered for the event which was to be over the up and down hill mile and one-half course. A crowd of several thousand persons was on hand when officials called off the race due to the possibility of rain.

Opening Bouts in J. O. Y. Wrestling Tourney Today

The amateur wrestling tournament sponsored by the Jewish Organized Youth will open this afternoon at the Douglas park gymnasium with preliminary bouts contested by grammar school entrants.

The first round in the senior division will be held Wednesday night at the American Boys' commonwealth, 3415 West 13th street. A third group, the intermediate, is to engage in preliminary matches Thursday at the Deborah Boys' club, 2441 West Division street.

A total entry of 200 will compete. Finals in all classes will be held at the Jewish People's institute Saturday night.

The Deborah Boys' and American Commonwealth clubs are leading contenders for the Julius Brody team trophy. These two clubs account for 50 per cent of the total entrants. Joe Elfman, 100 pounds; Jerry Levin, 80, and Eli Weren, heavyweight, are outstanding members of the Deborah club, while Leonard Levine, 120, and Sam Heller hold the same distinction on the American Commonwealth's squad.

Wonderbolts Beat All-Star Eleven, 2 to 1

The Wieboldt Wonderbolts defeated the International league All Stars, 2 to 1, at De Paul stadium yesterday in an interleague soccer match. The All Stars had the best of the opening exchanges, Kramer beating Hjulian, who was playing his last game of the season in Chicago. He has been chosen goalie on the American team which will play for the world's championships next month at Rome.

Near the close of the first period Cuthburt tied the score. Playing the class of ball that put them in the western final for the national cup, the Wonderbolts finally got the ball past Ribe.

Lineup:

Army Poloists Beat Mexico in Overtime, 9-8

MEXICO, D. F., April 15.—(AP)—Jamming through the winning goal after four minutes of exciting overtime play, the American All-Army polo four defeated Mexico, 9 to 8, today for their second successive victory in the three game series.

Mexico rallied to tie the score at 8-all a half minute before the close of the eighth chukker, but the Americans came back in the extra period to win on a 70 yard drive by Maj. C. C. Smith.

Smith Ties Score.

The Americans came from behind twice to save the game and win possession of a cup donated by President Abelardo Rodriguez. Mexico took a one goal lead at the end of the fourth chukker and stayed in front until the seventh, when Smith outguessed the home defense to tie the score at 7 all.

Halfway through the eighth chukker Maj. J. N. Swing, back for the Americans, drove a long shot through the posts. The Mexican team captain, Gen. Jaime Quinones, protested the goal on the ground that he had called time out because his reins were broken. After a 20 minute delay, however, the goal was ruled good.

Mexicans Miss Chances.

Shortly before the end, a foul was called on the Americans, and Capt. Antonio Nava made good on the free shot from the 40 yard mark. Early in the extra chukker the Mexicans had all the better of the going and barely missed several shots. Then Swing got the ball, passed to Lieut. McFarland, who relayed it in turn to Maj. Smith halfway down the field. Smith then sent it through the posts in two well directed shots.

The Americans had won the first game last Sunday, 12 to 4.

Lineups:

UNITED STATES [9].		MEXICO [8].
Capt. E. C. Davis	No. 1	Capt. Gracia
Maj. C. C. Smith	No. 2	Capt. Nava
Lieut. McFarland	No. 3	Gen. Quinones
Maj. J. N. Swing	Back	Capt. Perez

Score by chukkers:

United States.....2 1 2 0 1 0 1 1 1—9

ORDER LONDOS TO CALL OFF MATCH AT MILWAUKEE

Chicago wrestling fans will see Jim Londos again Friday when he meets Gino Garibaldi in the windup of the Stadium's card, but fans in Milwaukee, who were expecting to watch Londos perform Thursday, will have to wait.

The Illinois athletic commission today will tell Ed White, Londos' manager, that he must cancel the Milwaukee match.

The commission at last week's meeting waived its rule calling for a windup performer to be on the battle ground three days in advance of a match. It gave Jim permission to report in Chicago Thursday after a bout in Montreal Wednesday night. Then it was learned that Londos was planning to appear in Milwaukee Thursday.

The Montreal bout now has been advanced to tonight.

The Stadium's wrestling department has arranged the following matches to support the feature match:

Everett Marshall vs. Cliff Olsen.
Jagot Singh vs. Sun Jennings.
Joe Malcewicz vs. Hans Kampfer.
Jack Smith vs. Dutch Hefner.

PREP BASEBALL TEAMS TO OPEN BATTLES TODAY

Schurz, Senn Only North Section Nines Carded.

Today's Games

Schurz at Senn.

SOUTH SECTION.
Bowen at Morgan Park.
Parker vs. Calumet.
Hirsch at Fenger.

CENTRAL SECTION.
Tilden at Hyde Park.
Phillips at Englewood.
Harper at Lindblom.

WEST SECTION.
Austin at Crane.
Marshall vs. Harrison.
Kelvyn Park at Farragut.

Although deprived of outdoor practice because of inclement weather, City league high school baseball teams will start their 1934 campaign this afternoon. With the addition of several schools during the basketball season the roster of competitors was brought to twenty-eight.

The campaign will start in earnest in the west, central, and south sections of the league, but only one game is scheduled in the north section, between Schurz and Senn. The place has not as yet been decided.

Newcomers Show Promise.

In the south section Bowen looks hopefully towards capturing its fifth straight sectional title. Thus far this year Bowen has won six games and will go into its seventh against Morgan Park, place undetermined. Edgren probably will pitch and Jack Pillon will catch. In Edgren, Coach Aplegran has found as excellent southpaw pitcher.

In the west section Kelvyn Park and Farragut, which meet on the Farragut field, are considered dark horses. Both schools, newcomers to the league, have shown talent during practice games.

Lane Opens Tuesday.

Lane Tech, 1933 league champion, will start its schedule Tuesday when it meets Amundsen at Logan Square. Amundsen is another newcomer in the league. Coach Percy S. Moore's 1934 Lane team, strengthened with six regulars, Cavaretta, Spanncraft, Polachanin, Wojcik, Frys, and Kraus, are once more favorites to win. Lane under Coach Moore won the title in 1920, '21, '25, '26, '27, '30, '31, '32, and '33. In only one year, 1924, did Lane fail to win the north section championship or play in the final game for the title.

Norb Hope, who was a second string outfielder last season, will be given a trial at first base because of his extraordinary height and reach. Another second string outfielder who will get a regular berth is Hank Meyers, who was the batting sensation of the American Legion meet last summer, in which Coach Moore's team, composed almost entirely of Lane stars, won the national title. Tech this year has won six straight games.

Roosevelt will meet Lake View at Welles park also on Tuesday.

TITLE SOCCER MATCH CALLED OFF; WET FIELD

St. Louis, Mo., April 15.—(AP)—The national championship soccer game between the Rangers of Pawtucket, R. I., and the Stix, Baer & Fullers of St. Louis, defending champions, scheduled for this afternoon, was postponed until tomorrow night because of rain.

A steady downpour turned the field at Walsh stadium into a quagmire, and officials decided to postpone the contest. The field, home of the St. Louis university football team, is equipped with flood lights.

The Rangers, eastern champions, and the Stix, Baer & Fullers divided the first two games of the title series.

BOND PRICES SET NEW HIGHS FOR LAST TWO YEARS

Demand Unabated During Week; Federals Gain.

New York, April 15.—(AP)—The bond market last week continued to establish new high prices for the last two years or longer as the demand for both speculative and prime investment issues appeared unabated.

While the daily volumes were not quite as large as some of those in the early part of the year, they were still considerably above normal.

Not only was strength displayed by high grade and secondary corporate loans, but United States government securities reached peak levels for the last 12 months or more. Bankers characterized the treasury's new 3¼ per cent conversion loan, on which the books closed Thursday at midnight, as a "distinct success."

New Issue Around 102.

The new 3¼s were traded over the counter on a "when issued" basis at a price of around 102. Those few holders of the called fourth 4¼s who failed to make the exchange were, of course, the losers because they will receive only par for their bonds.

The decision to call two more of the Liberty series, amounting to $1,200,000,000, for redemption on Oct. 15, was not unexpected in banking quarters. It has been the opinion in Wall street that another conversion offer would be made to holders of these series.

Loans to brokers rose above $1,000,000,000 for the first time since 1931, but this did not indicate excessive participation in either stocks or the general run of bonds. The rise was principally due to increased lending by banks to dealers who were buying the called Liberty series and the maturing treasury notes to turn them in for conversion.

Bank Reserves Rise.

In the week ended Wednesday the reserves of federal reserve member banks rose $110,000,000 to a record high of $3,560,000,000. At the same time excess reserves came back to their recent peak of $1,500,000,000. The spurt in reserves was due largely to treasury disbursements which again were financed by the deposit of gold certificates with the banks instead of by withdrawals of government deposits.

The loans market paid little attention to strikes and threats of strikes, or to the erratic tendencies shown by stocks. Most rail issues also ignored the sharp decline in freight car loadings for the previous week.

Foreign obligations were rather quiet. Japanese bonds moved forward steadily, but the Germans were again soft owing principally to fears that the reich will suspend or cut interest payments on its external debts.

New York Edison.

Investors' Guide: Do you consider the following bond good for conservative investment: New York Edison first and refunding 5s, due 1944?—S. B. H.

Answer: New York Edison company operates in a highly concentrated district, ideal for a distributor of electrical energy. Fixed costs are relatively small in relation to volume. Diversification of demand enables the company to use its equipment with a high degree of effectiveness.

Earnings have been substantial. This, combined with a moderate degree of funded debt, only 26 per cent of total capitalization, and a strong current position, entitles the company's bonds to a sound rating.

Fixed charges were earned 4.36 times in 1933, against 4.99 times in 1932, 6.77 times in 1931, and 6.88 times in 1930. Falling off of margin of coverage was due to decreased industrial activity and to increased interest charges. There is the possibility of rate reductions, but the wide margin of coverage of charges for the bonds, prospect of increased industrial activity and conservative capitalization should affect the strong position of the bonds but little.

At the close of 1933 current assets were more than four times current liabilities.

Recent completion of the hook-up with Niagara Hudson Power system should enable the company to operate at greater efficiency. It has strong sponsorship in its parent company, Consolidated Gas company of New York.

Hart-Carter Company.

Investors' Guide: Please give me any information you may have on Hart-Carter stock.—M. B.

Answer: Hart-Carter company manufactures grain handling machinery and equipment for threshing machines and combines. Earnings during the last three years reflect the low levels of grain prices prevailing during the period.

Loss in the year ended Nov. 30, 1933, was $126,000, against loss of $167,000 in the preceding year and loss of $75,000 in the year ended Nov. 30, 1931. In the year ended Nov. 30, 1930, net income was $131,000, which was only 99 cents per share of $2 preferred stock.

On Nov. 30, 1933, current assets were $1,344,000 and current liabilities were $76,000. Cash and marketable securities alone of $826,000 were more than ten times current liabilities.

Capitalization consists of 111,473 shares of $2 cumulative convertible no par preference stock and 300,100 shares of no par common. The preferred is convertible, share for share, into common at any time. Nothing has been paid on the stock since Dec. 1, 1931. It is speculative. The common is purely speculative.

East Coast Utilities Co. Plan Is Being Completed

The reorganization plan of the East Coast Utilities Co. is being completed and securities issuable under the plan are ready for delivery. This was announced yesterday by the reorganization committee of which E. C. Delafield is chairman. City Bank-Farmers Trust Co., New York, and the Provident Trust Co. of Philadelphia have been named depositaries for the two classes of securities.

LIMITED WHEAT PRICE RANGE PUZZLES TRADE

Changes Are Small Despite Selling.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Liquidation has been under way in the wheat market for a number of weeks, but the limited range of prices during the last six weeks has been surprising. Since March 1 the May future has sold between 84¼ and 89¼ cents, during which period the open interest in that delivery has been cut from 86,768,000 bushels to 52,340,000 at the close Friday, or around 34,000,000 bushels. The total open interest in all futures has been reduced 12,000,000 bushels, suggesting there has been a great deal of outright selling in the May.

Close students of the market believe the foundation is being laid for a major price movement one way or the other from the current level, but as yet they cannot determine whether it will be up or down.

Traders Cautious.

Should the international wheat conference at Rome find a solution to the problem of how to cut the world's large carryover either through increasing the consumption or by other means, the effect on world markets might be drastic.

Considerable liquidation in May wheat is inevitable before the end of the month. Until this is out of the way or a major crop scare appears, the market probably will remain a trading affair. Wheat closed Saturday with net losses of 1½ to 1⅞ cents for the week, with May finishing at 84¾ cents, July at 84⅞ cents, and September at 85⅞ cents. Range of prices follows:

	May.	July.	September.

Corn Liquidation Continues

Continued liquidation in May corn tended to obscure a number of factors which under normal conditions might have had considerable influence on the market. The hog-corn production control program is drawing to a close, and it is generally believed the AAA has to a large extent accomplished its purpose of reducing the acreage around 20 per cent from the 1932-33 average. As the bulk of the reduction will be in Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, and several other states which furnish practically all of the commercial corn of the country, the market is expected to be unusually susceptible to a crop scare in case one should develop.

The lack of subsoil moisture which prevails over a large part of the leading agricultural section is regarded by some as furnishing the background for a crop scare such as developed in 1933, when the yield was well below normal. It is estimated over 50 per cent of the total farm reserve of corn in Illinois, Iowa, and Nebraska has been pledged as collateral for government loans, leaving comparatively little grain to come forward between now and Aug. 1.

Free Supplies Modest.

While feeding has been reduced to a considerable extent, the supply of free grain is not regarded as large under any condition.

The after planting movement of corn to terminal markets, it is believed, may fall short of trade expectations, especially if it appears there is to be a dry summer. Until the liquidating movement in the May future is over a majority of operators look for the market to be little affected by supply and demand factors, unless they are backed by developments at Washington which would materially increase outside speculative interest.

Corn closed with net losses of 1½ to 2 cents for the week, with May finishing Saturday at 46⅞ cents, July at 49¾ cents, and September at 51¾ cents. Range of prices follows:

	May.	July.	September.
Monday	.48¾-.49⅛	.51¼-.51⅝	.53¼-.53¾

Oats Near Season's Low.

May oats sold within 1⅛ cents of the lowest level of the season last week. It is believed there will be further selling between now and May 1. So far the anticipated shortage of cash oats has failed to develop.

Seeding of the new oats crop is rapidly nearing completion, especially in the more southern sections of the belt, and reports indicate rain would be beneficial over a considerable area to give the grain a good start. Net losses for the week were 2¾ to 3⅜ cents, with May closing Saturday at 29⅜ cents, July at 30⅛ cents, and September at 30⅝ cents.

U. S. May Seek Larger Wheat Export Quota

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, April 15.—The United States probably will request an increase in its export quota under the world wheat agreement before approving a system of minimum export prices agreed upon yesterday by the world advisory commission, it was indicated by agricultural officials.

With a carryover of nearly 400,000,000 bushels from previous crop years, the United States will have an additional 80,000,000 bushels for export from the current crop, assuming a normal supply of spring wheat. The proposed fixing of minimum prices below which wheat would not be sold on the world market is regarded favorably by the department of agriculture but would be of little use to this country unless a larger quota is provided, officials said.

The present quota on United States wheat exports under the world agreement is 47,000,000 bushels, compared with 110,000,000 bushels for Argentina, 105,000,000 bushels for Australia and 200,000,000 bushels for Canada. For the 1934-35 crop year the United States quota is increased to 90,000,000 bushels, with proportionate increases in the quotas of the other three exporting nations.

Recent Exports Small.

Due to the wide disparity between domestic and world wheat prices exports from the United States have been relatively insignificant. Total shipments from last July to March were only 23,000,000 bushels, compared with 82,000,000 bushels for 1932 and 149,000,000 bushels in 1930.

Thus, at the present time, an enlarged quota for the United States would be of little advantage since domestic prices are still considerably above Liverpool. But Secretary Wallace and his associates consider a closer alignment between domestic and world prices to be inevitable within the next six or eight months.

As to whether this closer alignment is to come about by reduction in the domestic price or an increase in the world level, Secretary Wallace said it probably will be "a little of both." But when the adjustment comes, the administration is expected to press for a considerably larger export quota.

Wants Workable Plan.

Asked concerning his attitude regarding the proposed pegging of world wheat prices, Secretary Wallace said this week:

"We want to be sure it is done in a way that can be carried out. We don't want to be a party to something that breaks down right away. We feel it is necessary to back up any such agreement by control of the supply situation.

"There is a tendency in so many of these nations to hold the price up at a point which expands the supply. They have used so many devices all over the world that it is producing world chaos and intolerable pressure on different nations to take care of the expanding supply which is produced by the high price."

FIELD DEMAND BRIGHT SPOT OF CHICAGO TRADE

While more than 4,000 buyers were in Chicago last week, attending the annual spring market week sponsored by the Chicago Association of Commerce, heaviest demand came directly from consumers in the field, the trade group reports.

Heavier mail orders and larger demands from salesmen representing local manufacturing and wholesale firms featured the week's business. In retail circles lower temperatures resulted in a slight recession in sales from the preceding week, although total volume continued to equal 1931 levels. Retail automobile sales were large, lighter models proving the best sellers.

Industrially, Chicago is still moving forward, says the association. Steel advanced two points in output during the period while in other branches of capital goods industry demand for equipment required by the public works administration brought noticeable improvement.

WALL ST. LOOKS TO WASHINGTON FOR GUIDANCE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 15.—Pending light on the all important question of where the New Deal is going from here, the share market continues to be in no hurry to do anything worth while. The averages moved less than three quarters of a point last week.

The concensus in the trading community is that there will be a great display of energy in Washington over the next few weeks, but whether it is going to carry the administration's "managed economy" program more to the right or still further to the left is a matter of no little conjecture and anxiety. How is the President going to take the modification of some of his pet projects undertaken by congress while he was away fishing: the extraction of the security control exchange bill's "teeth," for instance, and the drive for silver legislation? What is going to be the fate of the Wagner labor bill and the new tax proposals now coming to the fore?

Hesitate to Take Chances.

Stock traders would like to have an inkling of information on some of these insistent matters before getting into deep water on the possibility of a belated spring rise in security prices. Advices of the last week or so have cemented an impression in some quarters that the government is preparing to slow down on its free handed expenditures in the name of recovery and allow private initiative to furnish some of the motive power for the forward movement from now on. The reflection has engendered a better feeling in the street generally, but until congress quits seesawing around on the control bill brokers do not expect to be swamped with any deluge of buying orders.

The feature of last week's trading was a persistent demand for preferred stocks of many descriptions. A long list of these issues were carried to new highs on runups amounting in numerous cases to $4 or $5 a share for a single session. Low priced issues also have enjoyed a good play—due in some measure, of course, to lingering apprehension over the margin restriction possibilities of the regulation bill.

Silver Stocks Active.

Silver stocks continue active on a widely held belief that congress is going to do something for the white metal this session, in spite of the outspoken wishes of administration spokesmen to forget the proposal for the present.

The liquor shares remain in high favor, thanks to a general "understanding" that distillery earnings are holding up—along with the price of their wares—and that some attractive dividends are in the offing—unless they get caught at it. Standard industrials seem content to hold their own.

Trade News Favorable.

Trade news continues mildly favorable, but with the "Washington situation" on the slate, items that might ordinarily exert market influence are all but ignored. Brokers say, however, that continuation of recent gradual expansion in business activity, however, in time should be effective as a market lever.

Earnings statements for the March quarter, now being published, show corporations have improved their earnings position, although many are still operating in the red.

Recovery in corporate earning power promises increased dividends, resumption of payments or payment of accumulations on senior issues by a good many companies. Continental Can was among the companies increasing disbursements to shareholders last week.

N. Y. State Life Company Assets $18,248,709,842

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 15.—Total assets of life insurance companies authorized to do business in New York state aggregated $18,248,709,842 on Jan. 1, an increase of $311,057,971 from a year before, according to statements rendered to the state insurance department and summarized in advance of the report, which will be issued this week by Superintendent George S. Van Schaick.

LIBERTY LOAN TACTICS USED BY RUSSIANS IN BOND SALE DRIVE

[Copyright: 1934: By the New York Times.]

MOSCOW, April 15.—The campaign to sell the 3,500,000,000 ruble bond issue to help finance the second year of the second five-year plan opened today in the atmosphere of a wartime liberty loan drive in the United States. The technique being used here is strikingly similar to our own in 1918.

The newspapers all prominently displayed appeals for full subscriptions to the loans as a patriotic duty as well as a profitable investment which would benefit subscribers not only by paying them 10 per cent interest, but by increasing the strength of productivity of the proletarian state.

Bond selling teams will be organized in cities, villages, factories, and farms, and will engage in "socialist competition" in an effort to bring about the speedy succes of the drive. The central committee of the soviet has issued an appeal to workers to subscribe three weeks' wages. A house-to-house canvass also will be made.

Mikhail Kalinin, chairman of the committee, in a telegram to all local authorities, directed that all cultural forces and the press be used to insure the success of the campaign. He closed with the statement:

"The whole campaign is to be conducted without the least concern on a basis of voluntary contributions."

The people who do not subscribe, however, will be socially very uncomfortable. The workers' subscriptions will be deducted automatically from their wages in instalments covering ten months.

U. S. REGULATION ASKED BY MOTOR TRUCK GROUP

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., April 15.—Claiming that outright federal regulation of interstate trucking would be more desirable than the NRA's trucking code, trucking interests announced today the formation of the National Highway Freight association to fight the code and push regulatory laws.

J. L. Keeshin of Chicago is president of the new association. The treasurer is A. S. H. Bender, also of Chicago. The association will be represented in Washington by Jerome Fanciulli.

"We are for federal regulation of interstate commerce by truck" Mr. Keeshin's announcement of the organization states. "Under the trucking code we have all of the disadvantages and none of the advantages of regulation. We must pay code wages and comply with code hours and regulations, but we get no protection against cut-throat competition and chiseling."

Bankers' Association Heads Meet at Hot Springs

Hot Springs, Ark., April 15.—(AP)—Members of the executive council of the American Bankers' association, here for a spring meeting, will begin a series of committee and general meetings tomorrow for consideration of policies the association will be asked to adopt.

MICHIGAN GAS PROFIT FALLS TO $47,790 IN 1933

Gross earnings of the Michigan Gas and Electric company, controled by the Middle West Utilities company, for 1933 fell $64,790, or 5.4 per cent, to $1,132,219, and net income declined to $47,251 from $164,148 in 1932, according to the pamphlet report released yesterday. The decrease in gross largely reflected the effects of the bank moratorium early in the year, W. C. Blanchard, president, asserts in his statement.

While operating expenses were reduced to $549,920 from $552,151 and maintenance to $62,185 from $64,590, provision for depreciation was augmented to $128,900 from $67,990. Surplus balance Dec. 31, 1932, was $108,223, which was increased by last year's net income to $155,474.

Dividends paid during 1933, additional federal income tax provision for 1922-'30, and other charges reduced the surplus balance to $49,029 on Dec. 31, 1933. Current assets Dec. 31, 1933, totaled $464,486 and current liabilities $203,812.

1,000 TO GATHER HERE THURSDAY FOR 'LIFE' PARLEY

More than 1,000 life underwriters will gather Thursday at the Hotel Sherman for the annual sales congress of the Chicago Association of Life Underwriters.

Dr. Roy L. Davis, president of the organization, said the recent campaign in the interest of financial independence indicated great interest in life insurance. This meeting, he said, will serve as a pep meeting for agents, where they can exchange ideas.

Ernest Palmer, Illinois state superintendent of insurance, will welcome the delegates. Others on the program include Dr. William B. Bailey, insurance economist, Frank M. See, W. Scott Smith, Manuel Camps Jr., J. S. Maryman, and R. H. du Flon.

Standard of California 1933 Profit Is $7,560,902

New York, April 15.—[Special.]—The Standard Oil Company of California reported a net profit of $7,560,902 in 1933 after an allowance of $17,443,177 for depreciation, depletion, amortization, and provision for contingencies, including taxes. This is equivalent to 58 cents a share on 13,102,900 no-par capital shares outstanding. In the preceeding year, the company reported a net profit of $14,014,992, or $1.07 a share on the capital stock.

HEAVY INDUSTRIES IN GREAT BRITAIN SHOW STEADY IMPROVEMENT

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 15.—Great Britain's heavy industries are gradually extracting themselves from the slough of depression, it was conclusively indicated in reports just published by the National Federation of Iron and Steel Manufacturers, the Amalgamated Engineering union and the Central Electricity board. Optimism was further supported by tonight's ministry of labor report which described 1933 as the first year since 1929 in which definite improvement in employment has been shown.

Steel production has steadily risen since the autumn of 1932 until last month it attained a total of 829,700 tons—the highest level since October, 1929, a record year for peace time production. At the end of March, 395 furnaces were in blast.

Remarkable progress in the electrification of Great Britain was recorded in the electricity board's report which reveals British output from 1929 to 1933 rose 30 per cent while the world output increased only 5 per cent. In 1927 only about 23 per cent of British premises were electrified; now about 45 per cent are.

The report of the engineering industry was similarly optimistic. More than 104,000 more workers are employed than a year ago and many motoring and engineering plants are running overtime.

International Paper Loss Reduced; Gross Improves

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 15.—Consolidated gross sales of the International Paper company and subsidiaries in 1933 amounted to $79,758,774, an increase of $6,261,711 from the previous year. Net loss after all charges, including depreciation and depletion, totaled $4,430,528. In addition, $1,865,080 was transferred to reserves to apply against an investment in Newsprint Bond and Share company, making a total reduction in surplus of $6,295,608 for the year. There was a deficit of $9,591,253 in 1932. The 1933 report includes $913,937 profit on bonds redeemed, against $642,985 similar profit in 1932. At the end of 1933 current assets amounted to $41,803,374 and current liabilities were $22,845,816.

Steel Activity Rises 3 Points to 51 Per Cent

In response to specifications for April on contracts placed ahead of the effective date of price increases, steel producers, who are envisaging a period of steadily ascending operations, expanded their output last week three points, to 51 per cent of capacity, according to the magazine Steel. Automotive, railroad, and miscellaneous demands continue strongly upward, the journal reports.

Operations here gained 1½ points to 50 per cent of capacity and expanded in Pittsburgh, eastern Pennsylvania, Youngstown, Wheeling, and Cleveland. Output at Birmingham and Buffalo was steady, while it declined at Detroit and in New England.

Analyzing recent events in the steel industry, the magazine says: "By giving ten days notice of price increases and throwing wide open their order books, steelmakers have sacrificed no less than $25,000,000. This is based on finished steel output with the industry operating around 50 per cent, and the difference between Steel's composites of old and new finished steel prices.

"As an offset to this, the industry has built up tonnage by giving consumers the opportunity to cover their requirements three to four months ahead, meantime to make their own adjustments. The industry has not antagonized the government, because finished steel prices even at the new level still are $4.98 a ton below the 1926 average — the President's mark for commodities. And labor benefits through the return to the 1929 standard April 1—three months ahead of the time when steel makers gain, except through increased tonnage."

Contracts for major rail requirements have been placed by most of the western carriers, according to the review. The Great Northern is distributing 20,000 tons of rails, the Pere Marquette has bought 1,600 tons of rails and fastenings, and the New York, New Haven, and Hartford will soon inquire for 25,000 tons of rails and 10,000 of accessories. The New York Central has contracted for 10,500 tons of miscellaneous steel products for this quarter and the Norfolk and Western for 4,500.

The week's awards of structural shapes, at 12,427 tons, were more than twice the total of 6,021 for the preceding week. "Price protections for sixty days on specific jobs have brought out many new projects."

Announce More Price Boosts.

The magazine announced price advances, in addition to those mentioned last week: $7 a ton on stock tin plate, $5 on structural rivets, $3 on sheet piling, $3 on light rails. Some producers raised wire $3 as of today, but one large manufacturer filed an increase of only $2, effective next Thursday.

In Alabama, where a miners' strike is cutting down coal output, byproduct coke has been raised 50 cents a ton.

Taking into account new prices of finished steel now in effect or to go into effect this week, the magazine reports its finished steel composite is $3.80 higher at $54.90, and its iron and steel composite is $2.37 higher at $34.77. The scrap composite is steady at $12.21.

J. A. Edwards, Grain Firm, to Dissolve Its Business

J. A. Edwards & Co., which has been in business for more than 50 years, will dissolve. The firm was originally founded by J. A. Edwards, father of Kenneth P. and Donald Edwards, and has been continued by his sons since his death some years ago. Kenneth Edwards will register his Chicago Board of Trade membership for his personal use. Harry Sternberg has been admitted to general partnership in J. F. Trounstine & Co.

MONEY PARLEY CALLED BY HEAD OF SILVER BLOC

Thomas Pushes His Monetary Plan.

Washington, D. C., April 15.—(AP)—A call to all members of congress to attend a monetary conference April 23 was issued tonight by one of the leaders of the silver bloc in congress, Senator Thomas [Dem., Okla.].

The summons went out a day after President Roosevelt had disclosed he listed the monetary problem as one of those to be taken up before adjournment.

Thomas said the purpose of the new concerted move for additional changes in the nation's money was "not to fight the President, but to get something constructive" in the way of legislation.

Purpose of Meeting.

"We must," he said, "immediately formulate some means whereby the people of this country can become financially solvent.

"That's the purpose of this meeting—to consider all possible ways and means of taking action toward settling the monetary problems of the nation and of the people of the country."

Asked how prominently silver remonetization would figure in the congressional conference, Thomas said it was planned to discuss that first.

In his round table talk yesterday with chairmen of all the senate committees the President discussed monetary subjects, but the character of the legislation considered at the White House meeting was not disclosed. A formal White House statement merely listed the monetary question as one of several on which "definite progress was made" in outlining plans.

Morgenthau at Meetings.

Significance was given the monetary phase of the conference by the fact that Secretary Morgenthau sat through the entire proceedings.

Morgenthau, with knowledge that pressure for silver remonetization legislation was growing steadily, has urged that action by congress be held off until the administration had opportunity for further analysis of the problem.

Two silver bills now are pending. The Dies measure, which would provide for acceptance of silver from foreign countries which buy farm surpluses, has passed the house and gone to the senate. The Fiesinger bill, to provide for the purchase of a billion and a half ounces, or as much as "necessary to restore the 1926 price level," with currency issued against the silver so acquired, has been reported out of a house committee.

SEASONAL TREND IS GOOD, MARKET TENANTS REPORT

A general improvement in the amount of business for this season of year was reported by tenants of the Merchandise Mart at the close of the midseason market yesterday, T. J. Reed, general manager, announced.

"A substantial part of this business came in the form of mail orders in response to special mailings sent out by groups of competitive tenants calling attention to the market event," Mr. Reed said.

"No attempt is made to record the number of buyers attending these midseason markets as is the case for the regular market events. However, many housefurnishing and gift lines and exhibitors of women's and children's wash apparel reported a decided improvement in the buyer trafic in the building."

ADVERSE TRADE FACTORS OFFSET BY RETAIL GAINS

Many Spring Needs Remain to Be Covered.

New York, April 15.—(AP)—Substantial declines in the last week's figures for freight car loadings and electric power production were counterbalanced by further gains in steel and automobile production and continued high levels of retail distribution.

The sharp drops in the movement of freight was accounted for by special factors in the coal industry, and the recession in electric power output was evidently due in part, at least, to much warmer weather over most of the country during the period covered by the weekly statistics. In railway freight there was actually a slight increase in the movement of merchandise.

The more glowing accounts of business recovery still appear in the weekly trade surveys of Dun & Bradstreet. This week the agency said: "So many spring needs still are to be covered that the majority of merchants see no indication of the peak level for the season being reached until well into May." The tapering of retail sales volume expected after Easter has not occurred and reports to Dun & Bradstreet said Saturday, April 7, was the best shopping day in some centers in three years.

Reflects Higher Prices.

The increase in dollar volume is, of course, to a considerable extent a reflection of higher prices. But nevertheless demand is stirring for items almost completely neglected for a long time. For instance, sales of pianos were placed at 120 to 200 per cent over a year ago.

Government spending is still being watched closely for indications as to the extent business is being sustained by emergency expenditures. Daily average expenditures were curtailed in March, but were expanded in the early part of April, mainly in CWA direct relief and in emergency relief administration disbursements. Furthermore, the PWA is now expected to play a larger part in the business recovery, for with spring weather the dirt is beginning to fly in many projects for which funds were allotted some time ago.

Gain in Construction.

With President Roosevelt's return from his fishing trip, early developments are anticipated as a result of the national emergency council's study of means to stimulate home building and renovation. Construction contracts, as reported by F. W. Dodge corporation, for March, were about three times the almost negligible volume of that month a year ago. On a percentage basis there was a sharp increase in even privately financed projects and in home building, but the aggregate was still but a small fraction of what was considered normal in the post war decade.

Labor clouds still hover about the motor industry, but an impasse which brought a tieup in the Hudson plant was quickly broken. Cram estimated last week's production at 91,224 units, up 1,502 from the preceding week and about double the total for the same week of last year. "Recent price increases," said Cram, "have had some effect in retarding the advance of retail sales of new passenger cars, although the general trade opinion was that no noticeable slowing up would result from the action."

Freight Loadings Drop.

The movement of railway freight as reported for the week ended April 7 declined 50,556 cars from the preceding week to 557,887 cars, but a drop in coal of 49,618 cars and a slightly lessened movement of farm produce accounted for this showing.

Electric output dropped to 1,616,945,000 kilowatt hours, which was 15.5 per cent over 1933, but a substantial recession from the 1,665,650,000 of the preceding week, and the smallest total since January. In fact, it was the largest percentage drop from the preceding week experienced in years. This was difficult to account for, save in the abrupt appearance of warm weather over much of the country.

Dutch Increase Holdings of Frisco Railway Shares

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 15.—Dutch holdings of St. Louis-San Francisco railway stock increased last year, according to the list of stockholders as of September 3. Holdings in Amsterdam increased from 10,943 to 13,183 common and from 4,294 to 6,054 preferred. Two years ago there were 5,863 common and 3,424 preferred shares in the name of the Amsterdam trustees. Holdings by the Rock Island, the Southern Pacific and Chairman E. N. Brown were unchanged.

SECURITY ACT LISTINGS DROP, REPORT SHOWS

Over Half Fall Within Financial Group.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 15. — The federal trade commission disclosed today that ninety-two effective registration statements were filed with the commission for the first quarter of this year under the provisions of the securities act of 1933. The value of the proposed issues was $164,922,002. Investment and financial listings account for more than a half the total in both quarters.

For the last quarter of 1933 the effective registrations represented 132 companies and the total was $177,510,593. Reorganization securities are not included in these totals.

Since July 7, 1933, the date the first registration statements were filed, the number of statements filed with the commission is 801, the offerings involved totaling $927,588,958.

A comparison by the type of security of the gross registrations shows that for the first quarter of 1934 common stock represented 74,600,598 shares, the estimated gross receipts of the shares being $124,965,428, compared with 51,441,201 common shares, with estimated gross proceeds of $135,623,728 registered in the last three months of 1933.

Preferred Stock.

For the first three months of this year the preferred stock represented 2,479,319 shares at $18,967,774, as compared with 4,300,506 shares in the last quarter of 1933 at $14,755,340.

For the 1934 period the remainder of the total, amounting to $20,988,800, includes certificates of participation and beneficial interests and warants amounting to $5,038,800, mortgages and mortgage bonds, $250,000; debenture bonds, $15,000,000, and short term notes, $700,000. In the final period of 1933 the certificates of certification and beneficial interests and warants accounted for $9,290,925; mortgages and mortgage bonds, $10,366,700, and debenture bonds, $7,274,300.

"The distribution of the amounts of various types of securities," the commission explains, "does not show a very great difference for the two quarters. In both, common stock accounts for about three-quarters of the total.

The total gross proceeds of securities registered for the account of the issuer for the first quarter this year exceeded the total net proceeds by $14,432,545, while in the last quarter of 1933 the gross excess was $24,011,519.

Decline in Difference.

"This shows," says the commission, "a sharp decline in the difference between the gross and net proceeds figure from the last quarter of 1933 to the first quarter of 1934. This figure fell from nearly 14 per cent to less than 9 per cent of the gross proceeds. Interest attacks to this figure chiefly because it is composed primarily of the costs of selling and distributing the securities, the gross proceeds representing the selling price of the securities offered and the net proceeds what is reported by the companies as their realization from sales.

"The financial and investment company group is outstanding in both quarters, accounting for between 55 and 60 per cent of the total. Manufacturing is second in the last quarter of 1933, with just short of 30 per cent of the total. In the first quarter of 1934, however, this fell off to less than 15 per cent of the total. Most of the manufacturing total in the last quarter of 1933 was represented by the brewing, distilling, and spirituous liquor industry. This group in the first quarter of this year fell off to less than half the total of the last quarter of 1933."

LETTERS

We'll Try Our Best.

Chicago, April 8.—May I commend you for the statistical table showing motor car registrations in Cook county for March and published in THE TRIBUNE a few days ago? I hope you will make this a permanent institution since there is far too little statistical matter published in local papers. Business statistics are to the intelligent reader of thousandfold greater value than rosy comments on the general situation.

WALTER S. ANDERSON,

Take Second Place, Mr. Nichols.

Libertyville, Ill., April 9.—We have observed numerous comments in your paper about the liquid condition of the First National Bank of Englewood, the most recent calling attention to a liquidity of 100½ per cent. We admire Mr. Nichol's courage and foresight which have brought this bank through the depression in such splendid style. We need more bankers like him.

Without wishing to detract from his institution's excellent record, because its accomplishments for exceed our ability, we submit a statement as of the close of business April 7, showing a liquidity of more than [illegible] per cent. The management would welcome an opportunity to expand its local loans at the expense of liquidity provided the right kind of loans become available.

W. C. HUBBELL,
Cashier First Lake County National Bank.

Too Many "Experts."

Chicago, April 7.—I make no claims of being a Tugwell, a Wallace or a Babson, but after reading a story in today's TRIBUNE dated Rome, Italy, which states the world wheat "experts" advocate a reduction in wheat surplus by feeding wheat to hogs, I feel less inclined to criticize our American brain trusters.

Agricultural adjustment administration officials boast of raising the price of corn to 50 cents or more and wheat to nearly 90 cents, but if any one can show me how to make a profit out of wheat or corn by feeding it to hogs and then sell hogs on the basis of 4 cents a pound, Chicago, he is a wizard. If farmers feed wheat to hogs what will happen to the corn market? When hogs sold at $4, Chicago, Montreal quoted $9.85.

ASSAILS RADICAL LEGISLATION NOW BEFORE CONGRESS

Jewel Tea Head Warns of Three Dangers.

Whether or not a revolution is being deliberately planned and even though it develops that Mr. Roosevelt has not been "selected the Kerensky of this revolution," by the conscious action of any considerable portion of the group of zealous idealists, it remains a fact that revolutionary legislation is seriously proposed in congress and even a bloodless revolution can be little less disastrous than one marked by guerrilla warfare and public executions, President M. H. Karker of the Jewel Tea company said yesterday in a special message to stockholders. He denounced three pending measures—the Fletcher-Rayburn stock control bill, the Wagner labor disputes act, and the Connery thirty hour week law.

"Present indications are that congress will remain in session for two more months," Mr. Karkar's statement said. "It already has under consideration legislation of vital import to every citizen and particularly to holders of securities, and undoubtedly still more will be introduced. None of this legislation is aimed particularly at your company, but it will be hurt, none the less, because all other business is affected by the same laws and by the same apparent shift from recovery to reform."

Mr. Karker says the temper of congress and the susceptibility of its members to the influence of self-seeking lobbies have been fully demonstrated by passage of the independent offices appropriation act over the veto of the President, "an act increasing annual expenditures another 228 millions and reinstating preferential pay and benefits to a minority whose claim to favored treatment is not clear."

Discussing the stock bill, he says it would unnecessarily and materially increase costs of doing business, shorten or destroy the market for securities, add to the already acute shortage of capital funds, increase the difficulty of getting intelligent and honorable men to serve as directors or officers, and open the lists of corporate stockholders to the importunities and solicitations of shady individuals.

RAILROAD CREDIT GROUP TO REPAY $5,166,500 TO ROADS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

New York, April 15.—The Railroad Credit corporation will repay on April 30 approximately $5,166,500 to participating carriers, of which $2,335,000 will be in cash to non-borrowing carriers and $2,831,500 will be in credits on obligations of borrowing carriers, according to an announcement by E. G Buckland, president. Mr. Buckland says that this distribution has been made possible by the fact that many railroads have anticipated their maturities.

This repayment amounts to 7 per cent of the emergency freight charge contributed to the pool and will be in lieu of the 1 per cent distribution announced on March 15. It will bring the total distribution by the credit body to $14,038,600, or 19 per cent of the net contributions, which aggregated $73,887,600.

Southern Railway Equipment Trust

4½% Certificates, Series "CC"

Issued under the Philadelphia Plan

The Pennsylvania Company for Insurances on Lives and Granting Annuities, Philadelphia, Trustee

Dated December 5, 1929. Original issue $3,690,000, maturing $123,000 semi-annually from June 5, 1930 to December 5, 1944, both inclusive.

Guaranteed principal and dividends by the Southern Railway Company by endorsement on each Certificate

This issue of Series "CC" Certificates, dated December 5, 1929, is secured by deposit with The Pennsylvania Company for Insurances on Lives and Granting Annuities, Philadelphia, Trustee, of title to the following standard railroad equipment, which was purchased new at the time of the dating of the Trust:

The original cost of this equipment was $4,640,000, towards which the Southern Railway made an initial cash payment of $950,000, and there has since matured in semi-annual installments a total of $984,000 par value, giving a present cash equity in this Trust of approximately 42%. The outstanding Certificates, amounting to $2,706,000, represent slightly more than 58% of the original cost of the equipment.

Certificates maturing from June 5, 1934 through December 5, 1936 having been placed privately we offer the balance of this issue maturing $123,000 semi-annually from June 5, 1937 through December 5, 1944

At Prices Yielding 3.80% to 4.20%
(according to maturity)

Delivery in the form of temporary certificates exchangeable in due course for definitive certificates will be made on Friday, April 20, 1934.

MEN.

PERMANENT, IMMEDIATE POSITIONS ARE AVAILABLE TO MEN WHO ARE CAPABLE OF LEARNING HOW TO SUCCESSFULLY REPRESENT THIS COMPANY. AN EXECUTIVE OF OUR ORGANIZATION WILL BE AVAILABLE MONDAY TO INTERVIEW REPUTABLE, INDUSTRIOUS MEN FOR PERMANENT POSITIONS. SUCH MEN SHOULD APPLY IN PERSON AT ONCE.

Men selected will have to take the time to learn and acquire skill and during this time will have to be satisfied to get along on nominal earnings of $145 to $200 per month if necessary. If you are adapted to this work, if you have the disposition to study and strive to acquire skill in what you do, and if you have a good reputation and the will to succeed, we will employ you and back you in work that is paying qualified men from $30 per week up.

As soon as the right kind of experience is learned and conscientiously applied, earnings increase. For example, H. Wall, who was in business for himself for years, made $95.50 yesterday and for the past three days made $161. R. Bowman, who had a milk route up to a few weeks ago, already has acquired the necessary knowledge and skill in our business so that he was able to make $45 in a single day and in the past three days has earned $92. G. Bigalke, who entered this work without any business experience of any kind, has reached the point where he is capable of earning $40 in a single day. T. N. Lind, a former tool and die maker who has been in our organization over five years, has become so proficient tat he is capable of making $45 and more in a single day, and indeed in the past three days [this advertisement is written on Thursday, and the three days quoted herein mean last Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday], he earned $117.50. For months his earnings have averaged better than $550 a month. A man who came into this business without any knowledge of this work, J. Leaverton, has progressed to such a degree that in these three days his earnings have totaled $61.

As time goes on and a man acquires the necessary knowledge and learns how to apply this knowledge properly, our unusual electrical unit, which we merchandise, is a fast selling commodity—when explained as taught brings definite results. C. Glade, who was formerly a salesman has so adapted himself to this business that in these past three days he earned $118. In fact, yesterday, many men, too numerous to specify, made a splendid nicome.

Some of these incomes are more than equivalent to a full week's earnings in the former trades and occupations that these men were working in prior to becoming associated with this organization. H. Herschend, for years a civil engineer, in these past three working days has earned $115. Yet he was totally unacquainted with this class of work when he joined this company not quite two years ago. He has had many days in which he has earned from $50 to over $70. W. Wilson, who was a coal mine executive for many years, just made 46 in a single day, and he has earned $139 the past three days.

These cash earnings in commissions are quoted in order to interest men who are genuinely looking for an opportunity to connect themselves with a reputable company, which offers a consistently increasing opportunity to earn money. This is steady work, and we require steady men. If you really would appreciate the opportunity this position offers, call for a personal interview at 9 S. Kedzie-av., room 329, Monday April 16.

LOOKING FOR A STEADY, PROFITABLE POSITION?

In the past five days I have made $115.00. This is far above the pay I received in my profession that cost me years of time and thousands of dollars. To help you understand something of the requirements of this business, I can say truthfully that all I brought into it was character and willingness to work—anxiety, I may call it, for permanency. I cannot say that I liked the work immensely until I learned it. I was willing to learn something that would pay me a reasonable comm. income to start with, with hopes of larger earnings later. I did not make the greater income with hopes, however, but with persistent, intelligent work, and on that basis invite you to talk it over.

This is a place for a man past his cub stage and before he enters the slow-step stage. It is a man's job and certainly not a snap, but by getting men to do this job it has become the world's leading electric unit business in its field. I invite you to call at 2 p. m. promptly, Monday, April 16—Room 216 at 1046 Wilson-av., provided you live on the north and northwest sides. And come like a man looking for a permanent place, calling for no investment, and offering genuine success in exchange for honest, regular, worth-while work!

WE HAVE OPENINGS

At DeLEE New Hollywood Make-up Course

Direct from Hollywood's leading movie studios, DeLEE has imported Monsieur Henri Gorden, famous makeup artist, to teach DeLEE students the new art of personality makeup. His ability at makeup has helped to success such stars as Joan Crawford, Jean Harlow, Ginger Rogers, etc. He can help YOU to beauty culture success by teaching you modern makeup technique.

More for Your Money

Nothing is "too good" for DeLEE students. DeLEE offers—at low tuition fees—the finest instructors, finest equipment, and most beautiful quarters. A veteran, experienced teaching staff, headed by Madame Louise, trains you to become a genuine beauty expert, qualified to hold a good paying position in a quality shop.

Every girl who was graduated in the DeLEE winter class has been placed in a good paying position. That is definite PROOF that quality shops prefer DeLEE graduates. Come in and talk with Miss Stevens, the DeLEE Dean. Learn how you, too, can qualify for a good paying position. The visit won't obligate you in any way.

BEFORE BORROWING Get the Facts About HOUSEHOLD'S REDUCED RATE ON $300 LOANS

We believe we do the largest business in the Chicago area because:

1. We offer good service at reasonable cost.
2. We only make loans that are helpful to the customer.
3. We do not "high pressure" people into borrowing.
4. If wanted, we give free, authentic information on managing people's incomes.
5. If desired we give free, authentic information on buying economically.

HOW LOANS ARE MADE.

Household makes loans only to families, that is to husband and wife on their signatures. They can be repaid in monthly installments over 20 months, or sooner. Loans are made on the basis of the information furnished by husband and wife. We do not question your employer, your neighbors, your relatives, or the people with whom you do business. All of our offices are equipped so that your business can be handled in a private consultation room.

COST OF HOUSEHOLD LOANS.

Last July we reduced the cost of all loans of over $100 below the maximum permitted under the Small Loan Law. Thousands of families have since borrowed from Household at our reduced rate at a substantial saving to them.

Household invites earnest families to investigate the Household Loan Plan.

Each Month Thousands TAKE ADVANTAGE OF LOCAL'S SERVICE
It Will Satisfy You
Phone Your Request and immediately thereafter call at the office and obtain the money.

Service
Local was organized to make loans —in small or large amounts—to serve the needs of wage earners and salaried men and women. It is our aim to render this service quickly to every one who requests a loan. At all of our branches, transactions are conducted in private offices by courteous employés.

Methods
We make loans on salary, ON YOUR SIGNATURE ONLY, without endorsers. Also on FURNITURE, AUTOS, or other PERSONAL PROPERTY. All transactions are confidential. Loans granted without notice to employer, friends or relatives.

Rates
Local's rates on large furniture loans are less than the legal rate. All small loans at the regular legal rate. Charges are computed monthly on the unpaid balance.

Amounts—Terms
You can borrow any amount from $25 to $300; small loans receive the same courteous attention as larger loans. You make your own terms, 10 to 20 months, more or less. Regardless of the agreement you have the privilege to repay any day, week or month to reduce the cost.
